In June 2025, I experienced a profound spiritual and physical ambush along I-80W in Nebraska. This life-altering event resulted in the complete dismantling of my previous structure—home, vehicle, income, belongings—and the loss of my beloved feline soul companions, Felix and Chloe.

This moment of collapse became the catalyst for an even greater rebirth.

Though my world was stripped away, the Blueprint remains fully alive.

I stand here — committed, present, and devoted to the next sacred phase of the mission.

The Path Forward: Durango & Keystone

I have been guided to Durango, Colorado, a sanctuary for deep restoration, nervous system healing, and the embodiment of Blueprint HOPE Version 2.0.

This new phase will initiate:

- The creation of a global digital platform for conscious creators and light-aligned builders
- A complete rebuild of Blueprint HOPE on BlueprintHOPE.com as an energetic home for the mission
- Calling in aligned collaborators for the unfolding of The Keystone Portal
- Preparations for relocating to Keystone, Colorado to establish our first physical Sanctuary

This work is already underway. Your support helps it grow stronger.

Why Support Is Essential Now

To bring this phase to life, I am calling in support for:

- A laptop to anchor and build the updated digital platform
- Travel and housing support to relocate and stabilize in Durango
- Communication and broadcast tools to share transmissions and connect with the community
- Daily needs to allow full focus on mission-building, healing, and service

These are sacred instruments of creation — the tools required to steward this vision into form.

How You Can Support

If you feel resonance with this mission — if your soul recognizes the blueprint — you are warmly invited to support in any way that aligns with your heart.

Contribute Financially
