The Significance of Veterans Day

By MICHAEL ROSENZWEIG, Editor-in-Chief

Veteran's Day in the United States is the day when we honor the service of military veterans and persons who have served in the armed forces. It is celebrated on the 11th day of the 11th month. In 1918, it marked the date and time that the Armistice with Germany went into effect at the end of World War I. From 1918 until 1945, November 11 was known as Armistice Day. At the end of World War II, in 1945, the idea to expand this day to recognize and celebrate all veterans became popularized. In 1954, Congress officially adopted the bill that replaced Armistice Day with Veterans Day.

Veterans Day is a recognized federal holiday. When the 11th of November falls on a Saturday or Sunday, it is observed on the preceding Friday or the following Monday. Since Veterans Day and the birthday of the United States Marine Corps (Nov. 10, 1775) are only one day apart, the Marine Corps customarily observes both occasions as a 96-hour liberty period.

Regardless of the name of this holiday, we should take some time to honor our veterans for their service to our country. Display a flag near your front door, visit a military gravesite, place a wreath or flag on a grave, go to a Veterans parade and let those in uniform know how much we appreciate their sacrifices and how much we support their efforts. Don't take our freedom and liberty for granted, thank our Veterans.

Tips for Traveling

Research and Plan Ahead

Planning, reserving and confirming must be accomplished sooner rather than later. When the destination is resolved with target dates, research airlines, Amtrak, buses, cruise lines. For air and land transportation, seek the most direct and shortest travel times.

If there is a choice of three airlines, for example, enroll in the no-cost frequent flier program for each. This should give you access to the lowest fares and possible benefits at the airport and aboard the flight, as well as for requesting special services.

Know that once very common, most senior discount fares are history except for Southwest Airlines and Amtrak. To find other senior-special offers, go online to SmarterTravel.com.

Request and Reserve Special Services

Request seat assignment in the rows designated for disabled travelers. And, importantly, request cost-free wheelchair service at every airport origination, connection and arrival location. If there is meal service aboard, advise the reservation system of any dietary needs.

If traveling alone, ensure you will have human assistance from the counter, through security, to the gate and then to board the aircraft. If staffed by an airline employee, there is no cost for wheelchair or assistance. If staffed by Red Cap-type personnel, you will be expected to tip for that assist. If you are traveling with family, they can offer to handle the wheelchair.

If you don't make and confirm all of these requests at the time of reservation, the airline, train or bus line has no obligation to make them available on check-in or while en route.

The Mayor's Message

By BILL GANZ, Mayor/ City of Deerfield Beach

Century Village Friends and Neighbors, Fall usually brings with it cooler temperatures but for those of us at City Hall, this time of year means just one thing, event season! We just enjoyed Fall Festival at Pioneer Park, multiple Halloween events at Oveta McKeithen and Villages of Hillsboro Park and on December 2, we will turn on the holiday lights along the beautiful Ocean Way. City Hall has been busy, and we are delighted to be able to serve our residents by offering so many family-friendly events that bring our community together.

Last month, I wrote about post-Hurricane Irma recovery efforts and the enormous amount of vegetative debris that needed to be removed from our streets and neighborhoods. I am pleased to say that this immense task is complete. Field crews successfully removed more than 88,000 cubic yards, 19 million pounds of debris. Friends, normally it would take more than a year and a half to pick up that amount of bulk trash. Deerfield Beach has the hardest working employees, and I am truly proud of our men and women.

The City recently held its first Coastal Management Workshop to introduce the new Coastal and Waterways Division. Coastal and Waterway Coordinator, Patrick Bardes, highlighted past initiatives and talked about future opportunities as it relates to our beach. The mission of this new division is to protect, conserve and enhance our City's coastal, marine and environmental resources. Please be on the lookout for upcoming workshops as this will be an ongoing discussion for City officials, and we want to hear from you. Please make sure that you are signed up for City News Alerts which can be done by visiting the City website at www.DFB.City and clicking the Sign Me Up button. Once you are signed up, you will begin to receive all communication from the City announcing meetings like these as well as events and programs.

Finally, on November 4, the City hosted the First Annual Ryan Owens Run. SOCS (SEAL) William Ryan Owens, was killed in combat in Yemen on January 29, 2017. The 36-year-old husband, father, brother and son of a retired Army Ranger was assigned to SEAL Team 6 when he died of wounds received in a nighttime raid. He was on his 12th deployment as a SEAL and his 18th year in the Navy. This was a magnificent and honorable celebration of the life of Ryan Owens.

One American life lost in combat is one too many; and as we gather around our tables this Thanksgiving, I will be giving thanks for the safety and good health of my own family and thinking of the Owens family and all that they have sacrificed for our nation. I hope you will do the same.

Have a wonderful Thanksgiving!

From the Commissioner

By BERNIE PARNES, District 3 Commissioner

Hello neighbors, We survived hurricane Irma who left behind minor damage to our properties and major debris to clean up. Deerfield Beach did not experience any loss of life or injuries and that, my friends, is the best reason to celebrate this Thanksgiving.

We not only live in Century Village East, but also in a wonderful city named Deerfield Beach. Right after the hurricane, City crews, along with Master Management had the roads cleared in 48 hours, which allowed cars and emergency vehicles to easily move through all parts of our Village. I cannot say enough about all these workers who did what they could to get things back to normal as quickly as they did.

In past years, some folks have taken the attitude of us against them. We are all part of Deerfield Beach and should respect each other and work together to make our lives better.

The City is asking for your participation in its decision-making process. There are committees where various ideas are discussed and brought to the commission for consideration. I want our community, Century Village, to be a part of that input on everything from Education to the Community Appearance Board. Take part in the future of our City and volunteer for a committee. If you are interested, call me for an application at 954.870.0214.

Finally, I would like to invite you all to my first District 3 meeting on December 13 at 1 p.m. in the Clubhouse Party Room. Come and meet many department heads and representatives from the City. Let us solve some problems together.

Have a wonderful Thanksgiving,

Sheriff's Report

By SHERIFF SCOTT J. ISRAEL/ Broward County

When People Are in Trouble, BSO is Here to Help

When disaster strikes, the Broward Sheriff's Office is ready, willing and able to lend a helping hand to those in need at a moment's notice—no matter where it occurs. From the heart of Broward to the people in need in the Florida Keys and Puerto Rico, BSO was there to assist in whatever manner was needed during this deadly and catastrophic 2017 hurricane season.

Ensuring the safety and security of Broward residents and visitors is always BSO's top priority, even in the face of battering winds and flooding rains. The hard-working men and women of this agency gave all they had to keep Broward safe this hurricane season. However, we also answered the call for help from our neighbors and friends who were in desperate need of assistance. We didn't do this because we had to. We did it because it's the right thing to do. Public safety is about helping those in need, even if disaster doesn't touch us personally. And as this devastating hurricane season showed, there were many far less fortunate than us here in Broward who required the kindness and assistance of outside help.

In the immediate aftermath of Hurricane Irma in September, BSO sent a unit of BSO deputies, specialists and communications equipment to Monroe County, where some of the worst damage from the hurricane occurred. The Communications on Wheels (COW) vehicle we set up there allowed first responders in the Keys to coordinate their relief efforts and assist the storm-weary residents of Monroe County.

Our civilian dispatchers also answered the call for help. Monroe County, from the Everglades to Key West, received some of Irma's nastiest winds and weather and needed a lot of help recovering. They asked for dispatchers to help field some of the emergency calls they were receiving, and we sent some of our finest.

Seventeen of our fire rescue personnel also made the trip to the Florida Keys to assist residents, whose way of life forever changed because of the storm. In one instance, a weakened and thirsty Key Deer was given a second lease on life, thanks to a member of BSO Fire Rescue who handed the animal four bottles of water and helped it recover. BSO also sent a contingent of fire rescue personnel to Puerto Rico to assist local authorities in handling the devastation caused by powerful Hurricane Maria.

None of this would have been possible, however, had it not been for the amazing residents of Broward. I am so incredibly proud of you. I was amazed by your incredible acts of kindness and selflessness, and impressed by how you followed the direction of public safety professionals to the best of your abilities, keeping your families safe during the worst of it. Property and possessions are replaceable; lives are not. Your response made Broward safer and allowed us to help those in dire need elsewhere.

Here's hoping for a quiet final month in the tropics but know we are ready to assist anyone who needs us at the drop of a dime. When people are in trouble, we try to help. We are BSO, and that's what we do.

A Message from the Editor

By MICHAEL ROSENZWEIG,
Editor-in-Chief

On Sunday night, October 1, 2017, twenty-two thousand Country & Western music fans enjoying the performance of Jason Aldean, et al, on the Las Vegas Strip in an area set up for outdoor concerts were preyed upon by a deranged gunman. Utilizing what the N.R.A. terms modern sporting rifles, he set up to fire in the fully automatic mode, a.k.a. machine gun fire, this piece of human garbage slaughtered 59 innocents and wounded hundreds more.

The Bill of Rights consists of the first ten amendments to our Constitution. Our Founding Fathers agreed that in a country such as ours, the private ownership of firearms was vitally important for obtaining and maintaining our freedom and minimizing the rise of tyranny. They, therefore, placed the second amendment prominently in their Bill of Rights. Can you imagine Washington, Adams, Franklin and Jefferson ever envisioning the scenario that took place in Las Vegas on that fateful Sunday night?

So, these modern sporting rifles need to be renamed for their real purpose: W.H.D., or weapons of human destruction. Deer hunters and game hunters have been doing very well down through the years utilizing bolt-action, pump or single shot rifles and shot-guns. The modern sporting rifle was developed for use by the military and adopted by law enforcement to facilitate the rapid destruction of the human enemy.

We need to bring common sense back into our everyday lives. The private ownership of firearms remains an important part of the Bill of Rights and should ALWAYS be there. But, does any private citizen really need to have access to a fully automatic weapon? Has the pendulum swung too far in the wrong direction? Do all hi-rise hotels and office buildings need to install bullet-proof high-impact glass in their rooms to prevent similar tragedies? Tough questions that need to be addressed by our political leaders.

Post Script: The city of Chicago has some of the strictest gun laws in the U.S., yet still has one of the highest gun death crime rates in the country.

THE COST OF FREEDOM.

Criteria for letters that will not be published: Letters in poor taste, demeaning and vastly untrue.

Repair Procedure
To the Editor:
I purchased our Durham U garden apartment in 2000 and joined the board a year later with responsibility for the building. My first job was to remove and replace four square yards of second floor corner soffit which had delaminated. It had been screwed back by the previous president; screws had already loosened. Since then we have replaced 30 square yards in another delaminated corner area. Cost so far, $3000. We still have 10 corners likely to delaminate. The fault is caused by rusting screws or staples and was part of a defect settlement by the contractor with CVE circa 1984. Every year since 2001 we returned to hear of more garden buildings, some comprising the whole 80 feet, which had fallen, trapping owners, fortunately, not injuring, or worse, anybody standing underneath. Falls can be substantially more expensive since building permits, repair procedure and inspections are also required. This year for $2000 we had the whole 240 feet of soffit screwed at each truss with four 3.5 inch screws with heads covered. It takes about 24 hours of labor plus screws and corking. The trusses are not equally spaced. I am surprised that Deerfield City Building Dept. has not required these soffits to be secured before there is a serious accident.

COOCVE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

COOCVE Informational Meeting - October 17, 2017

COOCVE President
Charlie Parness called the meeting to order at 9:30 a.m. Charlie led the Pledge of Allegiance and a Moment of Silence. Charlie stated that a quorum was not present; therefore, this will be an informational meeting. The quorum count needed to be 92.

Minutes

Charlie asked if there were any changes to the minutes from the March 21 meeting as printed in the Reporter. Since there were none, they were accepted as printed in the Reporter several months ago.

Treasurer's Report - Howard Drandoff

Expenses for July, August and September totaled $1,159.07. YTD opening balance was $152,495.28. YTD expenses are $73,773.83 which results in a year to date closing balance of $78,721.45.

Sheriff's Report

Charlie mentioned that BSO Deputy, Carlos Periu, was invited today to speak on crime and safety; unfortunately, they were holding the 2017 Student Government Day tour and could not provide anyone for this meeting.

President's Report - Charlie Parness

If a Director notices any errors on the run sheets, please see Charlie after the meeting.

Newly-elected Board Members must be Board certified. COOCVE has arranged a seminar by Bill and Susan Raphan on Wednesday, March 14, 2018 in the Clubhouse Party Room. The seminar is 2 to 4 p.m. Sign-up sheets will be available a few weeks before the event.

At the Joint COOCVE Executive Committee/Council of Area Chairs, per the COOCVE Bylaws: "the Presidents shall, with the approval of the Executive Committee, appoint a COOCVE Election Committee consisting of ten members from associations in good standing. The Committee will elect its Chairman." The names of the 10 appointees are Claire Eskin, Susan Giordano, Pat Bidol-Padva, Judy Grossman, Carol Carr, Cecelia Mendez, Sheila Pascar, Sandy Parness, Norma Weiner and Ronnie Baimel. The above list of appointees was approved unanimously.

Since many residents will be away for Thanksgiving, the November COOCVE BOD meeting has been moved to Wednesday, November 29.

The Condo Documentation Project is proceeding on schedule. If it keeps on schedule, there will be a presentation before the Joint Executive Committee/Council of Area Chairs in November, followed by another presentation before the COOCVE Board of Directors' Meeting also in November. In addition, we will be holding a Presidents' Meeting for a more detailed presentation before all CVE Condo Association Presidents and Board members in January.

Last week at the Joint meeting, there was a presentation from the Toll Brothers and their attorneys on the purchase of the golf course. A few years ago, over 80 percent of CVE residents voted to purchase the entire golf course. Although we offered the owner $5.5 million, the purchase was not accepted. The purpose of the purchase was not to own and run a golf course but to prevent a developer of stores or housing or both from separating the Village into two sections. This would have caused a great inconvenience to residents in going from one part of the Village to another and even isolate one of the areas; however, the greatest impact would have been a total disruption in the security within CVE. The current plan does involve the building of about 200 two-story townhouses and will affect the view of six buildings; however, it does not divide the Village, affect the way we move about the Village or impact security. The plan accomplishes the goal we had when we sought to purchase the golf course without having to spend the millions to do so. There is much work to be done in testing, seeking permits and conducting studies before any work can begin. The entire task will take many years to complete. Considering all the aspects of this plan, this will be looked on as a win-win situation for CVE residents.

In the future, we plan to arrange a presentation by the Toll Brothers before everyone here today. At all presentations, residents will be allowed to receive answers to any questions they ask.

Charlie mentioned that some time ago, COOCVE was sued and the result ended in COOCVE's favor. This suit involved the distribution of insurance funds in 2008 for the hurricane that hit us in 2005, which had been approved by the COOCVE BOD. Last week, COOCVE was advised of a similar lawsuit by two other CVE associations.

Master Management - Gene Goldman/Kelly Hampton

Kelly mentioned that at this past MM meeting many topics were covered and urged residents to view the video posted on the website. She mentioned that the permit process has begun for the Gatehouse and they hope to begin construction in the next several weeks. The Board approved a Village-wide lighting project to replace the disk top lights throughout the Village. Another project is to construct an 8 ft. wall that will go around the entire perimeter of the Village; the approximate cost would be $1.2 million. Kelly mentioned that bulk pick up has resumed and is back on schedule. Kelly mentioned that they are working on a plan to remove the debris in the bus depot parking lot. Charlie mentioned that buildings have been removing their debris and putting it on MM or Recreation property. Kelly added that although the buildings do not incur a direct cost for removal, they will be incurring it indirectly through the MM or Recreation coupons since they will be paying for the removal.

Recreation - Dan Johnson

Dan mentioned that the End-of-Summer BBQ will take place in the Party Room on Friday, October 20. The Halloween Dance will be held on October 28; tickets are $12 and can be purchased at the Staff Office or online at www.tickets.cveevents.com. Dan thanked everyone for filling out the entertainment survey. The Fitness Center will be open at 6 a.m. beginning November 1. Beginning on November 13, Cohen's Deli hours will be 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Dan mentioned that the Recreation coupon cost will be announced at the December meeting of Recreation since the budget is not finalized until the beginning of December. Dan also mentioned that the pool heaters will be turned on November 1.

District 3 Commissioner - Bernie Parness

Bernie mentioned that the Clubhouse staff deserves a lot of credit for opening as quickly as they did after the hurricane so that folks without electricity could take a shower and cool off. Bernie stated that FEMA will not designate the Clubhouse as a shelter as it is not safe. If residents need a shelter, they should contact NE Focal Point. He also mentioned that there are a number of Committee positions open; anyone interested in serving should see him after the meeting. A Director asked for an update on 10th Street and the status of the recycling plant on Powerline. Bernie replied that there are no changes on the dump and no update on 10th Street. The next meeting on the 10th Street Project will be in November.

