As you are making your arrangements, please don't hesitate to reach out and ask any questions that come up. It's always better to ask, than to make assumptions. *Blessings on this journey. IN ECUADOR

Before Samantha travels to a new country she loves to use TripAdvisor.com to read reviews and learn what businesses are trusted by travelers. She also uses WhatsApp to communicate internationally when travelling.

OUR RETREAT LOCATION

The location of our beautiful retreat is approximately 1 hour and 30 minutes north of the airport, and about 2 hours north from the center of Quito. We will be in a remote area of the Andes Mountains.

My SachaJi Wellness Hotel

Address: Via del Cóndor Lt 13 y Angel Vaca, Otavalo 100457, Ecuador

This blessed property was inherited by the current owner. She designed the buildings and amenities with her father, a well-known architect. Her giant heart, love for the earth, and the land prompted her to combine bio-friendly with modern amenities, and what was developed was a place that feels like no place else.

(If you hire a car or taxi, not familiar with this remote area, and just hand them this address, you most likely will not arrive at the resort. You can have the driver call Maria Teresa at +593 99-810-5855 if you need help, but you might not be in a cell service area if you are lost.)

SHUTTLE /CAR SERVICE

If you hire a driver that has not been to My SachaJi before they might have a hard time finding it. Plan to arrive during daylight. It's not safe to drive these remote areas without sunlight to guide the driver through unmarked roads without GPS. GPS programs are rarely accurate and barely work in this area. Samantha has used:

Go 4 Shuttle

Favorite driver: Ricardo

Email: go4shuttleec@gmail.com

STAYING IN QUITO

Quito (UIO) is the city you will fly in to, it's 2 hours from the wellness center. So, if your flight lands at night you are better off staying in the city of Quito. Driving out of town after dark is not safe for you or the local drivers. If you decide to fly in early and see Quito, Ecuador here are some helpful tips.

HOTELS IN QUITO

Hotels in Quito will range from US$50 to US$400+ a night. New town has some fun hostels, cheaper hotels, and a night life for the young at heart. Old town is upscale and ancient. Some buildings dating back to the 1700s. Samantha stays in one of these two hotels when in Quito:

JW Marriott Hotel Quito (downtown near new town)

Address: Avenida Orellana 1172 y Avenida Amazonas, Quito, Ecuador
<https://www.marriott.com/hotels/travel/uiodt-jw-marriott-hotel-quito/>

An easy walk to new town, the botanical gardens, and the park where local artists sell their original paintings to locals for amazing prices.

Casa Gangotena (old town)

Address: Bolivar Oe6-41 y Cuenca, Quito, Ecuador
<https://www.casagangotena.com/>

An easy walk around old town, and some of the most beautiful churches in the world.

Places to Eat in Quito

The climate in Ecuador does not grow spices well. So, most restaurants and meals in Ecuador can be lacking in spice. If that is your preference you will be in good hands, but if you prefer more flavor in your food Samantha has two favorite restaurants in Quito:

Sher E Punjab

$$-$$$

Traditional Indian Cuisine

Tip: Let them know you are not a local and want full Indian spice

<http://www.sherepunjabec.com/>

Casa Gangotena

$$$$ You will need reservations before you arrive in Ecuador

Modern South American Cuisine

Samantha also highly recommends, if you can afford it and have the time, spending a minimum of 2 nights/3 days at Mashpi Lodge, a National Geographic Unique Lodges of the World. Rates for tourists are usually US$1000+ per night

(They will not have adequate Vegan/Vegetarian options, they cater to scientists and photographers.)

Other extensions to your journey you may enjoy is a trip to the Galapagos Islands, Machu Picchu Peru, or one of the many rainforest areas.
