

Table of Contents

Introduction	1
A Note to the Reader	5
1 A Generation Is Born	7
America's New Beginning	10
Defining a Generation	12
The Psychology of 9/11	16
Confronting Terror	22
Ground Zero	31
Notes	35
2 What Happened?	41
The Commission	44
The Day	46
A New Age of Terror	53
Hunting bin Laden	59
A New President	63
Notes	66
3 Why?	70
Bush's Folly	71
History Lessons for a Generational Challenge	73
A Question of Policy	77
America in the Middle East	79
Pandora's Box	83
The Bearded Cleric of Terror	88
Notes	98
4 America Reacts	101

Pride, Patriotism, and Partners 105
The Threat of Another Attack 109
Getting Even. Getting Justice 115
Afghanistan 120
Notes 126

5 “Let’s Do Iraq” 130

Why the 9/11 Generation Needs to Understand Foreign Policy 132
The Post-Cold War World 135
The Bush Doctrine 139
Hot for Iraq 144
The Case Against Iraq 150
Notes 157

6 Losing Iraq 161

Toppling Saddam 162
The Search for WMD? 167
Missing WMD? Who Cares! 174
The Pottery Barn Rule 175
Notes 186

7 Our Soldiers and Patriotism 191

The Impact of War 194
Patriotism and the Narrative of War 197
Making Heroes of Soldiers 207
Neither Heroic Nor Legal 213
Failing in Iraq 218
Postscript—Erasing Vietnam 220
Notes 222

8 9/11 and the World 227

The World 9/11 Generation 229
*Allies and Old Foes Embrace
America* 232
Great Britain 234
Western Europe 236
Spanish-Speaking Nations 237
Russia and China 239
The Muslim World 243
Comparing 9/11 Generations 251
Notes 256

Epilogue 260

Index 270