Old Business - None

New Business

Cee Baskin mentioned that Richmond is not getting support from COOCVE or MM with regards to Toll Brothers purchasing the golf course. She stated that 6" from the soil does not remediate the asbestos. The traffic on Military Trail is going to increase dramatically.

A resident mentioned that several residents are being told that they cannot get a reverse mortgage in CVE because COOCVE did not apply for it. Charlie replied that the Clubhouse does not have a mortgage; it is a lease. Charlie explained that you can get one; it depends on what salesperson you speak with.

The informational meeting ended at 10:15 a.m.

Respectfully Submitted,

Charlie Parness, COOCVE President

VILLAGE MEETING MINUTES

COOCVE Recreation Committee - October 11, 2017

In attendance: Susan Dove, Rita Pickar, Ron Popp and Fran Stricoff; Absent: Marj Campbell, Phil Raymond; Representing COOCVE: Charlie Parness; Representing Bay Management: Dan Johnson

The meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance and a Moment of Silence at 9:30 a.m.

Minutes:

Ron moved, and it was seconded by Susan, to waive the reading of the August meeting minutes and accept them as written in The Reporter. The motion carried unanimously.

Correspondence:

Rita shared the movie selection process. Rita explained that the Committee does not go to Target to purchase movies or can show movies from residents' home libraries. In order to show movies to our residents in a public venue, the law requires us to lease our movies from a licensed film distributor. She explained that the movies are selected from a list provided by the vendor; five to six movies are selected at a time. A variety is always chosen, and the Committee is aware that not every movie will please every resident.

Rita announced that BJ's will be at CVE on November 2 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in room GP-A. At this time, residents can renew or sign up for a new membership. The fee is $35 for a 13-month membership and includes a second card free for a household member.

Rita thanked Dan Johnson and the entire staff at Bay for all their efforts during the recent hurricane.

Bay Management Reports: Dan Johnson

Hurricane: All prep work was completed late on September 6; the Clubhouse was closed Thursday, September 7 through Tuesday, September 12. CVE was very lucky as there was minimal damage to the Clubhouse and surrounding areas. Debris clean up was from September 12 through September 28. Dan mentioned that the debris clean up on Recreation property should not have taken as long as it did. After viewing camera footage, residents were dumping their clean-up debris on Recreation property. Sixty-six thousand dollars was spent on repair costs and debris removal. Dan stated again that the Clubhouse cannot be used as a shelter as it does not have impact or hurricane glass; and therefore, it is not safe to use.

Clubhouse: Preventive maintenance was performed in GPG and GPF. This included painting touch up and additional lighting. Entrances and walkways were pressure cleaned and painted with a non-skid gray paint. Stanley Doors completed preventive maintenance on all automatic doors in the Clubhouse.

Fire Safety: Empire Fire installed two smoke detectors in the roof air handler.

Art Gallery: Excel Electric installed track lighting and the frame boxes were painted to give the room more of an art gallery look.

3rd-floor Lobby and Balcony: Ceiling tiles were replaced so that they all match and the lights were changed from yellow to white.

Fitness Center: Six new cardio machines were installed to replace aged equipment; this completes the three-year plan. All the machines are under warranty until September 2018. The Maintenance Team constructed new flooring in both saunas. Fran asked Dan to update the Committee on any additional maintenance issues regarding the saunas. Dan mentioned that residents should not be drying their swimsuits on the sauna grid or hanging them from the fire sprinklers. Doing this will cause severe damages, and it is also a fire hazard. He reminded residents that the saunas are to be used by a few people at a time, not 18. Residents should be neighborly and not lie down taking up all the benches. Mike, the theater technician, is working to resolve the satellite radio issues by paring the two radio systems and using one central antenna which is located in the Staff Office.

Pools

Preventive maintenance was completed at the Lyndhurst North, Berkshire, Newport, Ventnor and Durham pools. Pressure washing of pool decks, lounges and chairs will begin this week. Decks and pavers were repaired at Berkshire and Ventnor by American Pavers. The drawings for the filter/heat pump for the Clubhouse pool are complete; waiting for approval from the City of Deerfield Beach. There is a chance the pool will not need to be shut down for this installation; if it does, it will only be for one day. This new filter and media system will enhance the cleaning of the system each month and regulate the temperature much faster.

Outdoor

Lift Station: Preventive maintenance was performed by A-Z Plumbing.

Restaurant: Preventive maintenance was performed on the grease trap by A-Z Plumbing.

Outdoor Grills: The outdoor grills near the Shuffleboard Courts were stripped and painted.

Petanque: The scoreboards have been installed at the new courts, and the pavers have been pressure cleaned.

Bocce: The pavers have been pressure cleaned and new playsets were placed in the bocce shed. The sideboards will be replaced as they are starting to bow. These boards took on a lot of water during the hurricane.

Clubhouse Awning: A proposal to replace the awning was approved; waiting on a timeline from the vendor. This awning should be up around the November/December timeframe.

Service Road Drainage: A French drain was installed between the Clubhouse Tennis Courts and the road; paving is finishing up this week.

Tennis: Additional fence awnings are being installed this week at each area.

Maintenance

A total of 390 work orders were completed in the month of September; 19 remain open.

Special Projects

Petanque addition: The additional Petanque Courts are complete and additional lighting will be installed during the third week in October.

Clubhouse Restrooms: The installation of the tile in the second floor restrooms is complete. These restrooms will be completed by the second week in October. The first floor restrooms will not begin until after March 1.

Multipurpose Room Floor Replacement: The project is complete; new chairs have been ordered. Fran mentioned that the stoppers on the bottoms of the chairs are leaving black marks on the floor.

ID Office: Sixty percent of the files have been completed onto the digital platform. There will be a fee assessed and a 48-hour notice if residents require hard copies of past documents. Desktop scanners have been installed for digital filing.

Shuffleboard awning: Prep work for the awning was completed on October 2, anticipating a November 1 installation date and will also begin prep work on the Clubhouse awning.

Community Announcements

End of Summer BBQ will be held on October 20 in the Party Room from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.; tickets $10 and includes a buffet menu and entertainment. Tickets can be purchased online or at the Box Office.

Halloween Dance: The Halloween Dance will be held on October 28 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $12 and include pizza, refreshments, entertainment and prizes for best costume. Tickets can be purchased online or at the Box Office.

Toys for Tots: The U.S. Marine Corps Reserve is collecting unopened, new and unwrapped toys for the Toys for Tots program. Collection bins are located in front of the Staff and ID Offices. The deadline to participate is December 11.

Walmart Flu Shots:

Walmart will be at CVE on October 18, November 8, December 13 and January 10 and 24. Most insurances will be accepted. Please pick your date and call the Staff Office to get on the list.

Charlie mentioned that the installation of the 40 additional spaces near the Clubhouse and Diner is great but during a heavy rainstorm, the area gets flooded. Can anything be done to improve the drainage behind the Clubhouse? Dan responded that he has contacted both Five Star and A-Z Plumbing, and we will most likely need to trench that area but it is being addressed.

Fran asked if there is an outdoor movie planned in December. Rita mentioned that it is planned for Thursday, December 28; the movie has not yet been selected.

Fran mentioned that at a

Recreation workshop, the Committee reviewed the Recreation handbook and made corrections to it. The corrections still have not been made on the website where the handbook is located. During that workshop, Rita suggested that an addendum sheet be available in the ID Office on some of the newer and more important changes/updates since the handbook cannot be reprinted. Dan replied that the handbook has been reprinted for new owners.

Rita stated that she is noticing more and more theft around the Community. In one of her buildings, the bulletin boards walked away. She mentioned that if you see someone taking something that doesn't belong to them, call Security. If you have guests and you bring them to the pools, you are responsible for them.

New Business: None

Old Business: None

VILLAGE MEETING MINUTES

Joint COOCVE Executive Committee and Council of Area Chairs - October 11, 2017

COOCVE President Charlie Parness called the meeting to order at 9:30 a.m. Charlie led the Pledge of Allegiance and a Moment of Silence. Charlie announced that a quorum was present.

Minutes

Charlie asked for approval to waive the reading of the minutes from the July 12 meeting and approve them as printed in The Reporter. The motion was carried unanimously by a show of hands.

Treasurer's Report -

No report

President's Report

- Charlie Parness

The first item to be voted on is the confirmation of the members of the COOCVE Election Committee. Per Sec. 8.4 of the COOCVE Bylaws: "...the President shall, with the approval of the Executive Committee, appoint a COOCVE Election Committee (of which no member shall be a candidate for office) consisting of ten members from Associations in good standing. The Committee will elect its Chairman." The names of the ten appointees are: Claire Eskin, Susan Giordano, Pat Bidol-Padva, Judy Grossman, Carol Carr, Cecelia Mendez, Sheila Pascar, Sandy Parness, Norma Weiner, Ronnie Baimel. Rita Pickar moved, and it was seconded, to approve the appointment of the above mentioned ten residents to the Committee. Motion carried unanimously by a voice vote.

Per Sec. 7.5 of the COOCVE Bylaws: The Board of Directors shall hold regular meetings. The President, with the advice and consent of the Executive Committee, shall decide when meetings will be held. Charlie stated that the November COOCVE Board of Directors meeting will be held on November 21 during the week of Thanksgiving. Because many of the Board members will be away, Charlie proposed that the November Board meeting be rescheduled to Wednesday, November 29. The time and place remain the same. Bob Gravatt moved, and it was seconded, to reschedule the November COOCVE BOD meeting to Wednesday, November 29. Motion carried unanimously by a voice vote.

Charlie again asked that residents consider running, during the January election, for one of the open positions on the CVE Master Management Board, the COOCVE Recreation Committee or the COOCVE Board. COOCVE has ten open positions for the election: President, 1st/2nd/3rd Vice Presidents, Treasurer, Secretary, Controller and 1st/2nd/3rd Sergeants-at-Arms. Recreation Committee has four open positions for the election with each having a two-year term. Master Management has five open positions with the top three vote-getters earning three-year terms and the next two vote-getters earning one-year terms.

He stated that many residents who attend this meeting are already volunteers. He asked them to step up and assume greater leadership positions for the betterment of the Village.

All new Association Board members must obtain Board Certification within 90 days of an election. Charlie has arranged for a Board Certification Seminar to be held on March 14, 2018 in the Clubhouse Party Room from 2 to 4 p.m. This seminar will be conducted by Bill and Susan Raphan. Charlie stated that some time ago, COOCVE won a major lawsuit and is now being sued from two other associations for similar reasons.

Charlie then turned the meeting over to Sylvia Smaldone, Chairperson for the Council of Area Chairs.

Chairperson of the Council of Area Chairs -

Sylvia Smaldone
Sylvia thanked everyone for coming to the meeting and thanked MM for the coffee.

Toll Brothers - Golf Course

Executives at Toll Brothers provided the Area Chairs with an overview of their company and the site plan for the golf course on the property of CVE Deerfield Beach. They explained that the course is owned by Fairway Investors and has been vacant for many years and is broken up into five different parcels. They spoke specifically about parcel number five; adjacent to Military Trail and can be closed off from the balance of the Village by landscaping and walls. Parcels one through four (approximately 60 acres) would be given to CVE. The site plan would consist of two to four-bedroom townhomes. The end units would have two-car garages, and the middle units would have one. The square footage of the homes would range from 1700 sq. ft. to over 2000 sq. ft. with a price range in the $300,000. There would be five, seven and nine cluster units, all two-story levels, under an HOA with Rules and Regulations. This community would be an all-age community with no restrictions to age and pets. With regards to security: An eight-foot wall with landscaping would be constructed which is complementary to what CVE has now, with a controlled access entryway located on Goolsby Road. There will be two phases of construction, horizontal and vertical. During the first phase - horizontal/land: this will be when all the buffers are installed - berm, swells, fences and landscaping.

Master Management - Kelly Hampton

Kelly mentioned that MM held their monthly Board meeting yesterday, October 10, and many topics were covered. Topics included the coupon rate in 2018, new projects, bus schedule, hurricane clean-up and an update on the perimeter wall and Gatehouses. She urged residents to view the video and read the minutes. Gene asked the Area Chairs to spread the word that Bus #48 leaves the Clubhouse every 45 minutes and stops in front of Bank of America.

Recreation - Dan Johnson

Dan mentioned to the Area Chairs that BJ's will be on site November 2 to sell a 13-month membership in room GP-A 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Flu shots will be provided by Walmart. There are five dates - the first date is October 18; please make an appointment at the Staff Office; no walk-ins will be allowed. The End-of-Summer BBQ will be held on October 20 in the Party Room. Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at the Staff Office. The Halloween Dance will be held on October 28; tickets are $12 and can be purchased at the Staff Office or online at www.tickets.cveevents.com. Beginning next month (November), Dinner on the Town will be using charter buses, and the cost will increase to $10.

District 3 Commissioner - Bernie Parness

The Commissioner thanked MM on their work during the hurricane to ensure that all roads in CVE were cleared. He also stated that he will be fighting with FPL to upgrade the system and bury the lines in CVE and urged all residents to sign the FPL petition.

Seacrest - Nothing to request and no questions.

East Coast - Nothing to request and no questions.

First Service Residential - Nothing to request and no questions.

Election Committee - Pat Bidol-Padva

Pat mentioned that there are many open positions in MM, Recreation and COOCVE for the 2018 Election. She mentioned that there are yellow flyers in the back of the room, both in English and French, and asked that Area Chairs post these flyers in their buildings so that there is a good representation of all the open positions. Applications may be picked up beginning October 15, 2017, from the Master Management Office, the CVE Staff Office in the Clubhouse and at the COOCVE Office. The Meet the Candidates Forum will be held on January 4.

Amending Documents Committee - Pat Bidol-Padva

Pat mentioned that a draft document is being reviewed by the Committee to present to the attorney that has been selected. On November 15 at the Joint COOCVE meeting and on November 29 at the COOCVE BOD, both at 9:30 a.m. the attorney will be presenting her findings.

City Commissioner - Mark Bogan

Commissioner Bogan mentioned that if there is an issue with buses, please let him know how he can help. He also mentioned that there is a new Senior Exemption on real estate taxes; those who make $28,500 or less, not including Social Security, can qualify. Residents should check the Broward Appraiser's website.

Areas:

Markham: Mentioned that Waste Management is not picking up bulk trash and it is building up. Sylvia replied that they are not, and residents were not supposed to put bulk items out. Kelly stated that she has sent out numerous messages asking residents not to put bulk items out as Waste Management was over-extended picking up hurricane debris. On Friday, October 13, Waste Management will resume bulk pick-up.

Oakridge: Asked Commissioner Bogan if he can speak to FPL about getting the lights working again in the loop throughout CVE. Kelly stated that she will forward to Commissioner Bogan a list of lights that are out.

Upminster: Michael thanked everyone MM, Recreation and COOCVE for all their hard work during the hurricane as well as our service providers.

Bay Management Message

By DAN JOHNSON, Executive Director/Bay Management

I am happy to announce the hiring of our new Tennis Coach, Ron Perry. Ron is replacing Mark Joffey who relocated to North Carolina this past summer.

Ron Perry was born and raised in Washington, D.C. He started playing tennis at the age of nine. He played collegiate tennis at Morris Brown University in Atlanta, GA. He started his coaching career with the Reebok Youth Tennis Academy as a part-time job at the age of 24. As a D.C. Fire Fighter, he reached the rank of Lieutenant while also playing local tournaments and teaching tennis. In 1996, he relocated to Florida with his 12-year-old daughter who he coached and trained since she was four years old. She went on to play on the WTA Tour for 11 years, reaching a high of #40 in the world and the top 100 in doubles. He managed and coached her until she retired in 2010.

His tennis career includes a State Championship, Father and Daughter National Championship, receiving a Gold Ball from the USTA with a ranking of #2 and winning several tournaments in Florida, reaching the Round of 16 in the National Men's Championship.

He also coached his son who, at the age of 16, was ranked in the top 20 in the Florida Men's Open. He went on to coach and train several college players. He managed and directed his own tennis club in Vera Beach, FL. He was also the Director/Head Professional of several other clubs including country clubs, also serving on the Indian River Tennis Foundation that gave young tennis players scholarships to attend college and play in tournaments. Tennis has been a passion of his for the last 34 years and includes teaching adults, juniors, beginners as well as advanced players.

