

Scouts Honor Perrone As Director

by Gail Scott

The Girl Scout Day Camp was packed with exciting activities this summer, with every activity centered around the theme of ecology. A large group of Girl Scouts participated in the camp, which ran from June 16 to June 18.

Each day was filled with fun activities such as planting flowers around the Hampton Park soccer concession stand and baseball flagpole areas to beautify the park. Flowers were donated by community members and scouts. The girls also made beautiful wind chimes out of sea shells, and drink coasters from the trunk of a fallen tree. They found out how to use lemon juice and vinegar to keep ants away, and even got to eat crickets and marigold

And the Show Went on...

Aquinas Academy of Pittsburgh's middle school students recently performed three Narnia plays from the works of C.S. Lewis. Unlike previous years when there was only one large middle school play, Director Mike Flynn chose to perform one play per grade in order to keep within social distancing guidelines which were in effect at the time of the play. At the suggestion of Laurie Schirra, a former Aquinas parent and Digital Media Director, Mike Flynn selected the three Narnia plays, whose scripts had been leaves. Rachel Perrone, senior Girl Scout, was a unit aid this summer. She said, "My favorite thing was teaching the younger girls all of the Girl Scout songs. They love singing so this was super fun for them." Rachel added, "This was my family's last year being involved in day camp. It was sad on the last day but also fun to look back at all of the past years in camp."

Liz Perrone has been the Girl Scout Day Camp director since 2014 and this will be her last year as director. She has done innovative and amazing things for the girls scouts since she took over as director 7 years ago. Her twin daughters graduated from Hampton High School this year as did the other girls in her troop. She celebrated her last day in camp with seniors Grace Claus, Danielle Perrone, Rachel Perrone, Saige Loebig, Caitlyn McCarthy, Brianna Towers, Tori Radinovic, Sam Langer, Lauren Morris, and Mia Adamski. Liz commented, "I have loved spending time in the rain and sun with all of the girls." She added, "My son gave me the best advice. He said, "Don't be upset it's over, just be happy that it happened!" To honor Perrone, the camp gave her an amazing scrapbook of pictures and memories and a bracelet that said "behind every great Girl Scout is a great leader."

2022 will mark the 25th anniversary of the Hampton Girl Scout Day Camp. Ruth Cramer will take over as the new camp director.

PIPPIN Brings Life to Hampton Stage

by Gail Scott

The lights were bright on the Hampton High School stage for the premiere of Pippin as the students performed for the first time in more than a year. Everyone involved said it was a true blessing to bring live theater back to Hampton.

Pippin was performed 6 times over 2 weekends. Covid restrictions were still in place for the May 27-29 shows with limited seating capacity, and the performers wore more traditional face masks. On the second weekend, Covid restrictions were eased by the state and there was a higher seating capacity. Actors wore practically invisible masks and Brooks Brady, who played the role of Pippin, commented, "The clear masks added a new sense of empowerment and energy to the entire company and I feel it was very evident in our performances." He added, "The show was an absolute blast. I'm so grateful to have been a part of such an amazing company and I can't wait to do it all again next year!"

Producing live theatre during a pandemic had to be carefully orchestrated and every detail needed to be determined in advance. It was easily twice the amount of work than in previous years for directors, actors, crew, musicians, and all involved. Musical director and producer Dan Franklin said they have learned so much during this process as they started to rethink what theatre is and why it is so important to our society. Dan said, "Theatre is so important now, when people have been isolating for nearly a year and those human interactions are starting to erode. Theatre is the healing balm that so many of us desperately need for our souls right now."

One of the highlights of the show was the "Finale" when the whole company broke into the song "No Time At All," where they reminded us to live every moment to the fullest. The audience was thrilled by Pippin and it was evident by the applause as the curtain fell each night. More photos on page 7.

A Grueling Challenge

by Brooke Fuller

The twenty-fourth annual Rachel Carson Trail Challenge took place on Saturday June 19, 2021. The goal of the challenge? Finish. Participants could choose between three different events. The traditional challenge is a beastly 35 miles long with 600 participants competing. Dean Wagner, a 4 year challenge veteran, has been training to run the traditional 35 mile event. "I've been training for about 3 months outside, but year round inside," Wagner said. The challenge began in Harrison Hills Park at 5:30 a.m. and finished in North Park with the deadline at 8:54 p.m. The second event, also known as the Half Challenge, is 18 miles long, capped off at 300 hikers and runners. It began at Springdale High School, located near the Rachel Carson Trail Homestead. Sue English is a well versed Rachel Carson Trail Challenge participant. "I first did the Half Challenge in 2008," English said. "I have completed this challenge several times in both directions as well as completing the full challenge in 2012." Erica Friedman, a Pittsburgh native, has also done her fair share of challenges. "This will be my 8th challenge," Friedman stated. "I actually planned on doing the full challenge, but I got hurt during COVID. I'm not quite ready for the full challenge, but I plan on walking the half challenge." Participants finished their journey in North Park with a deadline of 7 hours and 46 minutes. Groups could also participate in the final event offered, the Friends & Family Challenge, with a 7 mile distance. Groups of up to 5 members are intended for the challenge. The challenge began at White Oak Farm located in Hampton Township at noon. Joe Downing was one of 20 in a group who took up the challenge, making 4 Friends and Family teams. "My personal goal is just to have fun and enjoy the day with my friends."

