1. Policy Statement

- 1.1 This document sets out our policy and procedures for safeguarding and protecting the welfare of all children¹ who attend First Thought Independent School.
- 1.2 The safeguarding of children is the School's highest priority. It is of paramount importance that every child feels safe and is protected from maltreatment including any form of abuse or neglect. The School recognises the importance of a whole school safeguarding culture which underpins every aspect of school life.
- 1.3 This policy applies to all staff (teaching and non-teaching) and volunteers as well as the members of the board of Advisors. The School recognises that everyone who comes into contact with children and their families/carers has a role to play in ensuring that they are effectively safeguarded.
- 1.4 It is the intention that this policy will reflect the utmost importance which the School gives to safeguarding and the protection of children's welfare. It takes into account and is intended to reflect the guidance and requirements set out in Keeping children safe in education 2025: statutory guidance for schools and colleges, Working Together to Safeguard Children \(December 2023\), Prevent Duty Guidance: for England and Wales, Meeting digital and technology standards in schools and colleges \(2022\), Information sharing advice for safeguarding practitioners \(2024\) and The Education \(Independent School Standards\) Regulations 2014.
- 1.5 Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is defined for the purposes of this policy as:
 - providing help and support to meet the needs of children as soon as problems emerge.
 - protecting children from maltreatment, whether the risk of harm comes from within or outside the child's family/home, including online.
 - preventing the impairment of children's mental and physical health or development.
 - ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care; and
 - taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes.
- 1.6 In order to fulfil its responsibilities, the School aims to create a culture of vigilance when it comes to safeguarding matters and to always work in the best interests of those in our care.
- 1.7 The School recognises that children and young adults with special educational needs and disabilities are particularly vulnerable to potential maltreatment. In particular, they are at greater risk of: (a) assumptions being made that indicators of possible abuse (e.g. behaviour, mood and injury) related to their disability meaning that they are not explored properly; (b) peer group isolation; (c) being disproportionately impacted by behaviours such as bullying, without outwardly showing any signs; and (d) communication barriers and difficulties in overcoming these barriers.
- 1.8 The School will therefore take all reasonable steps to:
 - practice safe recruitment by checking the suitability of staff and volunteers (including staff employed by another organisation) to work with children and vulnerable adults.

- carry out all necessary checks on the suitability of people who serve on the School's board of Advisors in accordance with any applicable regulations and guidance.
- ensure that, where the School ceases to use the services of any person (whether employed, self-employed or a volunteer) because that person was considered unsuitable to work with children or vulnerable adults, a prompt and detailed report will be made to the Disclosure & Barring Service (DBS).
- ensure that, where staff from another organisation are working with our children on another site, we have received written assurances that appropriate suitability checks and procedures apply to those staff.
- follow the Gloucestershire Child Protection Procedures published by the Gloucestershire Safeguarding Children Partnership (GSCP).
- protect each child from any form of maltreatment, whether from an adult or another child (further details of the type of maltreatment covered by this policy are set out in Annex 3).
- prevent the impairment of any child's mental and physical health or development.
- be alert to signs of maltreatment both in the School and from outside.
- deal appropriately with every suspicion or complaint of maltreatment.
- design and operate procedures which promote this policy.
- design and operate procedures which, so far as possible, ensure that teachers and others who are innocent are not prejudiced by false allegations (any allegations against staff will be dealt with in accordance with the GSCP Allegations Management Procedure).
- support children who have been maltreated, in accordance with his/her agreed child protection plan.
- be alert to the medical needs of children with medical conditions.
- operate robust and sensible health & safety procedures.
- take all practicable steps to ensure that school premises are as secure as circumstances permit.
- ensure that all children receive appropriate tuition and guidance about safeguarding and child protection matters including online safety.
- operate clear and supportive policies on drugs, alcohol and substance misuse.
- consider and develop procedures to deal with any other safeguarding issues which may be specific to individual children.
- have regard to guidance issued by the Department for Education in accordance with section 175 Education Act 2002 and associated regulations.

