Land Acknowledgement

The Edmonton Association of the Deaf acknowledges that we are on Treaty 6 Territory, the traditional lands of the Cree, Saulteaux, Blackfoot, Metis, Dene, and Nakota Sioux peoples. We respect and honour their histories, languages, and cultures, and we commit to fostering inclusivity and reconciliation in our community.

Edmonton Association of the Deaf

The Edmonton Association of the Deaf acknowledges that our organization and building are located on Treaty 6 Territory, known as Amiskwaciwâskahikan, or "Beaver Hills House" in Cree.

These lands are the traditional meeting grounds and travelling routes of the Nehiyaw (Cree), Denesuliné (Dene), Nakota Sioux (Stoney), Anishinaabe (Saulteaux), Niitsitapi (Blackfoot), and Métis peoples, whose presence has shaped this land for centuries.

We are grateful for the opportunity to live, gather, work, learn, volunteer, and advocate on Treaty 6 land.

We are committed to deepening our understanding of Indigenous, Inuit, and Métis histories and cultures and to building meaningful relationships with our Deaf, DeafBlind and Hard of Hearing Indigenous communities as part of the ongoing work of Truth and Reconciliation.

Cherish Deaf Culture By Nancy Rourke

Deaf Culture is the shared language, values, beliefs, traditions, and way of life of Deaf people who use sign language. It is centered on visual communication, history, art, humour, and pride in Deaf identity. Deaf Culture is passed down through generations and views being Deaf as a unique and positive experience, not a disability.

The Deaf Community is the network of people who support and participate in Deaf Culture. It includes Deaf, DeafBlind, hard of hearing, and hearing people who use sign language and engage in Deaf life, such as family members, interpreters, teachers, and allies. The community brings people together through schools, organizations, events, and social connections that strengthen belonging and cultural identity.

The Edmonton Association of the Deaf (EAD) is proud to be the home of the Deaf Community, a welcoming space where Deaf, DeafBlind, hard of hearing, and hearing allies come together to celebrate language, culture, and unity.
