TQ Interiors Statement: COVID-19 (Coronavirus)

As you will be aware, Health and Safety is of paramount importance to TQ Interiors and its operations. Amid the developing COVID-19 pandemic, TQ Interiors would like to inform its clients and suppliers that we are actively following the official Government, National Health Service and World Health Organisation advice to ensure the upmost safety of our staff and continuity of our services. We have prepared our staff for a number of unexpected events such as this one and are prepared to continue running our business ensuring the continuity of our operations with minimal disruption.

Presently, we have no reported or suspected cases of COVID-19 and are continuing to take precaution and an increased health and safety approach as a whole, particularly when interacting with clients, suppliers and other members of staff.

We will continue to monitor and adapt to the official health advice and communicate in a transparent manner with our clients and suppliers to ensure minimal impact to our services.