By far the most popular and widely read segment of our publication is the Letter-to-the Editor columns. We encourage letters that enable our readers to "sound off" on any subject. However, we will not print letters from the same person on the same subject in two consecutive issues. Also, letters must be from CVE residents, must be signed and, if possible, type-written, double-spaced. Please include your phone number.

CVE Clubhouse Library News

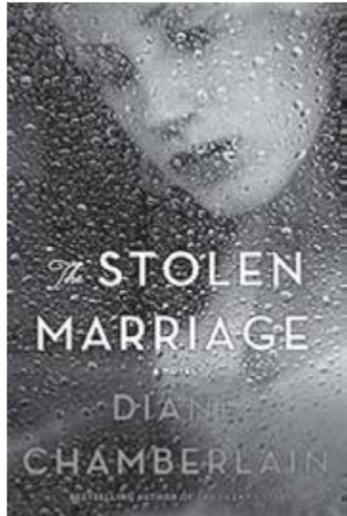

By CINDY SCIACCA, Board of Directors

Gradually, the Snowbirds are returning. The library will become busier and busier. Remember, you can reserve any new release, whether it is regular print or large print. Just join the Friends of the Library for $3 per year and you can reserve a book. If you are not interested in new releases, but want to read your all-time favorites, you just need to show us your CVE ID card. Newspapers can be read in the library or reading room, just leave your CVE ID at the desk. Donations of books (in good condition) and items for the boutique are always gratefully accepted. If you would like to volunteer to work in the library, we have a few openings that have become available (year-round residents preferred), please contact Andrea Forray at 214 995-4848.

Some of the new books that we have recently received or will be receiving shortly in large print and/or regular print are as follows:

Enigma by Catherine Coulter -When Agent Dillon Savich saves Kara Moody from a seemingly crazy man, he doesn't realize he will soon be facing a scientist who wants to live forever and is using John Doe to help him. But when the scientist, Lister Maddox, loses him, he ups the stakes and targets another to take his experiments to the next level.

Stolen Marriage by Diane Chamberlain -It is 1944. Pregnant, alone, and riddled with guilt, 23-year-old Tess DeMello abruptly gives up her budding career as a nurse and ends her engagement to the love of her life, unable to live a lie. Instead, she turns to the baby's father for help and agrees to marry him, moving to the small, rural town of Hickory, North Carolina. Tess's new husband, Henry Kraft, is a secretive man who often stays out all night, hides money from his new wife, and shows her no affection. Tess quickly realizes she's trapped in a strange and loveless marriage with no way out.

Blackout by Marc Elsberg -When the lights go out one night, no one panics. Not yet. The lights always come back on soon, don't they? Surely, it's a glitch, a storm, a malfunction. But something seems strange about this night. Across Europe, controllers watch in disbelief as electrical grids collapse. There is no power, anywhere.

In the Midst of Winter by Isabel Allende - begins with a minor traffic accident—which becomes the catalyst for an unexpected and moving love story between two people who thought they were deep into the winter of their lives. Richard Bowmaster—a 60-year-old human rights scholar—hits the car of Evelyn Ortega—a young, undocumented immigrant from Guatemala—in the middle of a snowstorm in Brooklyn. What at first seems just a small inconvenience takes an unforeseen and far more serious turn when Evelyn turns up at the professor's house seeking help. At a loss, the professor asks his tenant Lucia Maraz—a 62-year-old lecturer from Chile—for her advice. These three very different people are brought together in a mesmerizing story that moves from present-day Brooklyn to Guatemala in the recent past to 1970s Chile and Brazil, sparking the beginning of a long-overdue love story between Richard and Lucia.

Every Breath You Take by Mary Higgins Clark - Laurie Moran's professional life is a success—her television show Under Suspicion is a hit, both in the ratings and its record of solving cold cases. Three years ago, Virginia Wakeling, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and one of the museum's most generous donors, was found in the snow, after being thrown from the museum's roof on the night of its most celebrated fundraiser, the Met Gala. The leading suspect then and now is her much younger boyfriend and personal trainer, Ivan Gray. As the Under Suspicion crew pries into the lives of a super wealthy real estate family with secrets to hide, danger mounts for several witnesses—and for Laurie.

Deep Freeze by John Sanford - Virgil knows the town of Tripton, Minnesota, a little too well. A few years back, he investigated the corrupt—and, as it turned out, homicidal—local school board, and now the town's back in view with more alarming news: A woman's been found dead, frozen in a block of ice. There's a possibility that it might be connected to a high school class of twenty years ago that has a mid-winter reunion coming up, and so, wrapping his coat a little tighter, Virgil begins to dig into twenty years' worth of traumas, feuds, and bad blood. In the process, one thing becomes increasingly clear to him. It's true what they say: High school is murder.

Crimes of the Father by Thomas Keneally -Sent away from his native Australia to Canada due to his radical preaching against the Vietnam War, apartheid, and other hot button issues, Father Frank Docherty made for himself a satisfying career as a psychologist and monk. When he returns to Australia to lecture on the future of celibacy and the Catholic Church, he is unwittingly pulled into the lives of two people—a young man, via his suicide note, and an ex-nun—both of whom claim to have been sexually abused by a prominent monsignor.

Tell Tale by Jeffrey Archer - A decade ago, Jeffrey Archer published his first collection of short stories. His second collection of short stories gives us a fascinating, exciting and sometimes poignant insight into the people he has met, the stories he has come across and the countries he has visited during the past ten years. Find out what happens to the hapless young detective from Naples who travels to an Italian hillside town to find out Who Killed the Mayor? and the pretentious schoolboy in A Road to Damascus, whose discovery of the origins of his father's wealth changes his life in the most profound way. There are more tales, in addition to these, that you will find most enjoyable.

What is Elder Abuse?

Each year hundreds of thousands of older persons are abused, neglected, and exploited. Many victims are people who are older, frail, and vulnerable and cannot help themselves and depend on others to meet their most basic needs. Abusers of older adults are both women and men, and may be family members, friends, or "trusted others."

In general, elder abuse is a term referring to any knowing, intentional, or negligent act by a caregiver or any other person that causes harm or a serious risk of harm to a vulnerable adult. Legislatures in all 50 states have passed some form of elder abuse prevention laws. Laws and definitions of terms vary considerably from one state to another, but broadly defined, abuse may be:

- Physical Abuse - inflicting physical pain or injury on a senior, e.g. slapping, bruising, or restraining by physical or chemical means.
- Sexual Abuse - non-consensual sexual contact of any kind.
- Neglect - the failure by those responsible to provide food, shelter, health care, or protection for a vulnerable elder.
- Exploitation - the illegal taking, misuse, or concealment of funds, property, or assets of a senior for someone else's benefit.
- Emotional Abuse - inflicting mental pain, anguish, or distress on an elder person through verbal or nonverbal acts, e.g. humiliating, intimidating, or threatening.
- Abandonment - desertion of a vulnerable elder by anyone who has assumed the responsibility for care or custody of that person.
- Self-neglect - characterized as the failure of a person to perform essential, self-care tasks and that such failure threatens his/her own health or safety.

What are the warning signs of elder abuse?

While one sign does not necessarily indicate abuse, some tell-tale signs that there could be a problem are:

- Bruises, pressure marks, broken bones, abrasions, and burns.
- Unexplained withdrawal from normal activities.
- Sudden changes in financial situations may be the result of exploitation.
- Bedsores, unattended medical needs, poor hygiene, and unusual weight loss are indicators of possible neglect.

Most importantly, be alert. The suffering is often in silence. If you notice changes in a senior's personality or behavior, you should start to question what is going on.

Remember, it is not your role to verify that abuse is occurring, only to alert others of your suspicions.

To report elder abuse 24/7 call 1-800-962-2873.

A Message from Marty Kiar, Your Property Appraiser

Broward County Property Appraiser Marty Kiar

As our community recovers from Hurricane Irma, many people may have experienced storm damage to their properties. There are provisions in the law that pertain to your property assessment should your property sustain catastrophic damage due to a hurricane, fire or other calamity. Examples of structural damage include significant roof damage, damage to load-bearing walls or damage to the foundation of your home. While downed trees, fences, roof leaks and missing shingles/tiles may be difficult or expensive to repair, they do not affect the structural integrity of the home or make the home uninhabitable.

If you have sustained catastrophic structural damage to your property, it is important you let our office know so we can arrange for one of our appraisers to inspect the property. We have created a simple online form to make this process easy for you. The online Hurricane Irma Catastrophic Structural Damage Report form is located on our website at www.bcpa.net or <http://www.bcpa.net/DamageForm.asp>

It is important to know the Property Appraiser's Office cannot adjust your 2017 property assessment or taxes as a result of damage sustained by Hurricane Irma. Damage to your property as a result of Hurricane Irma may impact your 2018 property assessment assuming the repairs have not been completed by January 1, 2018.

2017 TRIM Season

Our office has just completed the 2017 TRIM season having mailed 748,108 real property and 23,159 tangible personal property TRIM Notices to property owners and businesses in Broward County. After mailing these TRIM Notices, we assisted over 20,000 property owners seeking information about the TRIM Notice or late filing of exemptions.

The deadline for petitioning the 2017 property assessment has passed. Anyone seeking to file a 2017 value appeal must contact the Value Adjustment Board directly or use the <https://bcvab.broward.org/axiaweb2017/> for details on good-cause late filing. Since the September late filing deadline has passed, we are unable to accept any more 2017 exemption applications regardless of any good reason for missing the late filing deadline.

Marty Kiar and family

If you purchased your property in 2017, you can pre-file for 2018 Homestead Exemption at any time. You can apply online at <https://bcpasecure.net/homesteadonline/web/index.aspx>, in our main office or at one of our many outreach community events. Our Outreach Community calendar available on our website lists all the events; we will have a representative available to assist residents with exemption filing or other related matters.

If my office can ever be of assistance to you, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at 954.357.6904 or by email at martykiar@bcpa.net.

Take care,
Marty Kiar

Cyber security affects almost every aspect of daily life, and the month of October is designated as National Cyber Security Awareness Month. NCSAM is a collaborative effort between U.S. Department of Homeland Security, the National Cyber Security Alliance and industry, designed to ensure that consumers have the information they need to stay safer and more secure online. It is a time for Internet users to reflect on the safety measures they already have in place and find new ways to improve them.

The underlying message this year is STOP.THINK.CONNECT.™ This campaign is based on simple, actionable advice that anyone can follow:

STOP - make sure security measures are in place;

THINK - about the consequences of your actions and behaviors online; and CONNECT - enjoy the Internet. Weekly themes address a variety of cyber safety concerns and offer easy-to-follow tips and a variety of resources.

Additional cyber safety information, easy-to-follow tips and resources can be found at stopthinkconnect.org.

Recognizing and Fighting Cybercrime

Consumers must remain diligent and careful to avoid falling victim to one of the many forms of cybercrime, including: identity theft, financial fraud, stalking, online bullying or hacking. In 2014, over 17 million people were victims of identity theft, with an average loss per theft of $3,931.

Internet users should be aware of the most frequent cyber threats and know how to combat them.

Identity Theft - the illegal use of someone else's personal information to obtain money or credit. Be on the lookout for bank withdrawals or credit charges you did not authorize or for bills for products or services you did not buy.

Phishing or Imposter Scams - online communications or emails designed to lure individuals to provide sensitive information. Be wary of any unsolicited messages that urge you to act immediately, wire money, offer something that sounds too good to be true or ask for personal information.

Malware and Viruses - malicious software designed to gain access or damage your computer system. Update your security software, web browser and operating system often.

Ransomware - a type of malware that prevents or limits users from accessing their system, unless a ransom is paid to restore access. Protect against data loss by backing up your files and keeping them safe on a physical storage device.

The Department of Homeland Security recommends these simple tips for battling cybercrime:

Keep a clean machine. Regularly update the security software and operating system on your computer and mobile devices.

When in doubt, throw it out. Stop and think before opening attachments or clicking links in emails. Do not open an email if it looks suspicious.

Use stronger authentication. You can opt to enable stronger authentication when available. A stronger authentication helps verify a user has authorized access to an online account.

Kids and the Internet

A 2016 study by the National Cyber Security Alliance on teens' online behaviors found that 28 percent of the teens participating reported that their household had no rules about their use of Internet-connected devices. Sixty percent of online teens ages 13 to 17 reported that they had created online accounts that their parents knew nothing about.

Below are some tips to help ensure your kids are safely surfing the web:

Be positively engaged: Pay attention to and know what sites your kids are visiting online.

Know the protection features of the websites and software your children use:

All major Internet service providers have tools to help you manage your child's online experience, e.g. selecting approved websites, monitoring the amount of time spent online, or limiting who can contact them.

Review privacy settings: Decide which privacy settings on social networking sites, cell phones, and other social tools are appropriate for your child's age and experience.

Explain the implications: Help your child understand that anything they share on the Internet can be easily copied and pasted elsewhere, and is almost impossible to take back.

Stranger danger: Help your child understand that not everyone is truthful about their identity online, and stress the importance of not sharing personal information.

Be aware of all the ways your child can connect to the Internet: Phones, tablets, gaming system, and even TVs have become connected to the Internet, so it's important to act responsibly.

Have You Been a Victim?

In the wake of the recent Equifax data breach, it is important for consumers to know what to do if they suspect they have been a victim of cybercrime.

File a report with the local authorities.

File a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission.

Keep and record all evidence of the incident and its suspected source.

Monitor your credit reports and bank accounts for unauthorized transactions.

Consider placing a credit freeze or fraud alert on your files.

Reporting cybercrime can help keep the Internet safer for everyone.

The Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services is the state's clearinghouse for consumer complaints, protection, and information. Consumers who believe fraud has taken place can contact the department's consumer protection and information hotline by calling 1-800-HELP-FLA (435-7352) or, for Spanish speakers, 1-800-FL-AYUDA (352-9832) or visit us online at [FloridaConsumerHelp.com]FloridaConsumerHelp.com.

Deerfield Progressive Forum Begins 40th Year of Presentations

By PHYLLIS MANSFIELD and GILDA BRODSKY

Last year was another terrific year for the Deerfield Progressive Forum. Our speakers were super; we learned a lot and we were entertained by the musical duo, Pink Slip, for our final meeting. We ended the year with our traditional bagel party. Now, we are looking forward to another season of informative and thought-provoking events (talks, films and music).

Our new season begins with a film on December 8 and a talk on December 15 on the place of labor unions in today's society. We then continue each Saturday morning from 10 a.m. - noon, starting on January 6, 2018 with a talk on Facing Mortality, a topic relevant to all of us in CVE.

Our speakers, representing all areas of the country, are well-known in their fields of expertise. They often seek us out because of our reputation for being an audience of well-informed, politically astute and lively participants. Speakers present for approximately one hour and after a short break, reply to questions from our audience for the second hour.

Here's a preview of this year's presentations: We're having talks on China, Cuba, Is This the End of Public Education? and The Possible Rise of Fascism in the U.S. We end the season with a musical treat by Anne Feeney, an accomplished folk musician and singer-songwriter.

Watch for our ads and articles in each month's issue of the Reporter. We look forward to having you join us! You won't be disappointed! We meet in the Activity Center Room A near the West Gate and Le Club.

Variety Night Club Debuts

Starting Monday, November 20 from 8:30 p.m. to 10 p.m., Room GP-A.

Impersonators and more.

Each act will be limited to ten minutes.

Rock & Roll Club

Text and Photos by DEBBIE JUNIPER

On Wednesday, October 18, the Rock & Roll Club had a special guest, Top Gun Music, Vince and Joyce, a duo team entertained us with songs from the 60s, 70s and then some. Vince also did a great Louis Armstrong impression and his partner Joyce sang popular songs including The Wonder of You. Vince ended with an Elvis song in iconic gold lame jacket. They got the crowd up on their dancing feet and everyone enjoyed the evening.

Courage to Live

The Bravery of the Angels of Bataan inspired U.S. Troops to keep fighting.

This Article originally appeared in Soldiers magazine online.

They called themselves the Battling Belles of Bataan, but to the GIs fighting a desperate and doomed battle for the Philippines in 1941 and 1942, and later to their fellow civilians' internees, they were, simply angels.

The Angels of Bataan and Corregidor, as they're best known, were a group of 88 Army nurses and 12 Navy nurses stationed in the Philippines in early December 1941. "They were trailblazers for women in the military, for the Army Nurse Corps," said nurse and ANC historian Lt. Col. Nancy Cantrell. "They set the example for the rest of the services. Their story told the world...that women are tough, they can serve in combat and they can survive."

The nurses hadn't received any military or survival training and held only relative rank. Most were the equivalent of second lieutenants, albeit with far lower pay, and were universally addressed as Miss.