- 1.9 All staff should be aware that children may not feel ready or know how to tell someone that they are being abused, exploited, or neglected, and/or they may not recognise their experiences as harmful. For example, children may feel embarrassed, humiliated, or being threatened. This could be due to their vulnerability, disability and/or sexual orientation or language barriers. Staff are therefore trained and encouraged to use professional curiosity with children and speak to the DSL if they have concerns about a child. Staff are supported to build trusted relationships with children and young people which facilitate communication.

2. Early Help

2.1 Early help means providing support as soon as a problem emerges, at any point in a child's life. The School recognises that providing early help is more effective in promoting the welfare of children than reacting later. Early help can be particularly useful to address non-violent harmful sexual behaviour and may prevent escalation of sexual violence. Staff members should be particularly alert to the potential need for early help for a child who:

- is disabled or has certain health conditions and has specific additional needs.
- has special educational needs (whether or not they have a statutory Education, Health and Care Plan).
- has a mental health need.
- is a young carer.
- is showing signs of being drawn into anti-social or criminal behaviour, including gang involvement and association with organised crime groups or county lines.
- is frequently missing/goes missing from education, home or care.
- has experienced multiple suspensions, is at risk of being permanently excluded from schools, colleges and in alternative provision or a pupil referral unit.
- is at risk of modern slavery, trafficking, sexual and/or criminal exploitation.
- is at risk of being radicalised or exploited.
- has a parent or carer in custody or is affected by parental offending.
- is in a family circumstance presenting challenges for the child, such as drug and alcohol misuse, adult mental health issues and domestic abuse.
- is misusing alcohol or other drugs themselves.
- is at risk of so-called 'honour'-based abuse such as Female Genital Mutilation or Forced Marriage.
- is a privately fostered child.

2.2 Any member of staff who believes that there may be an emerging problem which means that a child might benefit from early help should notify the Designated Safeguarding Lead who will carry out an assessment to identify whether they might benefit from the provision of early help services. If it is identified that early help services might be beneficial the Designated Safeguarding Lead will support the staff member in liaising with other agencies and setting up an inter-agency assessment as appropriate. Staff members may be required to support other agencies and professionals in an early help assessment, in some cases acting as the lead professional. Any such cases will be kept under constant review and consideration will be given to a referral to children's social care for assessment for statutory services if the child's situation does not appear to be improving or is getting worse. Further guidance on effective assessment of the need for Early Help can be found in Working Together to Safeguard Children \(December 2023\)

3. Safeguarding Procedures

- 3.1 Every complaint, suspicion, allegation or disclosure of maltreatment from within or outside the School will be taken seriously and, where appropriate, will be referred to an external agency such as the Gloucestershire Children and Families Front Door, the police or the NSPCC in accordance with the procedures published by the Gloucestershire Safeguarding Children Partnership (GSCP). Different procedures apply depending on whether the matter involves a suspicion or allegation against a member of staff (referred to below as an “allegation”) or whether it involves a suspicion, complaint or disclosure of maltreatment occurring outside the School (referred to below as a “disclosure”).
- 3.2 A flowchart showing a summary of the procedure for reporting disclosures and allegations of maltreatment involving a child under 18 is set out at Annex 1.
- 3.3 The Designated Safeguarding Lead for the School is the Head of Education Hannah Dadge. If she is unavailable, her duties will be carried out by the Assistant Head of Education (the “Deputy Safeguarding Officer”). In the unlikely event that neither the Designated Safeguarding Lead nor the Deputy Safeguarding Officer is available, their duties will be carried out by Jack Cook (Chief Executive). The contact details of all relevant individuals are set out at the end of this policy.

Initial action

- 3.4 A member of staff suspecting or hearing of an allegation or disclosure of maltreatment:
- Must listen carefully to the child and keep an open mind. Staff should not make a decision as to whether or not the maltreatment has taken place. Staff must make an immediate risk assessment and consider the safety of those immediately involved, or others who could be potentially at risk. This may require immediate action such as moving a child or member of staff.
 - Must not ask leading questions, that is, a question which suggests its own answer.
 - Must reassure the child but not give a guarantee of absolute confidentiality. The member of staff must explain that they need to pass the information to the Designated Safeguarding Lead who will ensure that the correct action is taken.
 - Should reassure any child that has disclosed that they are being taken seriously and that they will be supported and kept safe. The child should never be given the impression that they are creating a problem by reporting abuse, sexual violence or sexual harassment, nor should they ever be made to feel ashamed for making a report.
 - Must keep a sufficient written record of the conversation. The record should include the date, time and place of the conversation and the essence of what was said and done by whom and in whose presence. The record should be signed by the person making it and should use names, not initials. The record must be kept securely and handed to the Designated Safeguarding Lead immediately if it is considered that there is an immediate risk of harm and as soon as possible (and in any event within 12 hours) in the case of all other concerns.

