Madison Bead Society

Statement of Purpose

The objectives of this society shall be to provide a forum for the enjoyment and study of beads and related ornaments and to disseminate the knowledge acquired through this research.

Overview

The Madison Bead Society (MBS) is a diverse group of bead enthusiasts who have come together to share their love of beads.

Members' interests represent a broad range of bead-related topics and subjects ranging from the historical and cultural study of beads to the design and creation of beads, and from beadwork and related ornaments to simply wearing and collecting the work of bead artisans and craftspeople.

The Society welcomes all levels of interest and experience. We seek to provide a forum of ideas on bead-related topics for its members and the general public.

The Society facilitates programs, sales, and workshops as well as hosting guest speakers and presentations. Your input is welcome!

Meetings and Program Year

MBS meets monthly, except December and January, on the fourth Tuesday of the month. Meeting locations are announced on the website and the monthly letter. Meetings begin at 6:30 p.m. and are preceded by a 30 min. board meeting. Meetings are held on the east and west side of Madison and, occasionally, at Dane County bead stores. Interested persons are invited to attend a meeting and join the society.

Membership Benefits

Meet fellow beaders, learn or try a new technique, free or reduced price workshops, and opportunities to display or sell your work. Several area bead stores offer a discount to MBS members. Please present your membership card before checking out.

Monthly Letter

A monthly President's letter is posted to the website during the program year with information on upcoming meetings, local/regional bead-related events, and other articles of interest. Members are emailed when a new letter is posted. Paper copy is mailed upon request.
