

PIPELINE SAFETY TRAINING

Please feel free to share my contact information as well as the website login credentials:

Visit www.practicalpipelines.org

Select Texas on the nationwide map

Enter the password "inspired" when prompted

Search for Harris County

Pipeline companies sponsor these resources for Harris County are required by state and federal regulations to deliver such information to you annually, our goal at the Smalley Foundation is to provide access in formats that offer convenience and flexibility.... and that you can safely incorporate into your individual, group or online training routines.

As an alternative or supplement to online viewing, you may request a DVD or USB with hard-copy materials be mailed to you at no cost... just contact Erica Robertson, ericarobertson@smalleyfnd.org, to let her know what you need!

Also, in the Spring there is typically a spike in damages to underground infrastructure due to increased digging activity such as home improvements, farming etc.

Because of this, April is National Safe Digging Month! Please consider sharing the link below with your group, which has resources they can use on their social media platforms, websites and other safety communications within their areas.

https://commongroundalliance.com/Tools-Resources/Resources-Library/Toolkits/National-Safe-Digging-Month?utm_source=informz&utm_medium=email&utm_campaign=Informz%20email&zs=Nm3Gb&zI=OpQV2

Sheila Caguiat, MSW, Danielle Dawn Smalley Foundation, Executive Director. (972-472-6500)

For over 11 years Sheila has been working at the Smalley Foundation to develop, enhance, facilitate and manage the organizations pipeline safety programs by working with stakeholders, industry, and regulatory agencies. She has personally delivered pipeline safety education and emergency planning to school officials in over 40 states across the nation in partnership with numerous pipeline companies. As a non-profit professional, Sheila has over 20 years of experience working with tribal, faith-based, public, and private organizations, many which include prevention and safety programming. Sheila holds degrees in human development, sociology, social work, and a master's degree in non-profit administration/community practice. She is a member of the Common Ground Alliance, has been published in industry journals and has spoken at pipeline safety conferences across the nation.

Visit <https://smalleyfnd.org/> for more information on the Smalley Foundation. Also visit <https://txssc.txstate.edu/videos/pipeline-safety/> for school pipeline safety videos and materials as provided by the Smalley Foundation.

*Practical
Pipelines*

