The Ministry of Leadership
Every conversation, leadership opportunity, and team-building moment can be an opportunity for ministry. Grounded in Matthew 5:16, this interactive, faith-based session explores how biblical principles can shape the way we communicate, lead, serve, and respond to others. Participants will leave encouraged and equipped to reflect Christ through everyday workplace interactions and make a meaningful difference in the lives of those around them.

Unboxing Tough Talk
Some conversations are just plain tough, but they don't have to damage relationships or derail progress. Drawing on seven practical strategies, John Maxwell leadership principles, and Allyson's real-world leadership experience, participants will learn to approach difficult conversations—from employee evaluations to constructive feedback—with greater clarity, confidence, and purpose.

Leading Through Change
Change can bring stress, uncertainty, frustration, and sometimes downright chaos—but it doesn't have to derail you! Through relatable stories, humor, and practical strategies, Allyson McElroy helps participants navigate change, build resilience, and lead others through transitions, even when they're not excited about the plan. Participants will discover that the hardest person they'll ever have to lead through change is themselves.

Behind the Scenes of Communication
Communication is about much more than the words we say. Through laughter, relatable examples, and memorable aha moments, participants will discover how tone, word choice, delivery, and unspoken messages impact conversations—and learn practical ways to turn everyday interactions into opportunities for connection.

Visual Communication
Have you ever seen communication? This highly interactive, hands-on experience brings communication to life through an engaging experiment that reveals how messages get misunderstood, assumptions take over, and communication breaks down. Participants will leave with practical strategies for communicating with greater clarity, confidence, and connection.