- Must ensure that all evidence, (for example, scribbled notes, mobile phones containing text messages, clothing, and computers) is safeguarded and preserved.

Reporting

3.5 All allegations or disclosures of maltreatment (however trivial they may seem) must be reported to the Designated Safeguarding Lead. In the absence of the Designated Safeguarding Lead the matter should be reported to one of the Deputy Safeguarding Officer. Their contact details are set out in section 8 below. If the allegation involves the Designated Safeguarding Lead, the matter should be reported to the Chief Executive.

3.6 Whilst it is anticipated that any serious concerns about a child or allegations against staff members will normally be reported to the Designated Safeguarding Lead in the first instance, anyone can report the matter immediately using Gloucestershire Children and Families Front Door which is open 9am to 5pm:

- Telephone: 01452 426565
- E-mail: childrenshelpdesk@gloucestershire.gov.uk

3.7 When considering how to report a concern or complaint, ensuring the safety and welfare of the child concerned should be the overriding consideration. If a crime is in the process of being committed, staff can also contact the local police directly themselves.

Record keeping

3.8 All concerns, discussions and decisions made, and the reasons for those decisions will be recorded in writing by the Designated Safeguarding Lead. Information will be detailed, accurate, kept confidential and stored securely. The records will include:

- A clear and comprehensive summary of the concern
- Details of how the concern was followed up and resolved
- A note of any action taken, decisions reached, the rationale for the decision and the outcome.

3.9 If in doubt about the recording requirements, staff should discuss the matter with the Designated Safeguarding Lead.

Action by the Designated Safeguarding Lead

3.10 The action to be taken will take into account:

- The procedures published by the Gloucestershire Safeguarding Children Partnership (GSCP).
- The nature and seriousness of the allegation or disclosure. A complaint involving a serious criminal offence will always be referred to the particular child's placing authority, Social Services Department, Ofsted and/or the police.
- The wishes of the child who has complained, provided that the child is of sufficient understanding and maturity and is properly informed. However, there may be times when the situation is so serious that decisions may need to be taken, after all appropriate consultation, that override a child's wishes.
- The wishes of the child's parent(s) provided they have no interest which is in conflict with the child's best interests and that they are properly informed. Again, it may be necessary, after all appropriate consultation, to override parental wishes in some circumstances. If the Designated Safeguarding Lead is concerned that disclosing information to parents would put a child at risk, he or she will take further advice from the relevant professionals before making a decision to disclose.
- Duties of confidentiality, so far as applicable.
- The lawful rights and interests of the school community as a whole including its employees and its insurers.
- If there is room for doubt as to whether a referral should be made, the Designated Safeguarding Lead may consult with the Local Authority Designated Officer, Social Services department, or other appropriate professionals on a no-names basis without identifying the family. However, as soon as sufficient concern exists that a child may be at risk of significant harm, a referral will be made without delay.
- The requirement to report to the police any evidence of a child becoming involved in prostitution, or of unauthorised persons picking children up, contacting children in the School, or observed trying to make contact with children outside the School.

Referrals to external agencies

3.11 If the Designated Safeguarding Lead identifies that a referral is appropriate, disclosures in relation to maltreatment by individuals other than members of staff will be referred to the appropriate contact within Social Services. For allegations against staff members, the matter will be referred in the first instance to the Local Authority Designated Officer. Concerns about a staff member's conduct may also be referred to the DBS where the organisation considers that the DBS should be made aware of the circumstances.

- 3.12 If the initial referral is made by telephone, the Designated Safeguarding Lead will confirm the referral in writing as soon as possible and normally within 24 hours. If no response or acknowledgment is received within three working days, the Designated Safeguarding Lead will contact the external agency again.
- 3.13 Where appropriate, the Designated Safeguarding Lead will also inform the relevant office of Ofsted without delay. It may also be appropriate to contact the Police depending on the circumstances. Further information can be found here - When to call the police: Guidance for schools & colleges.

