

Now in its 42nd year, GreenThumb's GrowTogether conference has grown into a global main event, drawing 400+ community garden leaders to New York City from around the world to unite, uplift, and amplify the community garden movement.

In 2025, The Urban Garden Project became a co-presenter, adding capacity-building content. GrowTogether is held at the CUNY Graduate Center.

The UGP has been an invaluable national peer-learning space — members generously share advice on everything from conflict resolution to funding models for public-private partnerships.

Anna Mines
City & County of Honolulu

CONTACT

Linda Appel Lipsius

Founder & Executive Director

linda@theurbangardenproject.world

720.250.7003

www.theurbangardenproject.world • EIN: 41-3835092

GrowTogether

2027 GLOBAL CONFERENCE

New York City | April 30-May 2, 2027

YOUR SPONSORSHIP FUNDS:

Keynote Stipend

Bring a nationally recognized voice in urban agriculture to open the conference

$25,000

Speaker Stipends

Honorariums for the workshop leaders and panelists who shape each track

$15,000

Travel Scholarships

Get grassroots gardeners from across the country to New York City

$15,000

UGP Certification Bootcamp

A 1-day, off-site pre-conference training to certify new community garden leaders

$15,000

Marketing Expenses

Get the word out and fill the room with the gardeners who need this most

$10,000

Event Production

The staging, AV, and logistics that keep the conference running smoothly

$10,000

Networking Reception

An evening for gardeners, funders, and partners to connect face-to-face

$10,000

TOTAL CONFERENCE SPONSORSHIP

$100,000