

Moral dilemmas

Dilemma #1

You find a wallet containing $500. No one sees you pick it up. There is a name inside the wallet but you don't know the owner or where they live. Again, no one saw you pick up the wallet. What will you do?

Dilemma #2

You promise a friend you will go to the movies with them on Saturday. After you have made the promise, the most popular kid in school invites you to a pool party at their house on the same day. But your friend did not get an invitation. You are thrilled to be invited and really want to go. What will you do?

Dilemma #3

Your friend has a great sense of humour. However sometimes their jokes involve making fun of people in inappropriate ways. They might for example point out something different about a person and then make an unkind comment about them. You feel uncomfortable when they do this. Do you say something, or just laugh along with them in front of the other person?

Dilemma #4

You are having trouble understanding all the content that will be on your maths test tomorrow. It is too hard and you know you will probably fail. On the day, you realise you have the opportunity to cheat on your maths test and not get caught by the teacher. What will you choose to do? Cheat or not cheat?

The Freddo Challenge

Winner takes all!

Each person is given one Freddo frog.

Pair up

Each pair has one minute to decide who will keep both Freddo frogs and who is out of the game.

Make new pairs with people remaining

Continue to decide who keeps the Freddos per pair

Continue until you have one person in the game who has won all of the Freddo frogs.

5

You are stranded on a deserted island...

You can only take 5 things with you!

What 5 things would you want to have?

Write each of these down on a piece of paper- one item per piece of paper.

Share your items with your group.

Sort your group's items into categories.

What things did you choose in common? Why do you think this is?
