Note: We have so much to be thankful for every single day, God loves us so much that though we were still sinners, God demonstrates His love by sending Christ to die for us. Rom 5:8

Praise God for another blessed month that He is giving us, everyday should be a day for us to rejoice for God’s grace and mercy towards us is so rich that it will enrich the believers and those who are God fearing followers. God’s word is not to be doubted for it will never return back to Him voided. We are believers and followers of Jesus Christ who are saved and restored by His grace and mercy and that is something to always be celebrated. We thank God for including us in His plan to restore the world, he has made us a light into this dark world. Let us continue to press forward with our heads up continuing to shine the light and be the voice of God in the world today. God has chosen us in such a time as this because he has predestined us to be His children and partners on earth. Be thankful and always be strong in the Lord and the power of His might. Know that God is working in us but we have to work it out whatever He is working in us. Have a blessed month of November.
