

Stand With Those Who Serve. Join the East Detroit Officers Benevolent Association.

Neighbors and Friends,

When a police officer is injured, the news makes headlines for a day. But when the spotlight fades, the family is still left with daily struggles: meals, bills, and children who still need care. That is where the East Detroit Officers Benevolent Association (EDOBA) steps in.

We are a community-driven association built to support the men and women who serve Eastpointe and to stand by their families when life takes an unexpected turn. This isn't about politics or one-time charity - it's about solidarity, accountability, and a promise that no one in uniform, or their family, will be left alone in their time of need.
