

HAMMOCK HACK THURSDAY

PICK UP RIGHT WHERE YOU LEFT OFF

Reopen your tabs. Take them with you.

Two simple ways your browser can follow you.

1 REOPEN YOUR PREVIOUS TABS

Come back tomorrow and pick up where you left off.

Set your browser to reopen the tabs and windows you had open when you last closed it.

- ✓ Saves time every morning
- ✓ Perfect for research and projects that span several days
- ✓ Not a substitute for bookmarks or saved work

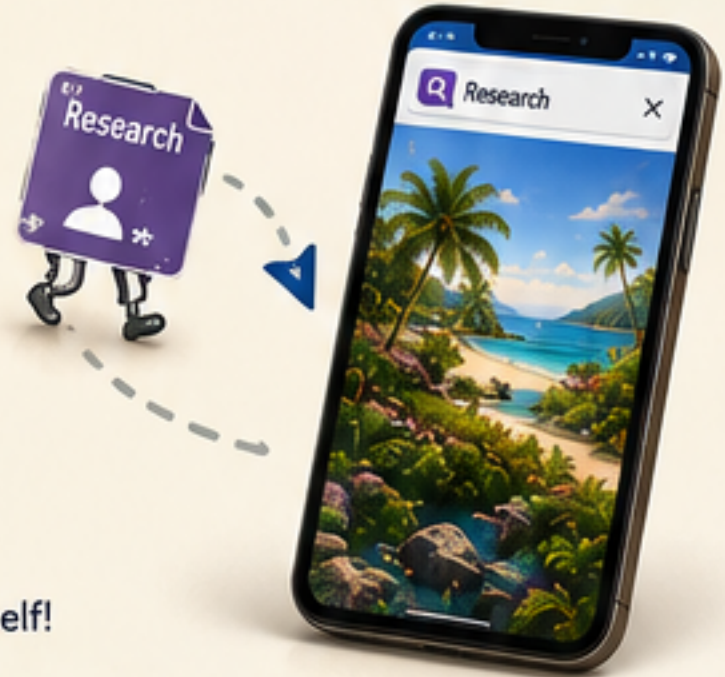

2 SEND A TAB TO ANOTHER DEVICE

Move the page. Not the link.

When you're signed in and syncing, send any open tab to another device.

- ✓ Computer → Phone
- ✓ Phone → Laptop
- ✓ Desktop → Tablet
- ✓ No emailing links to yourself!

HOW-TO: SET IT UP (BROWSER BY BROWSER)

1 REOPEN YOUR PREVIOUS TABS

CHROME	- Click the menu (:) > Settings - On startup > select "Continue where you left off"
EDGE	- Click the menu (...) > Settings - Start, home, and new tabs - Under "When Edge starts" select "Continue where you left off"
FIREFOX	- Click the menu (≡) > Settings - General > Startup - Select "Open previous windows and tabs"
SAFARI (MAC)	- Safari > Settings > General - For "Safari opens with:" select "All windows from last session"

SEND A TAB TO ANOTHER DEVICE

CHROME	- Right-click the tab - Click "Send to your devices" - Choose the device
EDGE	- Right-click the tab - Click "Send tab to your devices" - Choose the device
FIREFOX	- Click the menu (≡) > Synced Tabs - Select "Send tab to device" - Choose the device
SAFARI (MAC/iOS)	- Make sure iCloud Tabs is on (Preferences > iCloud) - Open Safari on the other device - Tap "Tabs" to see your devices and open the tab

QUICK TIPS

- ★ Keep only the tabs you need.
- 📁 Group related tabs (see last week's Hammock Hack!).
- 🕒 Close what you don't need to speed things up.
- 🔖 Bookmark or save important pages.

★ WHY YOU'LL LOVE THESE HACKS

- ✓ Start your day right where you left off
- ✓ Stay organized and save time
- ✓ Move your work between devices seamlessly
- ✓ Less frustration. More productivity. More hammock time!

WORK WHEREVER LIFE TAKES YOU.

Your browser can keep up.