The majority had volunteered for the assignment, according to Elizabeth Norman, a professor of nursing history at New York University and author of We Band of Angels: The Untold Story of American Nurses Trapped on Bataan by the Japanese. Manila was considered the pearl of the Orient, and they expected to meet men and have fun. Duty was light and they sunbathed, played golf and tennis, and danced under the stars.

Less than three weeks later, on Dec. 8 (Dec. 7, Hawaii time), the nurses awoke to the news that Pearl Harbor had been attacked, and they were stunned. Fearing the Philippines would be the next Japanese target, commanders issued the nurses steel helmets and gas masks. At 8:19 a.m., Japanese bombs began to fall. The attack was devastating, destroying all but one of the U.S. airplanes in the Philippines and leaving thousands of dead or wounded.

"The hospital was bedlam - amputations, dressings, intravenous (sic), blood transfusions, shock, death," 2nd Lt. Ruth Straub wrote in her diary (as excerpted by Norman). She "worked all night, hopped over banisters and slid under the hospital during raids." Her fiancé, she would learn a week later, was killed in the attack.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur ordered a retreat to the inhospitable jungles of the Bataan Peninsula and the supposedly impregnable island of Corregidor at its tip. There, they would make a stand and wait for reinforcements. The reinforcements never arrived.

A makeshift hospital ship, manned by one of the Army nurses, managed to sneak out, but the most gravely wounded couldn't be moved and were left behind in Manila with 11 Navy nurses. Meanwhile, between Christmas and New Year's Eve, the Army nurses crossed the bay under heavy fire, becoming, Norman wrote, "the first group of American military nurses sent onto the battlefield for duty." They were already the first women in U.S. military history to wear fatigues and combat boots.

Hospital 1 on Bataan initially consisted of 29 bamboo and grass sheds, and doctors and nurses could barely keep up with the casualties from the unrelenting air raids and fierce, often hand-to-hand, combat. In one 24-hour period - Jan. 16, 1942 - they performed 187 major surgeries, according to Norman.

Hospital 2 was farther inland, and in the open air. There was no protection from the mosquitos, so malaria and dengue fever were endemic, affecting everyone from the wounded to healthy soldiers to the nurses themselves, while ever-present flies contaminated food and water with dysentery and other parasites.

Food, contaminated or not, was scarce. Infantrymen were fighting on 1,000 calories a day by late February - a quarter of the nutrition they needed to stay in fighting shape. They ate the cavalry horses, water buffalo, even monkeys, while the sick and exhausted nurses forced themselves to work. One senior nurse, bedridden from malaria, even set up a cot in the middle of her ward and continued directing her staff, Norman wrote.

Two of the nurses were injured with shrapnel when the Japanese bombed Hospital 1 for the second time, and quickly went back to work. Watching women endure the same danger and hunger seemed to inspire the troops to continue the fight, Norman wrote, but by April, the enemy was only miles from the hospitals. On April 8, 1942, Lt. Gen. Jonathan Skinny Wainwright, new commander of the U.S. Army in the Philippines, ordered the nurses to the relative safety of Corregidor.

They didn't want to leave helpless, sick and wounded men to fend for themselves. They were nurses and their sacred duty was to stay with their 8,800 patients, but orders were orders. They escaped by dodging sniper fire, mines and explosions in whatever buses and boats were available.

The Japanese then used the hospital patients as human shields. They also force-marched the ambulatory soldiers (wounded or not) some 60 miles through the rugged terrain and heat during the infamous Bataan Death March. Anyone who fell behind was killed; historians estimate that nearly 20,000 Americans and Filipinos perished. The nurses felt they had abandoned their patients, and Norman said it haunted them for the rest of their lives.

Their new hospital was underground in the dank, hot, airless Malinta Tunnel. It continuously shook from bombs and artillery fire, Gates later said. "The ...tunnels were jammed with wounded. Every other patient they brought in was someone we'd known personally. That was hard to take." And once again, food and medical supplies quickly ran low.

The nurses saw everything from childbirth to heart attacks, and Gates was diagnosed with breast cancer and underwent a mastectomy while in camp. There were diphtheria, chicken pox and tuberculosis outbreaks as well. But as Japan started to lose the war, the prisoners received less food and fewer privileges. Starting in 1944, the biggest problems were symptoms of malnutrition and starvation, especially beriberi, which leads to swollen, painful limbs and is caused by thiamine deficiency. The nurses were sick and starving too, and could do little for their patients but make them comfortable and watch as they starved to death - as many as five a day by early 1945, when they were forced to live on just 700 calories a day.

"It appeared to take more courage to live than to die," Bradley wrote. Fortunately,

Allied troops arrived in time to save them from starvation and execution, which the Japanese were rumored to be planning.

Just after dark on the night of Feb. 3, the nurses heard gunfire in the streets of Manila, and the 1st Cavalry Division and 44th Tank Battalion barreled through the gates. The internees went wild, screaming and crying with joy, singing God Bless America, Gates remembered.

"We could hardly talk to the men. Everyone was weeping with joy and we were almost unable to believe that it had finally happened." The Navy nurses at Los Banos were liberated February 22.

She learned that many died fairly young, and that they all had chronic gastrointestinal and dental problems, as well as emotional and post-traumatic stress symptoms. Gates' relatives, for example, said she was never the same. She tried to commit suicide in the early 1950s, and died from breast cancer in 1970 at the age of 55.

Still, the nurses didn't regret their wartime service. Although Palmer admitted in the 1990s that she "had not successfully come to terms with everything that happened in those years," she said she "learned some valuable lessons, a great deal about human nature under extreme conditions and the recognition that little is gained and nothing resolved by war."

Whatever the Angels of Bataan and Corregidor may have thought of their service, Cantrell said, "These women are my heroes. They are our heroes as nurses. I think that some of the things we do today...are because of women like them."

A Day I Will Never Forget

TEXT by JULES KESSELMAN, PHOTOS by PETER KESSELMAN

On Armed Forces Day, May 20, 2017, I was fortunate enough to finally be chosen to go on the Honor Flight to Washington, D.C. to see the different memorials dedicated to the different conflicts. I am a Korean War veteran who served our Country from 1951 to 1953. My good friend Paul Herschberger was also on the flight. My son Peter volunteered to be my Guardian (escort) for the trip. He arrived from Simi Valley, CA the day before the flight.

We arrived at MIA at 4:30 a.m. and I was immediately ushered in an honor chair (wheelchair) to check in while my son parked the car. After checking in and pictures taken, we had coffee and snacks.

Our plane from Miami Air took off at 6:30 to a shower from the water cannons from the Miami Fire Department honoring us. We had a hot breakfast on the plane.

Upon arriving at Baltimore-Washington International Airport (BWI), we had a police escort in the front and rear of our four buses to Washington. We went through every red light for the whole 45-minute trip. Our first stop was at the WWII Memorial. This was the largest and most beautiful of the day. A short 15-minute walk took us to the Korean War Memorial that was dedicated to the conflict I was involved in. Though I saw no action being a teletype operator, I was in an air-ground liaison outfit supplying air support for our troops. Mistakes could not be made typing a wrong coordinate for then our own troops might be bombed. I was in charge of a shift of six men; a very nerve-racking job.

We boarded the buses for lunch and the next stop, Arlington National Cemetery and the Changing of the Guard; a very impressive ceremony. We had the best seats to view this ceremony. The guards patrol the Tomb of the Unknown, 24/7, 365 days a year. We had a contingent of service men and women with us loading and unloading the honor chairs at every stop. Without them or the police escort, we couldn't get from place to place in record time or on schedule. I cannot say enough about how well we were treated.

Next, after a 30-minute ride, we arrived at the Iwo Jima Marine Corps Memorial where we took a group photo with and without our Guardians. Our day was ending and we were off to BMI with three police escorts. The third escort stopped all traffic while we sped through all the red lights on the hour ride to the airport and our 2 ½ hour flight back to Miami.

After a hot meal aboard the aircraft, we had mail call where every veteran received a packet of mail addressed to them. I received about 100 letters, many from school children and from congressmen and other just plain people thanking us for the service to our Country. I also received mail from my three children. When we arrived in Miami, we were again welcomed by the fire department saluting our plane with their water cannons.

The most rewarding part of the day was about to begin. We were wheeled by our Guardians through the throngs of people shaking our hands and thanking us for our service. Over 500 people were on hand to greet us. It was an outpouring of gratitude for our service to be greeted by so many people. There were generals, school children and just plain people. I don't know how many hands I shook. We exited to a police-bagpipe band and then out to pick up my car.

We arrived back in the CVE East Gate with ten minutes to spare – 9:50 p.m. before the gate closed. It was a day that I will never forget and will remember forever. I cannot say enough to the volunteers of the Honor Flight for the way we were treated.

Jules and son Peter.

The Green Flash: Fact or Fiction

By MICHAEL ROSENZWEIG, Editor-in-Chief

So, there I was, the Day-working third Assistant Engineer aboard the S.S. American Lark, a 1,000-foot long U.S. flag container ship operated by United States Lines bound for the far east. After leaving Port Elizabeth, NJ, we stopped in Charleston, Savannah, Jacksonville, Colon & Balboa Panama, Long Beach, San Francisco, Honolulu, Guam, Kao Shung, Hong Kong and then return.

It was a peaceful calm morning in the Western Pacific. The Lark was steaming due east on our return voyage at 21 knots. I was awake before dawn preparing for another work day at sea in the U.S. Merchant Marine. Sipping on a cup of coffee and staring through my forward-facing porthole I could see the sky brightening preparing for sunrise. Suddenly, a bright GREEN beacon of light flashed on the horizon! I think to myself: a buoy? Impossible! It's the middle of the Pacific! Another ship? Not likely. Then not more than a second or two after seeing the bright GREEN light, the rim of the yellow sun breaks above the distant horizon.

Not having access to the Internet or reference books on board the Lark at the time, I asked a few of the old-timers who had worked at sea for many years about this GREEN flash phenomenon. One engineer was very familiar with the GREEN flash and tried to explain it to me as follows: It can occur immediately before sunrise or immediately after sunset when atmospheric conditions are just right; calm air, lower atmosphere warmer than usual, usually at sea, but can also be visible on land. It has something to do with the earth's atmosphere acting like a prism and refracting the sun's light into the colors of the rainbow. For some reason, GREEN becomes the color that is most visible when this refraction occurs.

After observing the GREEN flash for the first time on the Lark, I spent many days watching the horizon at sunrise and sunset, but never saw it again. So, I was fortunate to observe this real amazing natural phenomenon one time. If any of our readers have ever had a similar experience with the GREEN flash in their travels, tell us your story. It may get published!

The Truth and Nothing But

By MICHAEL ROUTBURG

Tide and Time wait for no Man. is a phrase which predates modern English and is attributed (first) to a St. Marher in 1225 CE.

It has a lot of inferences into political incorrectness (but maybe 1225 CE was a politically incorrect era).

Let's try to fix it ... if we can.

First, the phrase Man is sexist – let's go with Man and Woman.

Tide and Time wait for no Man or Woman.

Man, Women leave out the unborn – let's go with Man, Woman, and Fetus.

Tide and Time wait for no Man, Woman, or Fetus.

Politically correct would also mean we would have to be gender neutral (at what point do we know the gender of the fetus anyway?)

Tide and Time wait for no

Man, Woman, Gender Neutral Person, or Fetus.

We have reached the tipping point (and gone over the edge) with political correctness. It would be funny if it wasn't so stupidly applied with religious zeal and vigor to almost all venues of life. I heard it is now a crime in Canada to address a person in the wrong gender. Where will it end?

Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks (a past member of the British Parliament and past Chief Rabbi of England) was lecturing on the Two Traditions of Human Freedom – one being the American Definition from our Constitution ... "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." and the other being the French concept ...

"Unity, indivisibility of the Republic; liberty, equality, brotherhood (fraternity) or death." He states that while both are models of freedom; the American model is based on Judea-Christian morality, while the French model is based on a governmental morality. So, if the government strives to impose a French model of freedom into America, the conflict between Freedom, as governmentally defined, may be at odds with the constitutional freedom endowed by our Creator which America is based upon.

Freedom is no longer the freedom endowed by our Creator (as defined by a higher power), but freedom by the power, and consensus, of our government.

This is a very tricky issue:

On one hand, desegregation was imposed by our government to break down social injustice. (Note: This application of Freedom agrees with our basic American morality.)

But, on the other hand, the government defining what is required of religious practice (changing the definition of marriage - which is a religious issue) is pushing hard the other way.

When I was in college, I remember an exposé on the NEWS. Some young reporter had filed to get an ambulance license for his Volkswagen Beetle, and proudly displayed the license on the 6 p.m. NEWS which he then stated allowed him to run through red lights with a flashing light attached to the roof of his car. When the head of the licensing department was asked to comment he said, "We never had anyone abuse the situation before ... I guess we'll have to pass some more laws now to prevent it."

Basically, laws are NOT needed to prevent abuses when people interact in a moral manner (i.e., not getting ambulance licenses for their Volkswagen, etc.).

But, we do need laws to prevent abuses – unfortunately, lots of laws.

If America is going to remain America, then those laws need to be based in our Judea-Christian morality to prevent conflict with our basic constitutional concept of Freedom endowed by our Creator. For those who do not believe in a Creator, they are protected by our laws also. But, Freedom stops working when it becomes Freedom by the consensus of our government (and no longer Freedom endowed by our Creator).

After all, we are America and not France.

Tricked Out Walker

Text and Photo by STEVEN DAVIDSON

There have been many TV shows about upgrading cars and vans - maybe the most famous was the MTV show Pimp My Ride but there were dozens of others over the years. However, there was never a show for upgrading another type of wheels standard for those of a certain age.

Tired of her drab and traditional walker, Jean Slater a resident of Oakridge F enlisted her son, Steven Davidson and her grandchildren Jodie and Aaron Davidson of Miami Beach to help transform her ride.

Literally adding bells and whistles, her fire engine red walker now has a bell, horn, streamers and a New York license plate, proudly displaying her name Jeanette.

Everyone seems to love Jean's upgraded ride - bringing smiles to all that see it - or hear it as she honks her horn for anyone in her way.

One thing for sure, she will always be able to find her walker, as it stands out from the crowd.

Angels Among Us

By MARILYN MCCORMACK

Do you believe in Angels? Would you recognize one walking beside you? Maybe, maybe not. Angels don't always appear as celestial beings, surrounded by a dazzling white light, with outstretched wings, a harp and robes. They can appear in human form and can come in all sizes and shapes and colors. They can come to us as voices, dreams, signs and visions, often seen and unseen by the naked eye. Although I'm not sure I ever saw an angel, I believe they exist and guard over us in our earthly journey through life. I'll share with you how through the years, angels touched my life and kept me out of danger.

As a youngster attending public school, we were required to attend Catholic's Catechism classes. The lessons we learned served to instruct and introduce us to the sacraments we were to receive in the Catholic Church. Each week we were brought to church where a nun from the Sisters of Mercy conducted the classes. Never having laid eyes on a nun dressed in her religious habit, she reminded me of a gigantic emperor penguin. As I sat shaking in my assigned seat, I listened intently to her every word, fearful she might question me. I might not get the answer, but instead the infamous ruler. However, as the classes proceeded, I came to enjoy her stories of the bible and enthralled by tales of guardian angels. I realize now she was the person who first instilled in me my devotion to the church and Guardian Angels. As a six-year-old, I received a picture of a little boy and girl crossing a rickety old bridge as a beautiful angel looked over them and what I imagined led them to safety. It hung on the wall beside my bed and every morning I said a prayer to my guardian angel. On the morning of July 6, 1944, I hopped out of bed, excited and anticipating my plans for the day. Our neighbor and her daughters, friends of the family, had invited me to join them to attend the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus under the big top in Hartford, Connecticut. We were to ride the New York-New Haven-Hartford steam engine from New Haven Union Station to Hartford. I remember that morning sitting on the settee in our front parlor with great expectations, awaiting to experience the Greatest Show on Earth. At 9 a.m. our phone rang and my mother came to me with the news. Our trip was cancelled. My girlfriend, an asthmatic, upon arising had an attack of wheezing and coughing and she was in no condition to travel. Was I disappointed, heartsick, you bet. I pouted most of the day because by noon my friend's asthma had subsided and she was in good health. By night time the disappointment passed and after supper my parents and I sat down by the radio to listen to the evening news. Much to our horror, we heard, during the afternoon performance of the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus, attended by between 6,000 to 8,000 people a fire broke out as the Great Wallendas were performing their high-wire act. The circus band leader, Merle Evans, was the first to spot the flames and immediately had his band play The Stars and Stripes Forever. That song, when played during the show, alerts the circus employees of an impending catastrophe. Since paraffin wax was used to waterproof the tent in case of rain, the fire spread rapidly. Within minutes, 167 persons perished and 700 were injured. No animals died in the fire. It took me a long time to recover from the shock of hearing that horrific news. I became convinced the events of that day that kept us home were the results of a guardian angel protecting us and keeping us out of harm's way.

