

Mill City Events by Tara began back in February 2022. Remember Covid? Like many, I took a hobby making candles and thought maybe a craft fair would be a great place to sell them. So, I had been looking for local craft fairs to sell my candles and to my surprise, there weren't many locally and the ones that were local only accepted one candle vendor at each event. I was discouraged and new to the craft fair scene. I also realized that many other crafters experienced the same difficulty finding events.

So, I thought, 🤔 maybe I could manage and run an event! I had been to fairs previously but never actually as a vendor. I knew it would be hard work but I was up for the challenge! So, that's what I did! One single fair turned into a Brand and 10 events, Successful events! So, here I am and I love it.

I've had the opportunity to meet amazing people who share the same love and passion for their business as I do! I'm not the traditional organizer, I do a lot to help the vendors build their businesses and network. I genuinely care about them and their small businesses.

Mill City Events by Tara has since blossomed into a productive and successful small business. I have certainly built a presence within my community and city, We have expanded into School Fundraiser Events for a number of area Schools! We've helped grow many small businesses and further their customer reach!

This journey has been fun and rewarding. I have had a tremendous support system along the way that I'll forever be thankful for!

We're not finished yet, we're just getting started!

Tara Nichole Perry