The club has not forgotten its patron, Helena Modjeska. In 1993, Maria Nowotarska of Toronto presented a play by Kazimerz Braun. In 2009, a world premiere of a Modjeska film documentary by Barbara Myszynska was held in Los Angeles. A play about Modjeska with replica costumes of the actress from the collection by Chris Chieplý was written and presented by Ewa Boryczko at the Bowers Museum and in Brentwood (2012). Prof. Beth Holmgren, Modjeska's biographer, gave a lecture about the actress and her achievements at the Bowers Museum in Santa Ana in 2011. Dr Maja Trochimczyk gave a lecture about Modjeska for the Laguna Art Museum in 2019. Marta Ojrzynska presented the world premiere of her experimental play, "Helena" in 2019. Several times the Modjeska Club attempted to create a monument to its patron. Projects of monuments were designed by Stanisław Szukalski in the 1970s and by Tomasz Misztal in the 1980s and 2010s (two projects). Even though none of these monuments have been built, it is important to remember about them.