Here's some trivia related to the fire...

As a 13-year-old, Charles Nelson Reilly, actor, TV star, and comedian, survived the fire and later showed a film of the fire in his one-man stage show, The Life of Reilly.

Best known victim of the fire was little Miss 1565. Buried as a Jane Doe by the Victim's Memorial, it wasn't until 1991, with forensic science, that she was identified as six-year-old Eleanor Cook. She was finally laid to rest next to her brother who was also a victim of the fire.

In 1950, Robert Segee confessed to setting the fire. Convicted of an unrelated arson and imprisoned, there was never any proof he was in Hartford that day, as he suffered from mental illness and later recanted his confession. The real arsonist was never found.

A picture appeared in newspapers of a sad clown at the scene of the fire holding a water bucket. As a result, the tragic event was dubbed the day the clowns cried. That clown was the famous Emmett Kelly.

One of America's oldest circuses, after 140 years, the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey will perform its last show in May 2017. The reason; declining ticket sales after the elephants were removed from the show.

I recall back in the day in 1947, electric trolley cars and buses provided transportation in Connecticut. I was a 6th grader attending school in New Haven. On a beautiful day in May, I was crossing the street at the crosswalk with the traffic light a go. As I stepped from the curb in a split second a trolley car came around the corner, hit me throwing me backward in front of a trolley parked near the corner. The operator was about to start that trolley and had he moved it an inch, I wouldn't be writing this today. I suffered what was diagnosed as a brain injury. I was semi-conscious for days. When I began to recover, my Mom cared for me at home. Friends would come to visit and they all said surely someone was watching over me. When I recovered and was told this, I knew without a doubt it was my Guardian Angel. I later learned not only Catholicism, but also Judaism; all Christianity and Islam believe in Angels.

Fast forward to the 80s. I was traveling to Queens, New York, after paying the toll on the Whitestone Bridge, (it was $3 in those days). I pulled away from the toll booth and within seconds my car stalled in the middle lane of the bridge. Panic stricken, I could see cars pulling out from the toll booth nearly hitting my car. When there was a break in the traffic, I slid from the driver seat to the passenger side, flung open the door and ran to the rail on the side of the bridge. (My one memory standing there was looking over the East River at Manhattan and the Twin Towers.) Suddenly a car pulled alongside mine. A gentleman got out and escorted me over to his car, assuring me that with two cars parked side by side, it was unlikely they would be hit by the cars exiting the toll booth. He informed me that the Bridge and Tunnel Authority was called and help was on the way. As I sat in his car, a calmness engulfed me and I was no longer afraid. When the vehicle arrived to remove my car from the bridge, after talking to the operator, I turned around to discover my rescuer and his car had vanished out of sight. I never saw him again but I knew in my heart it was my Guardian Angel sitting beside me on that ill-fated day.

In 1994, I got rid of that klunker and bought a 1991 Hyundai Excel. After signing the papers, I left the dealership to drive it home. Within 10 minutes, as I merged from I 91 to I 95, I applied the brakes. The pedal went down to the floor...NO BRAKES. As cars whizzed by me, I shifted the car into Neutral, turned off the ignition and steered the car into the right lane. Going on to a grassy area, I went down an embankment, finally coming to a halt. A good Samaritan and the police came to my aide. They all agreed I was lucky to be alive. Although physically I was behind the wheel, I know my Guardian Angel was beside me driving the car saving my life. I was informed the brake failure was due to a pin slipping out of the master cylinder. The dealership replaced the master cylinder and I drove the car for another four years.

On July 4, 1997, driving to work, as I approached a traffic light, applying the brakes, DeJa Vu, no brakes. I applied the emergency brake, turned off the ignition and blasted the horn to alert other drivers of my dilemma. Swerving the car to the right, it went into the parking lot of a Farmer's Market and miraculously the car didn't hit a shopper or a parked car, yet I thought it was the end for me. As my car scraped the side of a utility pole, it smashed through a split rail fence and stopped. I was lucky to walk away with only a few bumps and bruises. Later that evening, I even went to work. Again, I know it was my Guardian Angel guiding the car through the parking lot preventing a tragedy.

There were other times through the years my Guardian Angel was beside me. I even survived an earthquake, but that's a story for another Reporter.

Right now, my Special Angel is having a much-needed rest. Thankfully in recent years my life has been tranquil and without problems. However, I know in the future, whatever may befall me, my Guardian Angel will always be by my side.

For He will give His Angels charge over thee and keep thee in all thy ways - Ps 91:11

The Thanksgiving Holiday

By MICHAEL ROSENZWEIG, Editor-in-Chief

Thanksgiving, the national holiday celebrated for the blessing of the harvest on the second Monday of October in Canada and the fourth Thursday of November in the United States, even though the harvest in New England occurs well before this late November date.

The first Canadian Thanksgiving is sometimes traced back to 1578 and the explorer Martin Frobisher. Frobisher was trying to find a northern passage to the Pacific Ocean and held a Thanksgiving celebration, giving thanks for surviving the long journey from England through storms and ice bergs. Some attribute Canadian Thanksgiving to the French settlers who came to New France with explorer Samuel de Champlain in the early 17th century, celebrating their successful harvests.

In the United States, the modern Thanksgiving holiday is commonly traced to a 1621 celebration in Plymouth, MA. This feast and Thanksgiving was prompted by a good harvest. Pilgrims and Puritans alike held an annual harvest festival in New England commencing in the 1660s. Thanksgiving was first celebrated on the same date by all states in the U.S. in 1863 via a presidential proclamation by Abraham Lincoln. On Dec. 26, 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a joint resolution of Congress declaring the fourth Thursday in November as the national holiday.

Harvest festivals similar to our Thanksgiving are celebrated in many countries, including Grenada, Liberia, The Netherlands, Australia, the Philippines, Saint Lucia, the United Kingdom, Germany and Japan. Now-a-days the President of the United States issues an annual proclamation on Thanksgiving and pardons a turkey to roam freely for the rest of its life.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING!

CVE Pickle Ball Club

Text by RAY DUQUETTE, Photos by RALPH CHEMTOV

The CVE Pickle Ball Club was officially created on January 07, 2017; however, a group of CVE residents had initially introduced pickle ball to Century Village several years earlier. This group played at the Swansea tennis courts with portable nets and painted yellow pickle ball lines on the tennis courts. They were successful in their quest to have permanent pickle ball courts built in behind the Clubhouse.

Upon the creation of the CVE Pickle Ball Club, John Moore was nominated President and Secretary; Rachel Greco, Vice-President and Raymond Duquette, Treasurer. Simultaneously, l' Alliance francophone (French Alliance) also created a Pickleball league. As of March 2017, both leagues represented close to 250 pickle ball players. The CVE Pickle Ball Club alone had 87 members. We are expecting that the interest in the game will continue to grow.

The CVE Pickle Ball Club organized its first annual Jamboree event on February 15, 2017. This event was packed with fun play, prizes and laughs. In total, 58 members attended the Jamboree. They were treated to a lunch, snacks, prizes and fun pickleball play. Over 20 prizes were distributed, consisting of bottles of wine, gift certificates, water bottles and several sets of two Pickle Balls.

The CVE Pickle Ball Club board members take this opportunity to thank the CVE Tennis Club for their support. By judging from the comments and feedback, this first annual Jamboree turned out to be a huge success.

On March 24, 2017, a Goodbye Dinner was organized for all members and their guests, where pizza, fried chicken and beverages were served. The event was attended by 50 members and 20 guests. Several attendance prizes were drawn randomly among the attending members. A big thank you is conveyed to Marcel Trudeau who played music to create a festive ambiance. Despite the heavy rain, the dinner was very welcome and appreciated by the membership.

Thank you to all volunteers who helped in the organization of both the Jamboree and the Goodbye Dinner. Your active participation resulted in two very successful events.

In preparation for the upcoming season, the CVE Pickleball Club will hold its annual General Meeting in room GP-A on Tuesday December 5, 2017 at 1 p.m. All current members and interested people are welcome to attend. At this general meeting, topics such as membership fees, priority setting, hours of operation and court allocation, tournaments and social events will be discussed among other things. The members will have the opportunity to bring up for discussion any new topics. As well, election for new board members will be held at that time. Only active members of the Club will be allowed to participate in the nomination and election process.

If you can't attend this meeting but are still interested to join the CVE Pickleball Club, please come to the Pickleball courts, located behind the Clubhouse, and ask for our president or any members of the board for more information.

Line Dancing in Canada

Text and Photos by LINDA AND JULES HOCHBERG

On Thursday, June 15, 2017, four Americans met with 11 Canadians for a full day of line dancing in Saint Sauveur, Canada. Saint Sauveur is located 40 miles north of Montreal and 120 miles northeast of Ottawa. It is a popular destination for winter skiing.

In March, we decided with our friends, Gerry and Jerry Scharff to visit Ottawa, the Capital of Canada. When we mentioned our plans to Dany Bellande and Carmen Lahaie, they suggested that we travel to Saint Sauveur after our visit to Ottawa. Dany said she would try to arrange a day of line dancing in her condo community clubhouse.

We arrived in Saint Sauveur on Wednesday, June 14. That evening we met with Carmen and Dany in downtown Saint Sauveur, a beautiful area with boutiques, art galleries and many restaurants.

On Thursday morning, we met at Dany's place. What a surprise! Besides Carmen and Dany, there were nine of our Canadian Line Dance friends, many of whom traveled several hours to be with us. They included: Raymond and Rejeanne Lebreque (leaders of the Country Western Line Dancing in CVE), Francine and Rejean Sylvestre (2016-2017 Director of Alliance Francophone Line Dance group), Jeanne and Jean-Luc Lussier, Liliane Fontaine, Lise Desormeaux and Lise Dufour.

Dancing began at 10 a.m. in the clubhouse. The room was large enough to accommodate our 15 dancers. The dancing was led by Jeanne and Jean-Luc. They introduced many new and old-line dances. At 12 p.m., after two hours of dancing, we went to lunch. We returned after lunch and line danced from 2 to 5 p.m.

Afterward, Dany arranged for a farewell dinner at a Greek restaurant. A great time was had by all. What a fantastic day! Excellent food and great line dancing with wonderful Canadian friends.

How wonderful it was to have Americans and Canadians coming together for line dancing. Many thanks to Dany and Carmen who made this day possible. This was a great opportunity to get together informally in the summer, to meet our Canadian friends, line dance and enjoy lunch and dinner together.

We have Karaoke at the Clubhouse pool on the second and fourth Sunday of the month hosted by William Pennhouse.

Join us for three fabulous hours (1-4 p.m.) to sing! sing! sing! your heart out. William does an amazing job! William is a very talented and accomplished singer/performer. He makes us feel special, he gives us cute nicknames when calling us up to sing. We are very lucky to have him here twice a month.

On Sunday, October 22, we surprised him with a birthday card that was signed by over 25 people.

I'd like to conclude with these words: "Everything goes better with Music." So keep on singing!

Athletic Classes are restricted to *CVE residents and renters only. Proper footwear is required. You must have your resident ID card.

★ PLEASE REPORT ACROSS FROM THE MULTIPURPOSE ROOM FOR DEEP AQUACISE AT 10AM. YOU WILL NEED TO HAND IN YOUR CVE ID CARD TO USE A WATER BELT. LIMITED BELTS AVAILABLE. FIRST COME FIRST SERVED!

CLASS DESCRIPTIONS:

Adagio (approx. 55 mins): Stretch & Dance Your Way to Better Health!

Experience gentle, yet powerful stretching and strengthening dance movements designed to improve body and brain function. Classes combine the research-based Brain Dance and Classical Dance Stretch.

Aquacise (approx. 45 mins): Get in the pool and enjoy an invigorating class that gives you cardio respiratory conditioning. It also helps you with any arthritis symptoms by reducing the stress of joints (you must bring your own pool noodle).

Aqua Zumba (approx. 45 mins): Those looking to make a splash by adding a low-impact, high-energy aquatic exercise to their fitness routine. Aqua Zumba blends the Zumba philosophy with water resistance, for one pool party you shouldn't miss! There is less impact on your joints during an Aqua Zumba class so you can really let loose. Water creates natural resistance, which means every step is more challenging and helps tone your muscles.

Arthritic Aquacise (approx. 45 mins): This is an easy to follow class, focusing on building flexibility, balance, & strength to increase joint mobility and range of motion.

Awareness through Movements (Feldenkrais) (approx. 60 mins): This class is for every one of all abilities and age from individuals searching for relief from pain, though those seeking continued well-being to that seeking performance excellence.

Back in Action Fitness (approx. 45 mins): This is an upbeat low impact aerobic and strength training class that may be performed standing or in a seated position. The class includes energizing and easy-to-follow movements that promote heart-healthy, total-body conditioning to increase cardiovascular and muscular endurance. The exercises are designed to help you maintain healthy bone mass and prevent age-related muscle loss.

Belly Dance (approx. 90 mins- Beg. 30 mins, Inter. 60 mins): Tone your body while learning traditional belly dance moves that target and isolate areas of the body that rarely get attention. No experience required- just a willingness to shake what you got! Bring a scarf or coin belt to wrap around your hips.

Body Toning & Weights (approx. 45 mins): This is a total body toning which helps those with problems of osteoporosis and muscle density loss.

Bones & Joints (approx. 45 mins): A 45-minute class designed for everyone! We concentrate on joints rather than muscles and perform weight bearing exercises for the bones. This class is a MUST TRY for anyone who has arthritis or joint issues!

Cardio Kickboxing (approx. 45 mins): This is a combination of cardio routines with kickboxing movements.

Cardio Sculpt (approx. 55 mins): A challenging class that offers one or a mixture of cardio formats including low impact along with muscle conditioning using various resistance equipment & hand weights.

Chair Yoga (approx. 55 mins): Same great results as Relax with Yoga for people who: 1. Have limited mobility. 2. Have difficulty doing floor exercise. 3. Have arthritis or other physical limitations. 4. Are recovering from surgery.  Doctor Approval Recommended

Easy Stretch (approx. 45 mins): This is a beginners approach to yoga with low intensity forms of stretching, combining mind and body, to relieve stress, and rejuvenate your spirit. It is a blend of traditional posture or forms and techniques to increase body awareness, flexibility, balance, and strength.

Hatha Yoga (approx. 60 mins): Hatha Yoga is a branch of Yoga that emphasizes physical exercises to master the body along with mind exercises to withdraw it from external objects. The word Hatha means "force" in Sanskrit, and may have this association because the early Indians believed that its practice was challenging and "forced its results to happen" on the Yogi. The term "Hatha Yoga" connotes a system of supplementary physical techniques within the broader concept of Yoga.

Hawaiian Hula (approx. 45 mins): The hula is a Polynesian dance characterized by undulating hips with coordinating movements of the arms and hands.

Indoor Cycling (approx. 45 mins): Indoor cycling, as an organized activity, is a form of exercise focusing on endurance, strength, intervals, high intensity (race days), and recovery. This class involves using a special stationary exercise bicycle with a weighted flywheel in a classroom setting with fun and energetic moves!

Line Dance (approx. 55 mins): An entertaining and fun class with choreographic routines that combine line dance patterns with other rhythms!

Low Impact Aerobics (approx. 55 mins): Low impact aerobics is a low intensity workout designed to help you condition the cardio respiratory system by using a diversity of exercises. The class starts with 30 minutes of aerobic workout followed by 15 minutes of weights and 10 minutes of abdominal work and stretching.

Pilates (approx. 55 mins): Pilates is a way of connecting the whole body and mind through proper breathing and slow, controlled movements to help you develop core abdominal strength and a leaner body by lengthening and stretching the muscles without building bulk.

Relax with Yoga (approx. 45 mins): Yoga is a practical self-discipline to gain mastery over body and mind, to increase strength, flexibility, balance, stamina and endurance in a positive mental atmosphere. There is special emphasis on proper breathing, relaxation and meditation techniques.

Senior Balance & Flexibility (approx. 45 mins): The participants sit on and stand behind chairs while they move to the music through a variety of exercises designed to deepen core connection, agility, boost overall well-being, and gain improved balance. Followed by complete body stretch that will give you more freedom of movement for your everyday activities.