Informing parents/carers/social workers

- 3.14 The Designated Safeguarding Lead will inform the social worker and, where appropriate, the parent(s) or carer(s) of the child(ren) involved about the allegation or disclosure as soon as possible if they do not already know of it. However, where a strategy discussion is required, or police or children's social care services need to be involved, parents or carers will not be informed until the relevant agencies have been consulted and have agreed what information can be disclosed. Whenever a social worker, parent or carer is informed of an allegation or disclosure, they will be reminded of the need to maintain confidentiality whilst the investigation is ongoing. The Designated Safeguarding Lead will also keep the child's social worker and, where appropriate, parent(s) or carer(s) informed about the progress of the case and told the outcome where there is not a criminal prosecution, including the outcome of any disciplinary process. The deliberations of any disciplinary hearing, and the information taken into account in reaching a decision, will not normally be disclosed, but the social worker and, where appropriate, parents or carers of the child may be informed of the outcome in confidence.
- 3.15 In any event, every child and their parent(s) will be informed in writing prior to the child's placement, of their right to make their own complaint or referral to the Social Services department or the Child Protection Unit of the police and will be provided with contact names, addresses and telephone numbers, as appropriate.

Informing staff members

- 3.16 The staff member who reported the allegation or disclosure along with any other relevant staff members will normally be informed in supervision meetings of the progress and outcome of any referral. However, it may not be appropriate to provide full details if there is a risk that this could compromise an ongoing investigation or any duties of confidentiality owed by the School to the staff member(s) or other individuals who are the subject of the allegation or disclosure.

Contextual safeguarding

- 3.17 The School recognises that safeguarding and child protection incidents and/or behaviours can be associated with factors outside the School and/or can occur between children outside the School. All staff should be aware that safeguarding incidents and/or behaviours can be associated with factors outside the school and/or can occur between children outside of these environments. All staff, but especially the Designated Safeguarding Lead (and deputies) should consider whether children are at risk of abuse or exploitation in situations outside their families. Extra-familial harms take a variety of different forms and children can be vulnerable to multiple harms including but not limited to sexual exploitation (including harassment and exploitation), domestic abuse in their own intimate relationships (teenage relationship abuse), criminal exploitation, serious youth violence, county lines and radicalisation. Assessments of children should always consider whether wider environmental factors are present in a child's life that are a threat to their safety and/or welfare. In particular, children's social care assessments should consider such factors so the School will provide as much information as possible as part of the referral process. This will allow any assessment to consider all the available evidence and the full context of any abuse. Further information can be accessed here: Multi-agency Practice Principles for responding to child exploitation and extra-familial harm.

4. Particular safeguarding issues

Allegations against staff members

- 4.1 The School has procedures for dealing with allegations against staff (including any volunteers who work with children) that aim to strike a balance between the need to protect children from maltreatment and the need to protect staff and volunteers from false or unfounded allegations. These procedures follow the guidance in Part 4 of Keeping Children Safe in Education \(2025\) and the Allegations Management Procedure published by the Gloucestershire Childrens Safeguarding Partnership.
- 4.2 The Allegations Management Procedure will be invoked if a complaint or allegation is made or a concern is raised that a member of staff or volunteer has:
- behaved inappropriately in a way that has harmed or may have harmed a child; or
 - possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child; or
 - behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicates he or she may pose a risk of harm to children.
 - behaved or may have behaved in a way that indicates they may not be suitable to work with children. This is to take account of situations where a person's behaviour outside school may suggest 'transferable risk'.
- 4.3 Suspension will not be an automatic response to an allegation. Full consideration will be given to all the options, subject to the need to ensure the safety and welfare of the child or children concerned and the need for a full and fair investigation.
- 4.4 Where an allegation is made against a member of staff the matter should be referred to the Head of Education. Where an allegation is made against the Designated Safeguarding Lead, the matter should be reported immediately to the Chief Executive.
- 4.5 The School recognises that being the subject of an allegation can be a stressful experience for the member of staff concerned and seek to take appropriate steps to minimise the stress inherent in the allegations process. Any staff member who is the subject of an allegation will be provided with the name and contact details of a senior member of staff (other than the Designated Safeguarding Lead) who will keep them informed of progress and to provide such support as may be appropriate. If the staff member is suspended whilst the allegation is investigated, they will generally not be prevented from maintaining social contact with colleagues unless there is evidence to suggest that such contact is likely to be prejudicial to the gathering and presentation of evidence.
- 4.6 Guidance and training will be given to staff during their initial induction period to ensure that their behaviour and actions do not place children or themselves at risk of harm or of allegations of harm to a child. This is initially discussed in the first day induction training and further explored in child protection training. Lower-level concerns should initially be discussed during line manager supervision meetings and discussions. More concerning staff conduct incidents or breaches of policy should be referred to the senior leadership weekly HR meeting. Follow up actions may include close supervision and mentoring for the employee or possible disciplinary action under the disciplinary procedures. Further information about the School's policies on staff conduct is included in the Staff Handbook. The School's policy on physical restraint is included in the Behaviour Support and Physical Intervention Policy.

