Now Hiring: CAPP Health Educator

Comprehensive Adolescent Pregnancy Prevention Program

Location	Orange, Ulster, and Sullivan Counties, New York
Position Type	Part-Time, Exempt
Program	Comprehensive Adolescent Pregnancy Prevention (CAPP) Program

Inspire Youth. Build Healthy Communities. Make an Impact.

Maternal Infant Services Network (MISN) is seeking a passionate, energetic, and dedicated Health Educator to join our Comprehensive Adolescent Pregnancy Prevention (CAPP) Program.

This position provides an exciting opportunity to work directly with youth, schools, community organizations, and families to deliver evidence-based health education, promote positive youth development, and support healthy decision-making among adolescents throughout the Mid-Hudson Valley. The Health Educator plays a key role in helping young people develop the knowledge, skills, and confidence needed to achieve positive health outcomes.

What You'll Do

- Deliver evidence-based health education curricula to youth in schools, community settings, and youth-serving organizations.
- Facilitate engaging discussions on adolescent health, healthy relationships, communication skills, and decision-making.
- Conduct community outreach and educational presentations for youth, parents, and community partners.
- Support youth leadership development and positive youth development activities.
- Provide referrals and resources for reproductive health, family planning, healthcare, behavioral health, and other essential support services.
- Assist with podcasts, awareness campaigns, social media initiatives, and special events.
- Collect participant data, evaluation surveys, and program outcomes to support grant reporting requirements.
- Build and maintain relationships with schools, healthcare providers, and community organizations throughout Orange, Ulster, and Sullivan Counties.

Qualifications

Required

- Bachelor's Degree in Health Education, Public Health, Community Health, Human Services, Social Work, Education, Psychology, or a related field.
- Experience working with youth and adolescents.
- Excellent communication, presentation, and facilitation skills.
- Strong organizational and time-management abilities.
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office applications.

- Valid driver's license and reliable transportation.

Preferred

- Bilingual English/Spanish.
- Experience delivering evidence-based youth programming.
- Experience in schools, healthcare, public health, or community-based settings.
- Knowledge of adolescent development, reproductive health, and positive youth development principles.
- Experience conducting community outreach and public education activities.

Why Join MISN?

For more than 30 years, MISN has worked to improve the health and well-being of individuals, youth, and families throughout the Hudson Valley. Our team is committed to creating meaningful community impact through education, advocacy, and access to services.

As a CAPP Health Educator, you will make a direct impact on the lives of young people, work with a passionate and mission-driven team, benefit from professional development opportunities, and help strengthen communities through education, prevention, and youth empowerment.