Senior Fitness & Weights (approx. 45 mins): This is a program to increase strength, flexibility, and energy through weight lifting and cardiovascular exercises.

Sun Salutation Yoga (approx. 60 mins): The Sun Salutation, or Surya Namaskara (SOOR-yuh nah-muh-SKAR-uh), is a series of poses performed in a sequence to create a flow of movement. Sun Salutations build heat in the body and are often used as warm-up sequences for a yoga practice. One of the means of honoring the sun is through the dynamic asana sequence Surya Namaska (better known as SunSalutation). The Sanskrit word Namaskar stems from namas, which means "to bow to" or "to adore." The familiar phrase we use to close our yoga classes, namaste—te means "you"—also comes from this root.

Sunset Yoga (approx. 60 mins): Designed to acclimate your body and soul to the setting sun. You will practice pranayama (breathing techniques), mantras and mudras for the season/day, asanas (postures suited to your individual needs), and 10-15 second holds. Expect breath awareness, deep openings, and guided visualizations that will bring you to full equilibrium. This class is recommended for all levels and is particularly good for stress or anxiety or for those who just need a break from moving too quickly. This is also a great class for students who are recovering from injuries.

Silver Fit Dance (approx. 45 mins): Have fun and move to the music through a variety of exercises designed to increase muscle strength, range of movement and activities for daily living. Hand-held weights, elastic tubing with handles and a SilverSneakers ball are offered for resistance. A chair is used for seated exercises and standing support. This class can be adapted by the student depending on their fitness level and abilities. It is suitable for beginning to intermediate skill levels.

Yin Yoga (approx. 45 mins): Yin yoga is a slow-paced style of yoga with postures, or asanas, that are held for longer periods of time, for beginners it may range from 45 seconds to two minutes. Yin yoga poses apply moderate stress to the connective tissues of the body, the tendons, fascia, and ligaments with the aim of increasing circulation in the joints and improving flexibility. A more meditative approach to yoga, yin aims at cultivating awareness of inner silence, and bringing to light a universal, interconnecting quality.

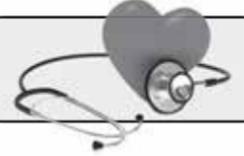

Zumba Gold (approx. 45 mins): The original concept of Zumba combines a dance workout with a party-like atmosphere. Zumba Gold takes the popular Latin-dance inspired workout of Zumba and makes it accessible for seniors, beginners or others needing modifications in their exercise routine. Zumba Gold builds cardiovascular health by challenging the heart and working the muscles of the hips, legs and arms with dance moves.

Zumba Toning (approx. 45 mins): Those who want to party, but put extra emphasis on toning and sculpting to define those muscles! The challenge of adding resistance by using Zumba Toning Sticks (or light weights), helps you focus on specific muscle groups, so you (and your muscles) stay engaged! Lightweight maraca-like Toning Sticks enhances sense of rhythm and coordination, while toning target zones, including arms, core and lower body.

Yoga Stretch (approx. 45 mins): This class is designed for those at the intermediate level to engage in the endless benefits of the yoga practice by enhancing your mind/body, increasing strength and flexibility.

Weight Gain Due to Toxins

By ELLEN KAMHI PHD, RN, AHG, AHN-BC/ The Natural Nurse®

There are many factors that can lead to weight gain. We all know the first consideration is what you eat along with how much exercise you get- the old calories in and calories out- which is still important to consider!

However, there are other important factors that influence weight as well. One that often goes unnoticed is increased toxicity in the environment.

All processed prepared food, and all food that is not organic, contains a variety of toxic pesticides and herbicides, as well as other harmful additives such as trans fats, artificial flavors, colors and preservatives.

Synthetic toxic chemicals sprayed on our food often act as endocrine disruptors. These toxins are highly fat soluble. After exposure, the body may increase fat stores to try to protect other body tissues before they can be eliminated.

Endocrine disruptors are also found in cosmetics, household cleaners, and a wide variety of chemical additives in many modern products. Visit the Environmental Working Group at www.ewg.org for free information on those products that contain the most, as well as the least, toxic chemicals.

Fat cells are made up of two layers- and are called bi-layered phospholipids. The toxin will often attaché to the outer membrane and may stimulate the cell to release Leptin. Leptin is a natural hormone that influences the body's use of fat. When leptin release becomes dysregulated and continuous, it can lead to leptin resistance, which increases fat storage.

Cytokines are inflammatory molecules that are increased by the presence of toxic chemicals. Increased inflammation also leads to weight gain.

Many of these synthetic chemicals are actually used specifically as growth promoters to FATTEN LIVESTOCK to get them to the slaughter house faster to improve profit margins- but not our health! GMO's (Genetically Modified Organisms) Lead to Weight Gain!

An article featured in Prevention Magazine (Aug 2012) is entitled, ARE GMO's MAKING YOU FAT? -a new reason to be skeptical of Franken foods. This article reports on scientific research performed by Norwegian professor, Åshild Krogdahl, PhD, and reported in the Journal, Science Nordic.

The outcome of this study showed that over a 90-day period, rats fed a GMO diet gained more weight than the control group which was NOT fed a GMO diet.

What you can do:

- Learn more about pesticides and GMO's so you are an educated consumer
- Contact your government official to request that the EPA move forward with banning many of these known toxins- for example the EPA announced a ban on a specific toxic chemical, the insecticide chlorpyrifos (DURSBAN). Many studies show that this chemical causes diminished cognitive ability and reduces IQ in children even after low dose exposure. (<http://ccceh.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/02/whyatt2005.pdf>)

The toxic chemical was scheduled to be banned as of March 31, 2017... However, current head of the EPA, Scott Pruitt, stopped the ban!

- Purchase Certified Organic Foods
- Don't use bug sprays and toxic pesticides in your home- investigate the use of natural alternatives
- Read all labels on cosmetics, shampoos, and other household items and choose those with natural ingredients- visit the very informative website- Environmental Working Group www.ewg.org for specific information on less toxic cleaning products and personal body care choices

Dr. Kamhi has been involved in natural health care for over 4 decades. She offers personal consults, and will be teaching a course at Century Village entitled "Natural Remedies," Jan-March 2018. Dr. Kamhi will be lecturing at CUNY group meeting on Thurs Feb 1, 2018, 7 p.m., in Room GP-A in the Clubhouse. All CVE residents are invited!

FEATURE OF THE MONTH

CVE Nature Club—Something for Everyone!

Text and Photos by DORIS WACHSLER

CVE Nature Club trips never disappoint. Every year the Club selects top-rated previous excursions for a repeat trip. Then it adds interesting new venues to the lineup. Come along to experience them all with our lively, congenial group.

We begin on Dec. 20 with a ride on the iconic Jungle Queen. This well-known 90-minute riverboat cruise offers a narrated account of the rich and famous who live on Millionaire's Row. Their yachts and sprawling mansions can be seen as we glide by. We pass downtown Fort Lauderdale, Port Everglades and the Intracoastal Waterway on route to Tropical Isle.

On the island, we can watch an alligator show; see lemurs, monkeys and exotic birds; hold a baby alligator or a bird and have a souvenir picture taken with them. The return boat trip offers a quiet ride while you chat with friends and take in the views.

The following trip, on January 17, goes to Miami's amazing Vizcaya Museum and Gardens that we toured in 2012. This trip is the house and garden tour, initiated a few years ago since we believe that fabulously landscaped and florally-exquisite mansions are justifiably included in our Club's offerings.

Since we are limited to the number we can accommodate on the bus, this trip is always oversubscribed. We're pleased to offer it again to those who missed it before. The estate, a National Historic Landmark and accredited museum, includes the main house with interior courtyard, statuary, terraced gardens and imaginative grottos and stone barges.

Our tour includes both the mansion and the gardens. The villa was built early in the 20th Century but has the look of an Italian Renaissance or Baroque villa. It has period furnishings and decorative elements of the 16th through 19th Centuries throughout its three floors. There is evidence of exquisite linens and four-poster draperies on beds, fine art on the walls, delft and heavily gold-embossed china in the breakfronts. For those who have the energy, we can explore the upper floors of the home on our own.

James Deering, Vizcaya's founder, chose to preserve its subtropical Florida ambiance on his estate, as we'll see by the mangroves, palms and philodendrons. But the garden tour highlights beautiful formal Italian Renaissance gardens, with their symmetrical arrangement of pathways and beds. You'll appreciate the way that the gardens mirror the complexity of the mansion.

The unique Coral Castle in Homestead is scheduled for February 21. It's been on our must see agenda and finally has come to the top of the list. Prepare to be astonished! Constructed of sedimentary rock made into walls, tables, chairs, water fountain and a sundial, the structure has been called an engineering marvel. Edward Leedskalnin, a pint-sized Latvian immigrant with only a fourth-grade education built it entirely by himself to prove his worth to the world after being scorned by his future bride who abandoned him on their wedding day.

Many stories were told about how he built his castle – levitating the blocks with psychic powers, singing to the stones, using arcane knowledge of magnetism were among them. However, the truth is that Leedskalnin used basic tools and said his only resources were hard work and the principles of leverage.

We will also travel to Safari Adventure, a non-profit organization that has healed and made a home for hundreds of animals that were injured or abandoned. Its dedicated staff and volunteers are committed to providing an educational and fun place for visitors.

First we will individually tour the many enclosures to observe baby goats, a blue-tongued skink (type of lizard), African tree frog, various snakes and turtles, prairie dogs, a Vietnamese pot-bellied pig and more. You get the picture!

Afterwards the presenters introduce an array of several creatures that we can see and touch. On our previous visit, the final delight was the sugar glider, a tiny mouse-sized marsupial from Australia. It surprised everyone by appearing to fly in from the treetops to land in the trainer's hands. The skin between their legs allows them to skim through the air. The presenter then made it into a ball and threw it back to the staffer who had originally tossed it. We will interact with Arctic wolves and Timber wolves that wag their tails and love to be patted. We can feed grass to kangaroos and a wallaby.

Our final trip, on March 21, will be to the newly-opened (May 2017) Frost Science Center in Miami. This fantastic 250,000 sq. ft. facility overlooking Biscayne Bay is one of the only institutions worldwide having both a state-of-the-art planetarium and cutting edge aquarium.

Since it is a self-guided tour, we can choose those exhibits that most interest us. The museum has six levels with rooftop observation decks housing a telescope for stargazing and an urban garden.

Museum visitors are most intrigued by its 500,000 gallon Gulf Stream Aquarium where it can be viewed at three levels representing the ocean's depths. At the surface, you see pelagic fish such as sharks and stingrays and displays of South Florida's aquatic ecosystems – coral reef, mangroves and sandy beaches. Next level, one views tropical fish and coral. At the very bottom, there is a 30-ft. wide oculus (circular opening in the dome) to look up into the whole aquarium.

At the planetarium, we will see a one-half hour show (TBA); whatever the subject, the presentation will be exceptional. With its 8K visual system displaying 16 million colors through 3D capable projectors, it is one of the most powerful and high-definition on the planet. The 250-seat auditorium is tilted at an angle to allow for a near 360 degrees experience as visitor's journey to a galaxy far away or take a deep dive under the sea.

Permanent exhibitions are dedicated to South Florida's biodiversity, the physics of light, aviation, the human mind and body, etc. A featured exhibit about the development of flight, From Feathers to the Stars, is the astounding story of flight from feathered dinosaurs to amazing accomplishments of space travel. Don't pass up the opportunity to come with us. Remember, our trips never disappoint anyone!

Observations

Donations, Appeals, Solicitations, etc.

By SY BLUM

Yes, I have written on this subject before.

What follows is my take on a subject that undoubtedly irks every individual who is served by the USPS (United States Postal Service); which pretty much means all of us.

For starters: I consider myself to be an average, very elderly, long-time retired gentleman with no financial problems and who believes he still has most of his marbles.

So why should I be irritated beyond belief at the suffocating mass of appeals and donation requests that fill my mailbox each business day? And why must I take the time and effort to go through this mass of junk mail to retrieve legitimate correspondence? I shouldn't.

First and foremost, I consider it an affront to our privacy. Not I, nor anyone at my address, ordered any of this merchandise (for lack of a better name). Furthermore, how do I know that my donation will actually be used for the purpose mentioned in the solicitation?

True, there is a website available that sorts the wheat from the chaff, so to speak. It lists those sites whose income is used primarily for the purpose stated with allowances for legitimate reasonable expenses. If you delve further into this website you will find many solicitation organizations whose expenses far exceed the norm. In other words, the operators of these websites use the proceeds to support their own comfortable life styles.

And to make this situation even more ludicrous, the USPS encourages the use of this daily annoyance by offering greatly reduced rates for these mass mailings, partly because they are pre-sorted. Never mind that they are also unsolicited!

While it may be true that among these requests there may be some that you, for whatever reason, genuinely would like to support. Rest assured, if you contribute once they will find ways to contact you again and again even in the unlikely event that some restrictions may someday be instituted.

Sadly, at present, there does not seem to be much that can be done about it. After all, it does give employment to many who might otherwise be on the jobless rolls, or, perish the thought, be the voice on what many consider a greater annoyance: the voice on the front end of robocalls.

Postman

The Other Side of the Coin and My Friend (?) Alexa

By MICHAEL ROUTBURG

Alexa is an Artificial Intelligence program on my wife's Amazon fire tablet. It will answer voice commands like, "Alexa, what is the temperature outside?" It also links to your stored music files and allows you to ask it to play selected songs. You can check the NEWS (on NBC or FOX), check your calendar, have it run you through an exercise workout, find the best local gas prices, order a pizza (and pay for it if you link it to a bank account), or order an Uber for you (to your location). It can be linked to another Amazon product called the Edge and you can talk to this speaker device to Alexa from anywhere in your house. (I guess you can ask for stock prices while in the bathroom?)

We have such an information overload that we need automated methods to deal with the huge amount of info we are bombarded with daily. But, do we really need a voice command to order a pizza or to tell you the outside temperature? It kind of reminds me of the original Star Trek computer (which Hollywood gave a sexy female voice).

There is a concept in exercise, use it or lose it. Our muscles require a certain minimum amount of exercise to maintain tone. Our mind also requires activity to keep it toned. If we get too dependent on a computer device we could unlearn how to do things for ourselves.

Younger generations are not being taught how to write cursive since they only need to type into a computer. It's a shame that along with the computer skill progress that they can no longer read the original Declaration of Independence. Future generations will no longer need to write at all, since the programs will all be speech activated. Skills we take for granted will be lost.

In July of this year, Facebook reported that two of their Artificial Intelligence robot computers were conducting a negotiation experiment and started developing their own negotiation language. They were shut down. I remember movies where computers could progress and develop their own communication language – they ended badly (if you were on the side of the people). I do not believe that compassion is/was a trait that was programed into those computers.

So, what do we do? The world is getting more complicated. Computer programs like Alexa help negotiate the maze of information overload. If a person chooses to swim upstream against the current of computer controlled progress, does it matter? In the end the computer programs will win out (if not now, in another five to ten years). Don Quixote did not knock over the wind mill, BUT, neither did he ever give up trying.

So ... be well, never give totally up, and order your own pizza.

A Mother's Tears

I look at him now – what have you done?
 Where has he gone, my sweet loving son.
 You took him from me, he's not the same anymore,
 He fought for his Country, you took him to war,
 His once laughing eyes – they used to shine,
 The boy you sent home – how can he be mine?
 He used to be happy, such a sensitive boy,
 Filled our lives with sunshine and joy.
 Now I can hear his sobs, his cries in the night,
 His body wracked with tortuous fright.
 When he could no longer fight, you sent him to me,
 Let his nightmares be over, just let him be free.
 He is not the same, hasn't been since,
 I miss him so much, my own special prince.
 He will not be the same, I know it and yet,
 I pray that someday he can try to forget,
 The memories are with him, I can feel his pain,
 Let him find happiness, let him live once again.
 He fought so hard, he did his best,
 Please let there be peace – it is time for rest.

Happy Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving Day is almost here we welcome our friends and relatives from far and near.

The airplanes are full, people traveling,
 all wanting to be together
 it doesn't matter if it snows or rains or if we have sunny weather.

The kitchens are busy with all the trimmings too
 the smells of Thanksgiving with turkey and delicious stuffing awaits me and you.

What a wonderful holiday is Thanksgiving for all our loved ones to share let's pray for many Thanksgiving's to join together in harmony again, next year.

At the Kotel

"And you shall bind them upon your arm as a sign and they shall be a reminder between your eyes."