- 4.7 If a member of staff has concerns that another member of staff has or is likely to behave in a way set out in paragraph 4.2 above, they should report the matter immediately to the Designated Safeguarding Lead. If a member of staff has concerns about the Designated Safeguarding Lead, the matter should be reported immediately to the Chief Executive. Any concerns about the Chief Executive should be reported immediately to the Advisory board with responsibility for safeguarding. All contact numbers are listed in section 8 of this policy.
- 4.8 If the School ceases to use the services of a member of staff (or an advisor or volunteer) in circumstances where it is believed that they may be unsuitable to work with children or vulnerable adults, a prompt and detailed report will be made to the Disclosure and Barring Service. A settlement agreement will not be entered into which prevents the making of any such report. Any such incidents will be followed by a review of the safeguarding procedures within the School, with a report being presented to the advisors without delay.
- 4.9 The School may receive an allegation relating to an incident that happened when an individual or organisation was using the school premises for the purposes of running activities for children. As with any safeguarding allegation, the School will follow its normal safeguarding policy and procedure including informing the LADO. There are currently no individuals or organisations using the school premises to run extra-curricular activities, community groups or sports associations.

Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE) and Child Criminal Exploitation (CCE)

- 4.10 The School is aware of national concerns around child exploitation. Both CSE and CCE are forms of abuse and both occur where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance in power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child into sexual or criminal activity, in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator and/or through violence or the threat of violence. CSE and CCE can affect children, both male and female and can include children who have been moved (commonly referred to as trafficking) for the purpose of exploitation. Whilst age may be the most obvious, this power imbalance can also be due to a range of other factors including gender, sexual identity, cognitive ability, physical strength, status, and access to economic or other resources. In some cases, the abuse will be in exchange for something the victim needs or wants and/or will be to the financial benefit or other advantage (such as increased status) of the perpetrator or facilitator. The abuse can be a one-off occurrence or a series of incidents over time and range from opportunistic to complex organised abuse. It can involve force and/or enticement-based methods of compliance and may, or may not, be accompanied by violence or threats of violence. Victims can be exploited even when activity appears consensual and it should be noted exploitation as well as being physical can be facilitated and/or take place online. More information including definitions and indicators are included in Annex 3.

Child on Child abuse

- 4.11 The School recognises that children are capable of abusing other children. Whilst child on child abuse is often gender natured (i.e. it is more likely that girls will be victims and boys perpetrators) the School is clear that all such abuse is unacceptable and will be taken seriously. Child on Child abuse should never be tolerated or passed off as 'banter', 'just having a laugh' or 'part of growing up'.
- 4.12 Child on child abuse is most likely to include, but may not be limited to:
- bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying).
 - abuse in intimate personal relationships between children.
 - physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse).
 - sexual violence, such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault; (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages sexual violence).
 - sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse.
 - causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with third party.
 - consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and or videos (also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery).
 - upskirting, which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm; and
 - initiation/hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may also include an online element).

