

LINDEN STREET PRESS

Submission window for manuscripts and illustrator portfolios May-July 2025

Open call for writers and illustrators for children's books focused on ballet.

Linden Street Press is an independent publisher specializing in children's books about ballet.

A portion of profits supports unpaid, underpaid, and/or underrepresented dancers including trainees, apprentices, and second company members of professional ballet companies.

During our submission window, we accept manuscripts of children's books and illustrator portfolios in the following categories:

1. Children's Literature: picture books, early readers, chapter books.
2. Young Adult Literature: fiction, nonfiction, graphic novels.

Submission Process

Submit a cover letter that introduces yourself and explains why your work (manuscript or portfolio) aligns with our vision to info@lindenstreetpress.com

AUTHORS: Manuscripts should be submitted as Word, Google Doc, or pdf.

ILLUSTRATORS: Include a link to your portfolio or digital images of your work in your cover letter.

Note: We do not accept manuscripts or illustrations created solely by artificial intelligence.