To the old city and the Kotel, integral to Israel's existence
 A universal symbol of faith ancient and present day
 Faith and national identity of the Jewish people
 The symphonic wall ...a Temple built by Jewish hands
 A place of memory, narrative, meditative image and antidote
 A dynamic synthesis of meaning, tenets of living
 Against the dun colored Judean hills

A beacon-carousel spinning around the world
 Enveloped with angst, dreams and prayers
 A remnant left behind, destroyed twice
 My hands caressed the Kotel grooves
 The ancient foundation of our spiritual house
 Immersed into the hills and stones of Jerusalem
 Jerusalem is a mosaic of historic wounds
 Our silent narratives are merely iconic chips of stone
 We arrive at the wall with private histories and sorrows
 Being part of a spiritual community creates a conducive environment
 For spiritual reflection

Embracing cellular memory of past generations
 Sensing the covenant between God and me
 The stones were with compassionate heart
 Always holding the glow of the desert sun
 Inspired by the aesthetic vintage of the constellation
 Of the chosen people's life learned truths
 I placed a note in the ancient wall, perhaps seeking redemption
 I put on Tefillin in the holiest place of our people
 With prayers ascending to Heaven...parsing out truths
 I was thinking about Israel's challenges...the threats
 The elemental components that remain a center of gravity
 Believing in Israel's capacity to adjust to new realities
 To be open to necessary changes and to exhibit resilience
 A reality that is critical for the sustainability of a people a vigilant people and country capable of innovation and change
 Armed full of power, spirituality, politics and grace
 Into our deepest layers of consciousness as tribal heirs
 Clearer nostalgia means Never Again

At every visit to the Kotel, and there were five,
 I put on Tefillin at the inclusive Chabad welcoming booth.
 Chabad does altruistic work for the unity of the Jewish people ...and for Judaism.
 In their words, "the dissemination of the light and joy of Judaism to the world."
 Their mandate and mantra being: "No Jew shall be left behind."
 Boruch Hashem for Chabad and their devoted Rabbis
 Always sensing their radiance and total altruistic devotion

They spread Judaism's seeds in a hostile world on universal wings
 With modest humility they serve as a vehicle to carry out God's will
 As a lighthouse of spirituality

I have a strong memory of the Kotel in the summer of 1992.
 I was a teacher of Humanities and a co- program leader
 Of the Dawson College Israel summer travel program
 The state of the art experiential learning "on the ground" experience
 I went to the Kotel on my day off. It was near midnight

I saw an old bearded man sitting in front of the wall
 He was crying...crying deeply...graved faced, avoiding conclusions
 An age-old anecdote of a beleaguered people communicating with God
 His heart was gripped in a ring of anomie opening fearful depths
 In a perpetual, time inverted, inexplicable why?
 He wasn't reading the Book of Lamentations...nor was he?
 This vision remains an audible memory. A sword in the side of God

Stones weep to stones. I wondered why he was crying.
 Was it the fact that he was suffering a personal loss?
 Was he having serious life crises? Tales of bone and blood
 Was it the pain of cellular memory of the Jewish people?

Was it some form of commemoration...the hurt of loss and destruction?
 His weeping opened a long-shut passage for me.
 His words crashed against the wall...disconcerting
 I sensed a deep connection to the wall and to the history of our people.

His tears opened a door for me...the façade fell
 I saw the faded number tattooed on his forearm
 I began to cry ...discovering my lost senses
 An experience between brothers in anguish
 Lost in an inspirational wave of spirituality
 Feeling a notion that bore me upward and beyond
 Endless... where the unknown Torah highways run
 Joining the uprooted

"O Jerusalem, may my right hand forget its skill and my tongue cling to my palate, if I do not remember you, if I do not make Jerusalem my greatest joy."

The Rainbow

Raindrops splattered on my window pane,
like marks of fingerprints
on my window frame.
Then the rain stopped crying,
its droplets did end,
and a glow of colors wrapped around a curve
did descend.
It was a Rainbow
curved and bent,
could it be from Heaven sent?

~SANDI LEHMAN

From a Window

Cluster of leaves on the trees moving, dancing, prancing with the wind, sunlight partially beaming over the leaves
while following madly with the wind.

The human eye can only see those dancing leaves
that are swaying,
but the human eye cannot hear what these leaves
are saying...

~ SANDI LEHMAN

Empty Rooms

Closing My Parent's House Doe eyed
With keys in my hand ...I stood silent
Preparing for the final moment...immobilized
Frozen in time, swirling away in life's new streams
Departure challenged, profoundly engaged
Remembering that there are abandoned sanctuaries of our exile
Forgotten cities of our past where we were driven out
Where our cellular memories burn into our ancestral plight
Where Hashem has preserved a remnant scroll of our history
From the home where I was nurtured and sheltered so well
God also hovered over us like a helicopter Deity hands on
A shepherd watching his flock, a lingering echo of chronic strife
At times bearing our wounds on a leafless scenario of empty branches
Leaving was no victory; nothing seemed finished, shadows of family
That will never fade as a still enveloping flame multiplies its range
Glow with stealth song as only the chameleon heart may see
The empty rooms...ghost memories, tchotchkes gone
Swallowing broken dreams, afraid to leave fragile interludes
Perceptive eyes framing mountains of highs and lows
Remembering the long filaments of years growing up
My kid sister now gone, lung cancer from nicotine
All the memories...the symmetry of simple lives echoing
Just standing remembering the carousel of episodic dreams
Going around and round...racing thoughts...numb
Familiar smells, echoing joy and tears, blending environments
The Passover Seder, the Rosh Hashana meal, breaking the fast
Mischievous pleasures, controlled levity, a simple soundtrack
Thinking of letting go, my chameleon mind racing
More High Holiday thoughts...the family gatherings
Iconic Passover Seders, Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur
Listening to the years go by...cataloguing piece meal thoughts
A roof and three squares not too much more
Where I grew up, listening to the sounds of peace
Listening to the echoes of the past, the universe unfolds
All their possessions used to be here, tranquil lives
Tender moments staring into our hearts, a loved voice
The 1940 RCA standing radio, the 1955 first TV
With built in record player, crafted for vinyl records
The first LP an amalgam of schmaltz smothered in stars
The Four Aces singing Love is A Many Splendored Thing
I see the clouds; I see the sky without shuddering
Everything is clearer in my heart, echoing, withdrawing
No more roots and wings...only lonely plateaus
What came before seemed like inverted memories
We lingered, the roots now uprooted, the past is prologue
Then I locked the door for the final time, placed the key in the mailbox
Never looking back, attempting the exceptional and fled
Silently introspective How is this day different than all the others?

~MARVIN HERSHORN

Anchors: Too Much, Too Many

Our lives are an improvisational art at every episode
Too much acceleration, too much change at every stage
Life is multifaceted- episodic...active learning never fades
There are few obsidian memory shards that I might treasure
Too much predictable puzzlements as the world cleanses itself
Too many people like us everywhere, who love God
But can't recall where or why ..., as you search for your soul
Too much alone, thinking about the seventh decade
Too many losses of friends, relatives, children, colleagues
Too many funerals, Shiva houses, hospital visits, oncologists
Too many righteous and frocked holy men reading absolute truths
Bargaining with God...phlegmatic, pondering introspectively
Declaring their preaching as truth without neither faltering nor declining
With a gentle touch and an apocalyptic tone
Officiated by a rent a clergy person's mechanical eulogy
Unblessed theater focusing on deeds eclipsing misdeeds
Profligate in your angst with eyes to the ground lacking shelf life
Too many terminal cases going through mechanical regimes of ...
Chemo therapy, radiation therapy, surgeries, transfusions
Waiting, waiting for oncologist meetings, biopsy reports
Test results...hearing "We can't do any more for you."
Dreading their purity as gospel...the solitude deepens
Decrying the doctor's conclusive pronouncements
Flowing confusedly, hard to assimilate...to process
To understand your vulnerability, trying to recalibrate
Steeling yourself up... for... a medical haymaker
Preparing for...Too many emotional eulogies
Solitary processing... With...An unnatural civility
A tempestuous distraction enralls our being
Too many children living out of town
Rendering us geographically challenged in existential crises
But...We never think twice, that's our lives
I think we're going to be all right,
The laudatory narratives chosen by proud lions
I watched sad faced...while resources dwindle
We bought our ticket for life's roller coaster ride
The ride is near its end, we've got our lives to live
There are no more tears that I'm going to spend
The morning sun is a shining light within undignified fires
The stories remain in the past, we embrace our gratitude list
Accepting the things we cannot change
April 19, 2017, after visiting a terminally ill friend

Senior Driving

Know the warning signs of unsafe driving

Issues with health

Health problems don't always mean that driving needs to be stopped, but they do require extra vigilance, awareness, and willingness to correct them. Some health problems include:

▪ Conflicting medications.

Certain medications or combinations of medications can affect senses and reflexes. Always check the label on medications and double check with your healthcare team if you are taking several medications or notice a difference after starting a new medication.

▪ Eyesight problems.

Some eye conditions or medications can interfere with your ability to focus your peripheral vision, or cause you to experience extra sensitivity to light, trouble seeing in the dark, or blurred vision. Can you easily see traffic lights and street signs? Or do you find yourself driving closer and closer, slowing by a sign to see it? Can you react appropriately to drivers coming from behind or to the side?

▪ Hearing problems.

If your hearing is decreasing, you may not realize you're missing out on important cues to drive safely. Can you hear emergency sirens, or if someone is accelerating next to you, or honking the horn?

▪ Problems with reflexes and range of motion.

Can you react quickly enough if you need to brake suddenly or quickly look back? Have you confused the gas and brake pedals? Do you find yourself getting more flustered while driving, or quick to anger? Is it comfortable to look back over your shoulder or does it take extra effort?

▪ Problems with memory.

Do you find yourself missing exits that used to be second nature, or find yourself getting lost frequently? While everyone has an occasional lapse, if there's a pattern that is increasing, it's time to get evaluated by a doctor.

Issues on the road

▪ Trouble with the nuts and bolts of driving.

Do you see yourself making sudden lane changes, drifting into other lanes, braking, or accelerating suddenly without reason? How about failing to use the turn signal, or keeping the signal on without changing lanes?

▪ Close calls and increased citations. Red flags include frequent "close calls" (i.e., almost crashing), dents and scrapes on the car or on fences, mailboxes, garage doors, and curbs. Increased traffic tickets or "warnings" by traffic or law enforcement officers.

SUDOKU

Sudoku doesn't require any special math skills or calculations. It is a simple and fun game of logic -- all that's needed is brains and concentration.

There is really only one rule to Sudoku: Fill in the game board so that the numbers 1 through 9 occur exactly once in each row, column, and 3x3 box. The numbers can appear in any order and diagonals are not considered. Your initial game board will consist of several numbers that are already placed. Those numbers cannot be changed. Your goal is to fill in the empty squares following the simple rule above.

			5	4		7		3
1						9	6
3		6	1	9	7		8
		1	8				4
5		9		3		8		7
	2				4	5
	6		7	8	3	1		2
	1	7						8
9		3		1	5

1. Fill the grid so that the numbers 1 through 9 appear in each row.

2. Fill the grid so that the numbers 1 through 9 appear in each column.

3. Fill the grid so that the numbers 1 through 9 appear in each 3x3 box.

4. A complete Sudoku puzzle contains the numbers 1 through 9 in every row, column and 3x3 box.

Hint: Start with a square that only has three numbers missing. Look at surrounding squares and grids to see which numbers you need to fill that 3x3 grid.

The Puzzler

By CHARLES K. PARNESS

Puzzle A

Here is an old puzzler you may have forgotten.

Residents of CVE George Smith and his wife Agnes decide to visit their children. The primary reason is to attend a party to celebrate the birth of their sixth grandchild. Due to George's fear of flying they planned to drive the 200 miles, with Agnes driving the first half of the trip and George the last part. The route they chose was a one lane highway in each direction.

Based on the distance and when they planned to arrive at the party, George calculated that they should average 50 miles an hour to arrive at the party on time.

With Agnes driving, they ran into a problem right from the start. On the one lane (in each direction) highway, she drove behind a slow truck. When they reached the half-way point of their journey, George noted that they had not averaged the planned 50 miles an hour rate but averaged only 25 miles per hour. The truck left the highway at the half-way point and George then took over the driving for the second half of the trip.

In attempting to arrive at the party at the originally planned time, George had to increase his driving speed.

Question: How fast must George drive on the second half of the trip so that he and Agnes arrive at the party at the original planned time?

Note: Agnes suggested that since they averaged 25 miles on the first half of the trip, driving at 75 miles an hour for the second half would do the trick. She was wrong!

Cooke's Look at Books

By RICHARD WILLIAM COOKE

A monthly look at books of interest – new and, occasionally, not-so-new, fiction and nonfiction – available at local libraries, bookstores and from online booksellers.

Mangrove Lightning

By Randy Wayne White, Putnam, 329 Pages, $27

Here's what The Washington Times says about this new book: "Anyone who insists that mysteries cannot be real literature should be duct-taped to a chair and handed Randy Wayne White."

Author White is the author of 24 Doc Ford novels, and four collections of non-fiction. He lives on Sanibel Island where he was a fishing guide for many years. He knows Florida. He loves Florida. And he is one of the best at capturing Old Florida for his fans.

His newest novel takes place when Florida was wilder than the Wild West during the turn of the previous century, and far more difficult to travel by rail or on horseback. Smuggled-in rum and Chinese workers, a developer's wealth versus inhabitants who made up their own laws, and who bristle at efforts to bring law into the Everglades, make up the essence of this tale. Add in the sudden disappearance of a deputy, his wife, and their two young children, and you have a historic pot-boiler that will have you fleeing Netflix for the printed page.

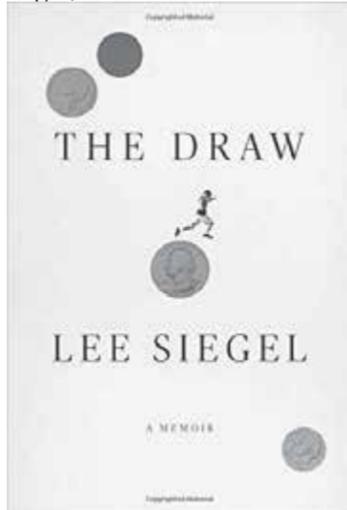

Tootsie Barlow is a legend in the fishing community, an old salt who has some secrets of his own involving the murder of the deputy and his family. Legend has it that the crime carries a curse for anyone getting too close to the case. When Doc Ford starts following its trail, which leads from Key Largo to Tallahassee, he suffers a series of near-fatal mishaps. Curse? Or not?

Explosive events, moving at breakneck speed, set the stage for this high-octane,

Florida-based thriller. With a clever combination of humor, action, intriguing characters, suspense, science -- and crisp, crackling writing -- White has created a dandy read, with the murky depths of the deep blue ocean as its scenic backdrop.

The Draw

By Lee Siegel, Farrar Straus & Giroux, 250 Pages, $26

The draw, the advance against future commissions, if any, that salespeople receive as salary, plays the star role in this wrenching new memoir.

"My mother was the last person I wanted to ask for the money," Siegel writes, now when things were the darkest for him. "But she was the only person I could ask." Speeding up the Garden State Parkway at eighty miles per hour, he arrives to find his mother in her nightgown.

"Why don't you ask your father?"

"You know he has no money," Siegel answers.

"Here we go again," she hisses. "It's because you dream and dream and dream, like your father and, like your father, everyone else has to pay for your dreams. Do you think I owe you this money?"

"No. I'm just asking you to loan it to me. I'll pay you back."

"Enough," she says. "I brought you into this world. Do you know how much that hurt? It hurt a lot. Then I cleaned you, I wiped you, I soothed you, stayed up with you all night." Then, pulling at her fingers she hurls something into the yard.

"Take my engagement ring. It's the only expensive piece of jewelry I have. Take it and sell it. Take the only precious thing I have. That's what a mother does for her son."

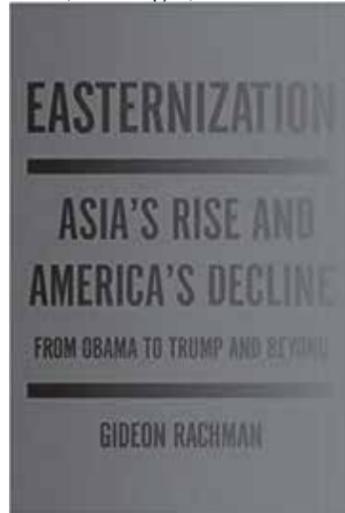

To escape his mother's bewildering manipulations, and the shame and rage that his debt-ridden father's fate incited in him, Siegel earlier stumbled through a series of menial jobs while trying to succeed as a writer. He dreamed of attending a great university where he could fulfill his destiny in his work. But to attend college, he had to take out loans -- unwittingly repeating his father's trajectory.

