

Why Choose Heavenly Trash?

For over 20 years, Heavenly Trash has been committed to providing dependable, locally owned waste collection services throughout central Arkansas. We believe trash service should be simple: show up when we say we will, treat customers with respect, and continually invest in better equipment and better service.

Locally Owned. Locally Invested.

Heavenly Trash is a family-owned Arkansas company. Every decision we make is focused on serving our communities—not answering to a national corporation or out-of-state investors. When you choose Heavenly Trash, your dollars stay here, supporting local jobs and the communities we call home.

A Modern Fleet You Can Count On

Reliability starts with dependable equipment. We have invested heavily in maintaining one of the newest and most capable fleets in the area. Modern trucks mean fewer breakdowns, fewer missed pickups, and more dependable service for our customers.

Our Own Transfer Station

Unlike many local haulers, Heavenly Trash owns and operates its own transfer station. That gives us greater control over our operations and helps us respond more efficiently when unexpected challenges arise.

Our transfer station is also open to the public, giving homeowners, contractors, and businesses a convenient place to dispose of waste.

Serving Thousands of Customers

Every week, thousands of families and businesses trust Heavenly Trash with their waste collection needs. That trust has been earned one customer at a time through consistent, dependable service.

Residential & Commercial Solutions

Whether you need weekly household trash pickup, commercial front-load dumpster service, roll-off containers for a project, or access to our transfer station, Heavenly Trash offers a full range of waste management solutions.

Investing in the Future

We continually reinvest in our company through new equipment, improved technology, and expanded capabilities. Our goal is simple: provide the highest level of service possible today while preparing to serve our communities even better tomorrow.

Customer Service Matters

When you call Heavenly Trash, you're speaking with people who live and work in Arkansas. We value long-term relationships with our customers and work hard to resolve concerns quickly and professionally.