Traffic Complaint

🚓 On May 5, 2021 at 7:10 a.m., Hampton Township Police responded to Route 8 and Mount Royal Boulevard for a report of a vehicle accident that was called in by one of the involved drivers. Upon the officer's arrival, the operator of one vehicle stated that they were driving south on Route 8 and that the other vehicle was "tailgating" their vehicle. The operator claimed that the other vehicle struck the rear of their vehicle because of how close it was. The driver of the second vehicle claimed that they were traveling south on Route 8 when they were being followed too closely by the other driver. They stated that the other vehicle eventually passed their vehicle, pulled in front of them and then proceeded to drive very slowly while "brake-checking." The second driver adamantly denied that there was any physical contact between vehicles. There was no damage observed to either vehicle. Both parties were advised on safe driving skills.

Dietz Earns a Place on Football All Star Roster

by Gail Scott

Dawson Dietz was selected to play in the East-West All Star football game in Harrisburg on May 30. He was nominated by his Hampton football coach and then other coaches selected Dawson after watching his highlights from this season.

Dawson is a defensive lineman. The West division team lost the game by a score of 31-13. Dietz said the best highlight of his game was when he put pressure on the quarterback which forced an interception.

Dietz graduated from Hampton High School this year in June. In the fall, he will be attending Washington and Jefferson College where he will major in business and play on the college football team.

There were no injuries reported, the truck was successfully extinguished, and the vehicle was towed from the scene by a private company.

Property Damage

On May 18, 2021 at 4:30 p.m., Hampton Township Police were dispatched to Route 8 for a single vehicle accident. The responding officer spoke with the involved driver, who advised that they were driving south in the passing lane of Route 8 when they observed a tire on a wheel rolling down the roadway. The Forbes “Best-in-State Wealth Advisors” ranking was developed by SHOOK Research and is based on in-person and telephone due diligence meetings to evaluate each advisor qualitatively, a major component of a ranking algorithm that includes: client retention, industry experience, review of compliance records, firm nominations; and quantitative criteria, including: assets under management and revenue generated for their firms. Investment performance is not a criterion because client objectives and risk tolerances vary, and advisors rarely have audited performance reports. Rankings are based on the opinions of SHOOK Research, LLC and not indicative of future performance or representative of any one client’s experience. adapted from the Narnia books by Aquinas lower school teacher, Sue Mutschler. Mutschler had previously directed all seven of the Narnia plays with her former fourth grade students. However, Mutschler had not directed any of the plays since the spring of 2015, as she began teaching second grade the following school year.

The eighth grade students performed The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe on Thursday, April 22; the seventh grade students performed Prince Caspian on Thursday, April 29; and the sixth grade students performed The Voyage of the Dawn Treader on Thursday, May 6. All three performances had to be delayed until after Easter break, but that proved to be a blessing as it enabled an additional evening performance for immediate family to be added to the schedule for each play. The original schedule only included one day-time performance for lower school students.

Director Mike Flynn

With the performance of these plays, Flynn has now directed thirty-three drama productions for Aquinas Academy. Senior Benjamin Stalder was the music director for all three plays. Maria Taglianetti and Brady Buchanan painted the scenery and designed the sets, respectively. Rosemary Meland provided costume design.

The "nephew" explained that they were involved in an accident in California that severely injured the other driver. The "nephew" claimed that they had to go to Mexico and requested $10,000.00. The resident realized that this was likely a phone scam and did not provide the caller with any sensitive information or money.

On June 1, 2021 a resident from Old New England Ave. notified Hampton Police of an attempted fraud. The resident received a letter stating that someone had opened an unemployment claim in their name. The resident was advised to monitor their credit and to report this attempt to the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry.

Animal Complaint

On June 3, 2021 Hampton Township Officers were dispatched to the area of Laurel Lane for a report of three abandon raccoons. Upon arrival, three baby raccoons were located in the bushes near a residence. If residents find a wild baby animal, they are encouraged to leave them alone and undisturbed. Additional information on what to do if you come across this situation at your residence is on page 20.

Highlighted Incident / Person:

HTFD would like to recognize two members this month for going above and beyond the call of duty, Lieutenant Brian Mitchell and Advanced EMT Joanne Robinson. Over the last month these two members have put in countless hours getting our fleet ready for Licensure. HTFD decided that we wanted all of our primary response apparatus to be equipped and licensed to handle any EMS assists or medical emergencies that arise on our fire scenes. Because of the work these two put in we are happy to announce that our Engine 1, Rescue, Squad, Command Vehicle, and QRS vehicle are licensed and equipped as QRS vehicles and able to respond to any medical or trauma calls within the service area and in mutual aid districts as requested.

We are continually looking for folks that want to join our team. We are looking for those who have a desire to help the community. Training is provided. We are

What should I do if I find an orphaned or abandoned young baby wild animal? If you care, leave it there.

Though it is human nature to want to help, the best thing to do when encountering an injured or orphaned wild animal is to leave it alone and undisturbed. In many cases, it is against the law to capture, transport or possess wild animals. Generally, animals are better off left where they are found.

You are more likely to encounter or observe young, baby animals in the spring and early summer. Juvenile animals are common during these seasons as young animals begin to explore their environment, learn to forage/hunt and defend themselves. It is not uncommon to find young wildlife alone while the parents are hunting or foraging.

If you encounter what appears to be orphaned wildlife, you should leave them alone and immediately leave the area, allowing the parents to return and continue to care for their offspring.

In rare cases when you know the adults have been killed (i.e. hit by a car etc.), contact your state Fish and Wildlife Department. Many states have licensed rehabilitators who are well-trained to raise young wildlife and return them to the wild, if at all possible.

The same holds true for many other wildlife species including rabbits, foxes, coyotes, birds, and squirrels — If you care, leave it there. End