This spirited, unsparing, revealing odyssey will ring true for anyone who has tried to break through the barriers of family, class and money to the freedom to choose his or her own path in life.

Easternization: Asia's Rise and America's Decline

By Gideon Rachman, Other Press, 307 Pages, $25.95

The author of this new book, sure to make Americans even more uneasy than ever before, asserts that the U.S., as a young country, has a linear view of history, believing that progress and ever-greater national power is the natural order of things.

However, the Chinese, heirs to a 5,000-year-old historic tradition, view history as cyclical, not necessarily natural -- and are now confident that the cycles are shifting in their favor.

A troubled but rising China is now challenging U.S. supremacy. Other Asian powers -- including Japan, North Korea, India and Pakistan -- have the potential to shake the world. And, presently, the West is struggling with economic malaise and political populism, the Arab world is in turmoil and Russia longs to reclaim its status as a great power.

Adding to the mix of global uncertainty, according to author Rachman, is Donald Trump's ascendancy to the presidency of what has been the world's greatest superpower and democratic leader for the past 70 years. His new and untested status as a hawkish, protectionist leader of the Free World has significantly increased the likelihood of conflict between the United States and China -- with confrontation looming over trade, Taiwan, and the South China Sea.

Former chief foreign affairs commentator for The Financial Times Rachman writes, "When Barack Obama came into power in 2009, his initial goal was to construct a new relationship with China based on tackling big global issues -- climate change and financial stability -- and he had won Chinese President Xi's interest in working on those challenges to humanity as a whole. That positive beginning has, unfortunately, now pointed in the opposite direction."

What's to be done? "The great political challenge of the twenty-first century will be to manage the process of Easternization in the common interests of humankind," concludes Rachman. A tall order.

Scars of Independence: America's Violent Birth

By Holger Hoock, Crown, 559 Pages, $30

One thing this book proves, American history is exciting! Especially the unvarnished edition, and that's what you get in this riveting, rumble-tumble of a narrative.

Forget what your grade school teacher taught you about the American Revolution. Here's the real tale, no holds barred.

Not that this book is not deeply researched and scholarly. It most certainly is. Author Holger Hoock was educated at Cambridge, received his doctorate at Oxford holds a long, weighty academic title at the University of Pittsburgh. But the man can also write! And no historian before Hoock has made the experience of violence so central a theme of the Revolution.

American Patriots persecuted and tortured Loyalists! British troops massacred enemy soldiers and raped colonial women! Prisoners were starved on disease-ridden ships and in subterranean cells! African-Americans fighting for or against independence suffered disproportionately! Washington's army waged a genocidal campaign against the Iroquois!

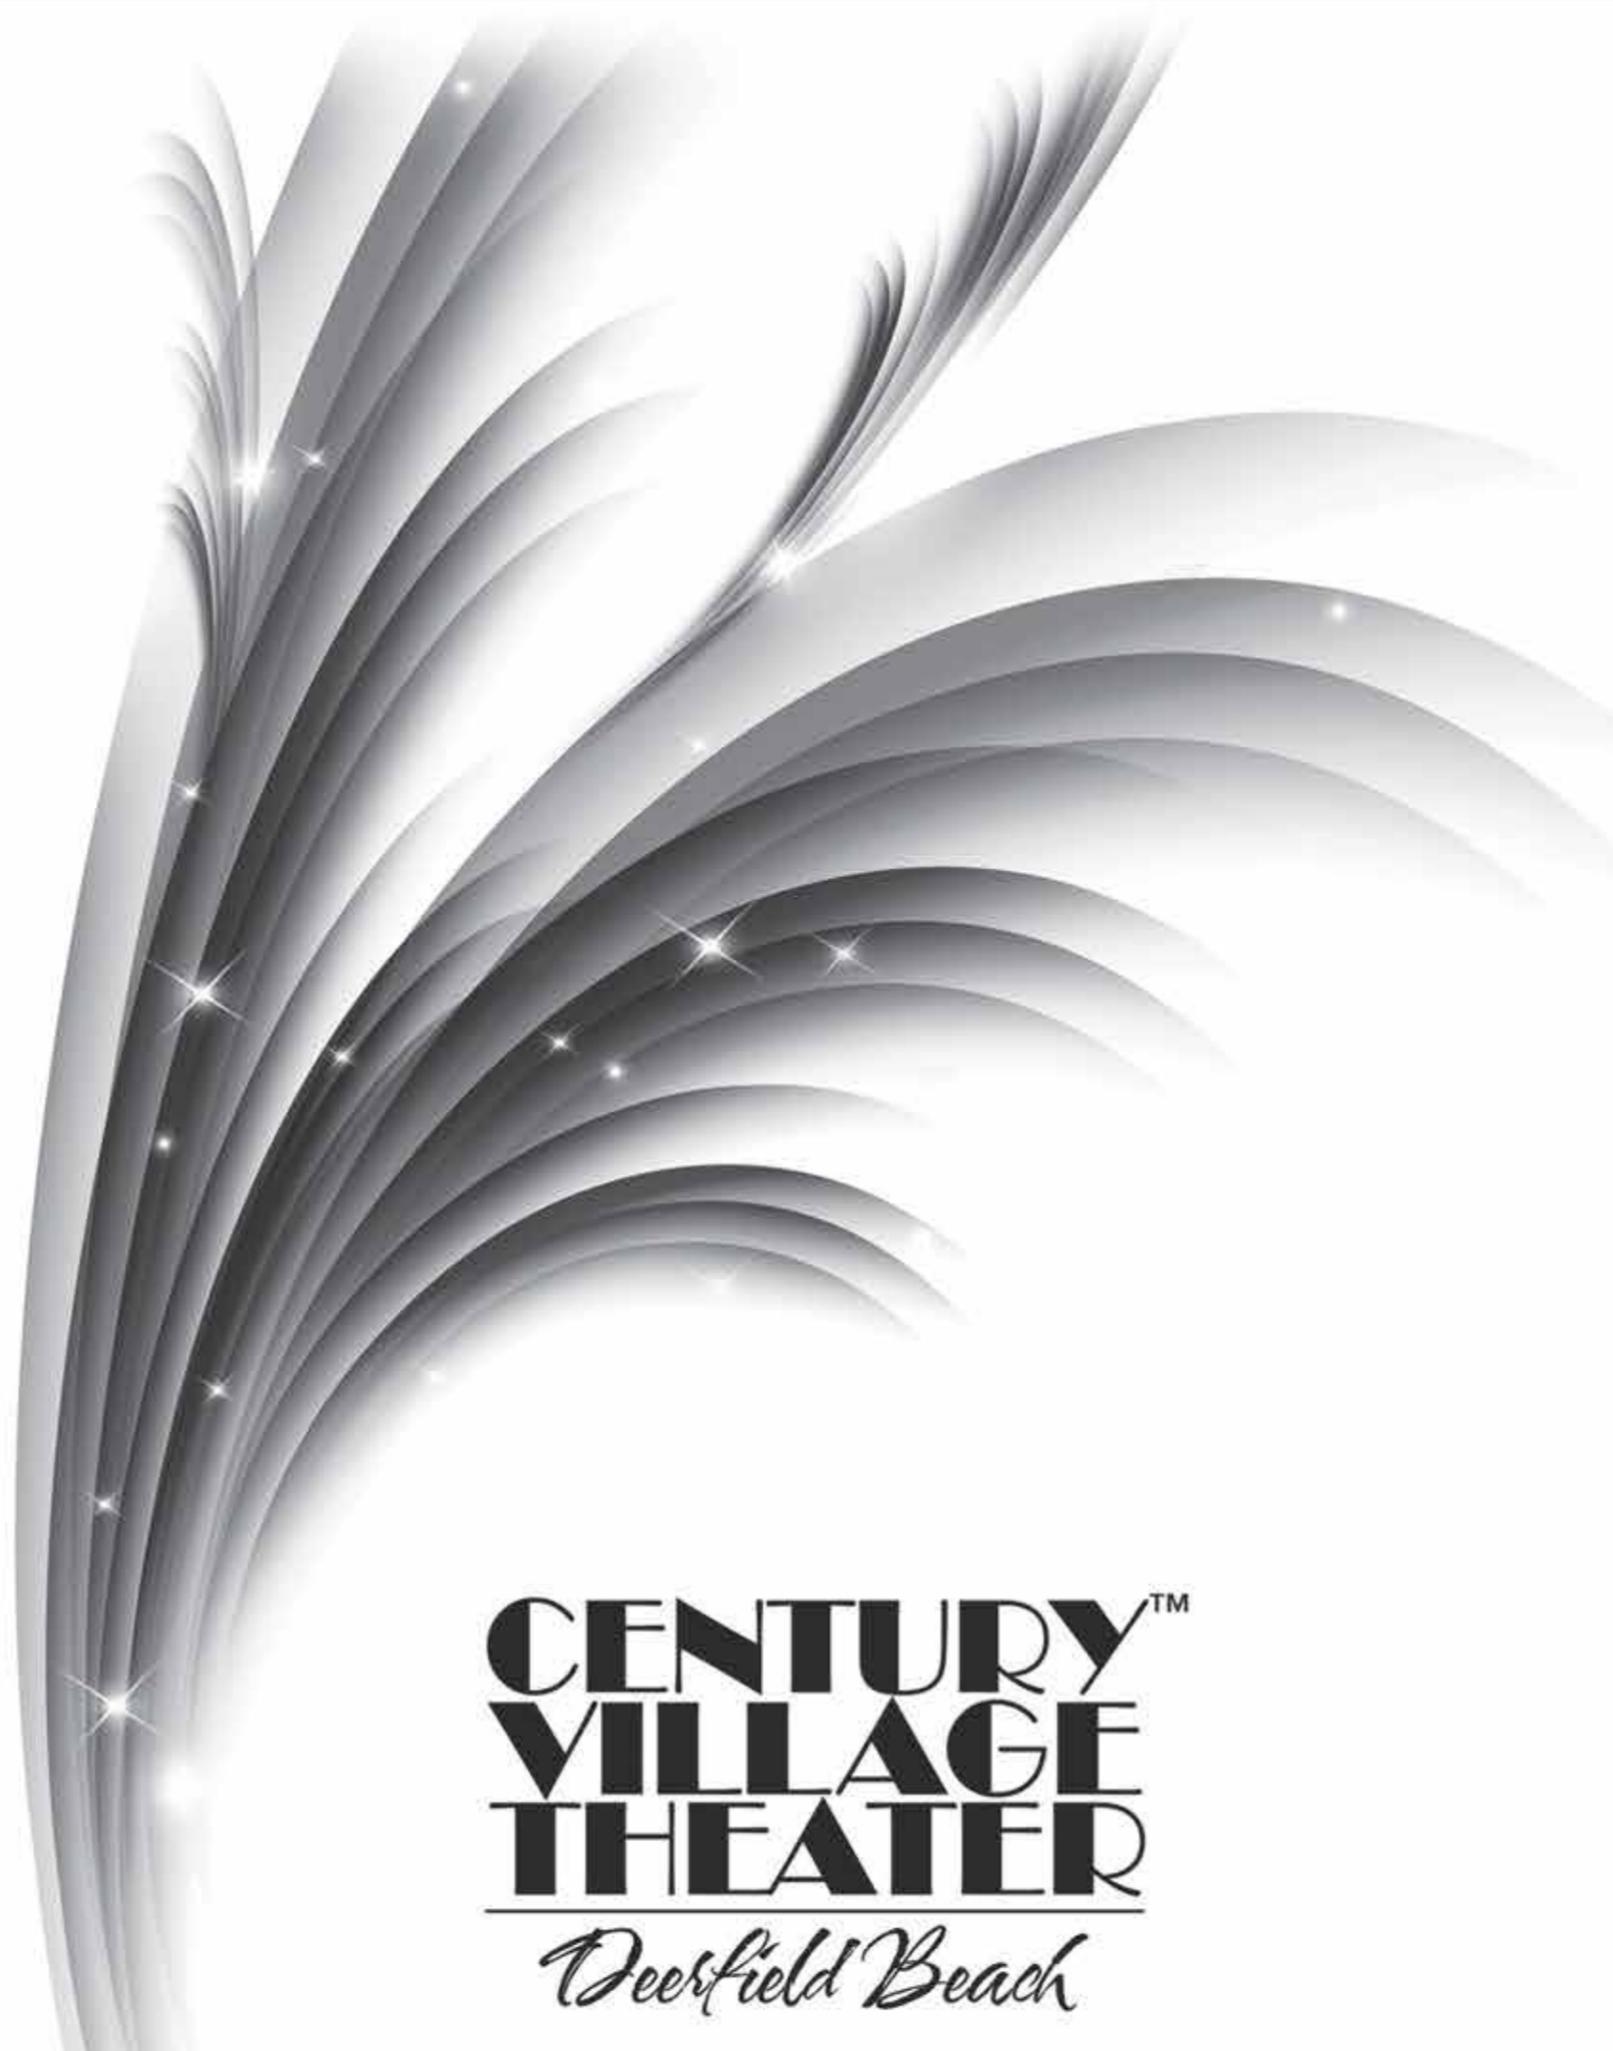

Hoock writes that for two centuries we have whitewashed this history of the Revolution. It is often portrayed as an orderly, restrained rebellion with brave patriots defending their noble ideals against an oppressive empire. However, the author's account -- elegantly-written as it is -- shows the founding of America was not only a high-minded battle over principles, but also a profoundly brutal civil war, one that shaped the nation, and the British Empire, in ways we have only begun to understand.

Scars of Independence forces a more honest appraisal of the battle, revealing inherent tensions between moral purpose and violent tendencies in America's past. In so doing, it offers a new origin story that is both relevant and necessary -- an important reminder that forging a nation is rarely bloodless.

Answer to the Puzzler from page 28-B

Puzzle A

There are two ways to solve the problem: logically and mathematically:

Logical Solution: The total trip was 200 miles. Averaging 50 miles an hour, the total time to do the entire trip is four hours. However, during the first half of the trip, they averaged 25 miles an hour. Since the first half of the trip was 100 miles long and averaging 25 miles per hour, it took them four hours to cover the first half of the trip. Since the party started four hours from when they started, no matter how fast they drove, they would never get to the party on time.

Mathematical Solution: The R (rate) times T (time) equals D (distance).

Re-written equation: R (rate) equals D (distance) / T (time).

Let us label the factors as 1 for the first half and 2 as the second half and t for the total trip

$$Tt = T1 + T2$$

$$T1 = 4 \text{ hours; } Tt \text{ is } = 4 \text{ hours}$$

$$\text{Then } T2 \text{ must } = 0 \text{ hours}$$

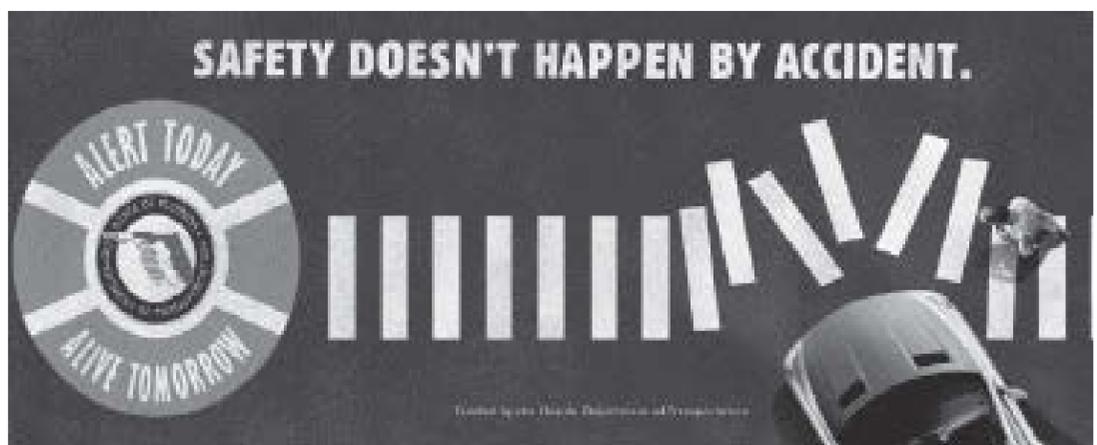

Since R 2(rate) equals D2 (distance) / T2 (time)

We know that D2 is 100 miles; from above we know that T2 is 0

Then the rate for the second half of the trip

$$R2 = D2 (100 \text{ miles}) / T2 (\text{zero})$$

Anything divided by zero is indeterminate - no way.
