Training on your own

Training Title	Link for Training	Summary of Training
Child and Family Well-being System: Economic & Concrete Supports as a Core Component	https://communityactionpartnership.com/webinar/child-and-family-well-being-system-economic-concrete-supports-as-a-core-component/	This webinar, presented by Chapin Hall at the University of Chicago, shares the growing body of evidence on the relationship between increased access to economic and concrete supports and reduced risk of family child welfare involvement.
Fatherhood Engagement: Strategies that Work	https://friendsnrc.org/resources/june-2021-cbc-ap-plc-fatherhood-engagement-strategies-that-work/	Hear from the Rhode Island Fatherhood Initiative (RIFI), a project of the Parent Support Network of Rhode Island (PSNRI), and how they are directly engaging fathers with a weekly support group while also aligning state agencies and organizations to promote inclusion and systemic equality for dads.
Asking for Help is a Sign of Strength	https://friendsnrc.org/resources/digital-dialogue-asking-for-help-is-a-sign-of-strength-changing-social-norms-about-help-seeking/	One critical issue is how social norms around seeking help can promote or stand in the way of families getting the timely support they need to prevent involvement with the child welfare system. Learn more about how to center help-seeking as a prevention strategy.
Race Equity within our Prevention Work	https://cblcc.acf.hhs.gov/topic-areas/prevention-planning/race-equity-within-our-prevention-work/?utm_source=sendgrid.com&amp;utm_medium=email&amp;utm_campaign=website	Hear Children's Bureau Associate Commissioner Aysha Schomburg's vision for the Children's Bureau's child maltreatment prevention agenda. Practitioners at the national, state, and local levels discuss how we can concretely bring a race equity lens to our prevention work.

Improving Our Response to Families Experiencing Domestic Violence	https://cblcc.acf.hhs.gov/topic-areas/trauma-and-healing/improving-our-response-to-families-experiencing-domestic-violence/	This Digital Dialogue focuses on understanding the challenges child welfare systems face in effectively responding to families experiencing domestic violence.
