The After the FAFSA® program was developed by Ms. Johnson for Johnson Consulting Services LLC as a financial literacy program and education planning service to assist families on their path to college graduation. Based on her experiences as a former STEM scholar and public servant working in our nation's capital for the U.S. Congress during the Obama administration, Ms. Johnson developed a unique expertise, insight and perspective into the financial aid, scholarships, and grants processes. This service is inspired by the families who seek out legitimate funding resources that reduce debt and/or eliminate family (parent and student) loans to pay for college tuition and other expenses associated with obtaining a college degree.

This program walks the family through the scholarships, grants, and the financial aid processes and is aligned with key Michigan initiatives, plans, and strategies.
