

Nataylia is an accomplished performer with a wealth of experience in the entertainment industry. She has graced the West End stage as a leading lady and worked with the BBC and regional theaters in the UK, as well as national and international tours.

Recently, Nataylia has expanded her talents into film, working on a new BBC drama and a film for the festival circuits. Her creative journey has also led her to be a featured performer at a Tedx event, where she shared an excerpt from her original solo show.

Driven by her passion for creating original content, Nataylia is currently focused on developing several projects, including her solo show featuring original music, a short film, and multiple scripts being workshopped in theaters. Her dedication to her craft has earned her recognition as a winner and finalist of various awards in both the UK and USA.

With a forward-thinking mindset and a fabulous spirit, Nataylia continues to embrace every opportunity, knowing that each moment is a gift.
