MY JOY SPEAKS
REMOVING BARRIERS
TRANSFORMING LIVES

“ THE MISSION of My Joy Speaks is to transform the leadership culture of businesses, churches, and family-service organizations by teaching the power of self-discipline and accountability in developing trusted relationships.

I BELIEVE joy is the wellspring of a person's energy for achieving life's best. My desire for the people I teach and motivate is that they reach their greatest potential by finding their source of joy to shape dreams, create goals, and celebrate achievements. ”

Mecca R. Johnson, CPLP
speaker/trainer/coach/consultant

Mecca Johnson's unique approach to building leadership skills begins with a strong focus on informing and empowering an individual's capability to develop the priorities and processes necessary to secure Mecca's identified five Key Guardians of Life.

Her 30 years of experience in the field of early childhood education, the majority of which were in a senior leadership position with a franchising company, have provided her an experienced and innovative perspective on leadership. She confirms that the success of any endeavor depends on a strong culture of leadership dependent on self-discipline and accountability in her five Key Guardians of Life.

Your experience with Mecca Johnson will include these elements:

- Clear objectives to understand the session's direction and value
- Audience engagement as a catalyst to embrace change
- Humor, storytelling, and activities to apply adult learning principles
- Achievable goals and process to document success
- A challenge to follow up and follow through

The desired result will feature these successes:

- Clarity of individual purpose
- Courage to engage in the success of self and others
- Commitment to establishing healthy priorities — personally and professionally
- Confidence in the ability to lead
- Joy in achievement, providing the energy for continued success

Do you need a passionate offering for a practical, step-by-step approach to transform your leadership culture? Contact Mecca Johnson for more information on the five Key Guardians of Life that leaders must incorporate for greatest success. You will also discover other critical areas in which Mecca's qualification to speak, train, and coach will boost the bottom-line success of any organization.

What others who have experienced Mecca's passion have to say:

- “ Funny, uplifting, inspiring, and effective professional who teaches with an inviting spirit and leaves her heart print on those who learn from her. ”
— Arlena McLaughlin, Owner, Aldon Bridge School Corporation, Houston, Texas
- “ When I first heard Mecca present at an educational training workshop, I was struck by how quickly she captured the imagination of her audience. Her easy and engaging delivery at once drew us in, allowing us from the very start to reflect deeply on her subject. It is not often both meaningful content and charismatic delivery combine in seminars. Mecca's gifts of authentic connection, passion, and thought-provoking insight have molded her into the perfect model for teaching and inspiring others. ”
— Dan Salter, Managing Editor, SalterEditing, Greenville, South Carolina
- “ Mecca's joy glistens in her eyes, sings through her voice, and makes it possible for everyone who meets her to feel her heart. ”
— Valerie Hall, Education Consultant and audience participant, Indianapolis, Indiana
- “ I enjoy Mecca's practical, hands-on approach to presenting. I had the pleasure of co-presenting with her, and she kept the audience engaged with humor, substantive content, audience participation, and storytelling. ”
— Susan Blatney, Consultant, Marketing and Fund Raising, Boerne, Texas
