AP govt delays pension payment prioritising welfare schemes

G Naga Sridhar
Hyderabad

It has been a long wait for pensioners and some employees in Andhra Pradesh as the State government has not disbursed this month's pension as of Monday, making it the longest delay in payment of pensions.

According to reliable sources, even some categories of government employees have not received their salaries, while some of those in key departments have been paid.

When contacted, on the condition of anonymity, a senior official said that unlike earlier, a treasury office or division-based disbursal model was being followed for giving salaries and pensions on the basis of a specific priority.

13.66 LAKH ON ROLLS

Per government employees' record data, there are about 10 lakh government employees in the State. The total number of employees and pensioners receiving monetary support is 13.66 lakh.

'NO MONEY'

"The government has no money to pay pensions, which are crucial for senior citizens. Out of a total salary bill of ₹5,700 crore, ₹1,650 crore goes in the form of pensions," TMV Buchi Raju, General Secretary, Association of AP Pensioners Settled in Hyderabad, told businessline. "We have been told that about 40 per cent of pensioners received pensions today," he added.

The State's finances have been a concern, with the government prioritising the implementation of its flagship social welfare schemes under the 'Navaratnas', as promised in its manifesto in the 2019 Assembly elections.

There has been a steady increase in the expenditure of the State government in recent years, as seen in the Budget outlays. In Budget 2023-24, which has been pegged at ₹2,79,279 crore, a lion's share of allocation went to welfare schemes. The AP government's Budget outlay for 2022-23 and 2021-22 was ₹2.56 lakh crore and ₹2.29 lakh crore, respectively. The fiscal deficit and revenue deficit stood at 3.77 per cent and 1.54 per cent of GSDP, respectively.

"I am not concerned with government finances but have been put to trouble due to this delay in payment of my pension as I have regular medical expenses in the first week of every month. I request that at least pensions be paid on time," pleaded MR Rao, a retired headmaster from Vijayawada, now living in Hyderabad.

The outstanding debt, or accumulation of total borrowings at the end of a financial year, including any liabilities on public account, is estimated at 33.3 per cent of the GSDP at the end of the current financial year, higher than the 2022-23 Revised Estimate of 32.4 per cent of GSDP.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. If a self-employed professional has earned below income tax slab for the current year and has earned above the taxable income in last two years, then do they need to file a return for the current year?

If one has filed income tax for the previous year's then they must file it for this year to declare a low income. This is also recommended as IT department may consider your non-filing as a delayed filing or non-compliance because of your past return filing history.

Q.Is it alright to skip ITR filing if one have already paid advance taxes and have no dues or refunds?

No, one still need to file ITR as it gives a complete record of your income distribution to the government. It is a mandatory process and helps the government to track tax frauds. In case one has missed it, they will have to pay penalty for late filing or non-filing.

Q. Is an ITR useful for a citizen's daily life?

Yes, as it is a proof of your income and you will need it while applying for a bank loan or visa. You will also need it for claiming any accidental insurance or for any judicial or Class 1 jobs or winning a tender or to register into any professional panels or to claim funding for startups.

Q. Is it possible to File Income Tax Return after the due date?

Yes, you can file a late return after the due date as prescribed under Section 139 (4). Such return must be filed before the end of Assessment Year or before the Assessment is completed, whichever is earlier.

Q. How to check the status of refund?

You can check your refund status on the official website of the Income Tax Department. Refund status can be checked after 10 days from the date of filing ITR return.

Q. How long it takes to receive income tax refund?

Refunds are generated only after IT department process your return.

The maximum possible time to get a refund back can be up to 1 year if you are liable to receive any refund. If IT department finds that you are not eligible for any refund they will notify you the same. If you think their calculation is wrong, then you can communicate with them in writing. Refunds are released through cheque sent to your address or transferred to your primary bank account.
