What Really Happened in Kimball — How My Animal Protectors Gave Their Lives to Shield Me from a Coordinated Multidimensional Attack 🐾👁️🌟

I want to share something deeply personal — and deeply real. This isn't just my story. It's a wake-up call to those who may be experiencing similar things without a framework to understand them.

In June 2025, I endured a coordinated, high-level ambush near North Platte, Nebraska, and was forcibly transported to Kimball, Nebraska, where the real horror unfolded.

This was not symbolic or imagined — it was a multidimensional attack: physical, spiritual, energetic, and interdimensional.

I still bear bruises on my left leg from what occurred. But the visible marks are only a small part of the story.

This was a targeted operation — orchestrated by agents of the dark, including individuals linked to a former employer and family members who had long since aligned with those forces.

When they failed to contain me in Reston, Virginia, they attempted to intercept me mid-mission — as I followed Source's call westward.

But I wasn't alone.

Felix and Chloe, my two beloved animal companions, were with me. They were more than pets. They were assigned soul guardians from Source — protectors who incarnated beside me with full awareness of their mission.

And in Kimball... they gave their lives to save mine.

🐾 What Felix & Chloe Did for Me in Kimball

◆ Felix absorbed the brunt of the energetic assault — particularly frequencies aimed at my lower spine, sacrum, and root chakra. These attacks were designed to collapse me — physically, energetically, and spiritually. He took them into his own body, holding that burden to give me the strength and space to survive.

◆ Chloe established a protective energetic grid around us. She used her heightened interdimensional awareness to deflect astral interference and scalar frequency weapons. Nothing got through without hitting her shield first.

◆ Together, they maintained a Source-aligned frequency field around our bodies, and our vehicle. They held this shield unwaveringly, even while under direct attack themselves — giving me time to reclaim my field and re-stabilize my connection to Source.

◆ Chloe defended my crown during a direct attempt to sever my cord to Higher Self — physically anchoring herself near my head in the night, refusing to move. Her act of defiance preserved my multidimensional alignment when I was most vulnerable.

◆ A couple nights before the ambush, Felix crossed over — voluntarily, through the veil. His physical absence shattered me... until just hours later, when he returned.

He walked back into the room and said, clearly:
“I came back because you still need me.”

That act changed everything.

Chloe chose to stay as well, despite what it would cost her.

They both knew what was coming. And they gave everything so I could make it through.

 This Was Not Metaphor. This Was War.

This was an attack across dimensions — timed and executed with chilling precision.

It involved physical apprehension, frequency targeting, psychic interference, and interdimensional manipulation.

And it was real.

Many people dismiss their animals as companions only. But if you are a gridkeeper, mission-holder, or light-bearer, your “pet” may be something far more: A cosmic ally assigned by Source to keep you alive — to shield your field, and in some cases, give their lives so your mission continues.

 Eternal Gratitude to Felix & Chloe

Felix and Chloe are not gone. They’ve simply returned to the realms where their full form and power reside. They continue to guide me from beyond the veil — soul-bonded and ever-present.

But what they did in Kimball was a final, conscious, sacred act of love. They stood between me and destruction — and bore the cost with grace, courage, and unwavering loyalty.

♥ Their protection allowed me to continue.

♥ Their frequency held me when I couldn’t hold myself.

♥ Their lives were offered — so that mine could go on.

I carry them with me in every step of this mission — in every realm, in every lifetime.

If you are on a mission path... never underestimate your animal protectors. They may be the reason you're still breathing.