There is a whole school approach to preventing child-on-child abuse, including child-on-child sexual violence and sexual harassment, this forms part of the whole school approach to safeguarding. The school will seek to minimise the risk of child-on-child abuse by ensuring an approach that prepares pupils for life in modern Britain. The establishment has a clear set of values and standards which are upheld and demonstrated throughout all aspects of school life.

The school provides a safe environment, promotes a culture of positive standards of behaviour, takes steps to address inappropriate behaviour, has effective systems in place where children can confidently raise concerns knowing they will be taken seriously and provides safeguarding through the curriculum via relationships education/relationships and sex education, online safety, and other curriculum opportunities. This may include targeted work with children identified as vulnerable or being at risk and developing risk assessment and targeted work with those identified as being a potential risk to others.

All staff understand the importance of challenging inappropriate behaviours between peers that are abusive in nature. Downplaying certain behaviours will not be tolerated or passed off. Staff will maintain an attitude of 'it could happen here' and all inappropriate behaviour will be addressed.

- 4.13 A member of staff who suspects or hears about an allegation of child-on-child abuse should take the action set out in paragraph 3.4 above and then report the matter to the Designated Safeguarding Lead as set out in paragraph 3.5 above. The Designated Safeguarding Lead will deal with any such allegation in accordance with the procedure set out in paragraphs 3.11 to 3.12 above. All staff receive training and information regarding the School's policy and procedures on child-on-child abuse and the important role they play in preventing it and responding where a child may be at risk of it.
- 4.14 Sharing of nude and semi-nude images. Any allegation involving the sharing of nude images will be dealt with in accordance with the guidance issued by the UK Council for Internet Safety (UKCIS) – Sharing nudes and semi-nudes: advice for education settings working with children and young people.
- 4.15 In particular, staff members should:
- Never view, download or share the imagery themselves, or ask a child to share or download it. If a member of staff has already viewed the imagery by accident (e.g. if a child has showed it to them before they could be asked not to), this should be reported to the Designated Safeguarding Lead.
 - Not delete the imagery or ask the young person to delete it.
 - Not ask the child(ren) who are involved in the incident to disclose information regarding the imagery – this is the responsibility of the Designated Safeguarding Lead.
 - Not share information about the incident to other members of staff, the child(ren) it involves or their, or other, parents and/or carers.
 - Not say or do anything to blame or shame any children involved.
 - Explain to the child(ren) involved that it needs to be reported and reassure them that they will receive support and help from the Designated Safeguarding Lead.
- 4.16 Sexual violence and sexual harassment between children. It is essential that all victims of alleged sexual violence/harassment are reassured that they are being taken seriously and that they will be supported and kept safe. A victim should never be given the impression that they are creating a problem by reporting sexual violence/harassment nor should they ever be made to feel ashamed for making a report. Any staff member who suspects or hears about an allegation of sexual violence/harassment should take the initial action set out in paragraph 3.4

above and then report the matter to the Designated Safeguarding Lead as soon as possible as set out in paragraph 3.5 above. The Designated Safeguarding Lead will deal with any such reports in accordance with the advice and guidance set out in Department for Education advice in Part 5 of Keeping children safe in education 2025.

4.17 Support for those affected by Child-on-Child abuse. The School will take all reasonable and necessary steps to support any child who is the alleged victim, perpetrator of or has been otherwise affected by Child-on-Child abuse. In particular:

- The Designated Safeguarding Lead will be responsible for reviewing and implementing whatever action is necessary and appropriate in order to ensure that the alleged victim(s), perpetrator(s) or anyone else who is affected is provided with the necessary support whilst the allegation is investigated. The appropriate action will depend on the circumstances of each individual case.
- It may be appropriate to exclude the individual against whom the allegation has been made whilst the matter is investigated, in which case the School's policy on behaviour, discipline and sanctions will apply.
- If it is necessary for a child (whether the alleged victim or perpetrator) to be interviewed by the police in relation to an allegation, the School will ensure that, subject to the advice from any relevant external agency, parents/carers are informed as soon as possible and that the child is supported during the interview by an appropriate adult.

4.18 If the external agency or agencies to whom an allegation is reported decide not to take any further action, the School will carry out its own investigation and will take all appropriate action to ensure the safety and welfare of all children involved including the child(ren) against whom the allegation is made.

Serious Violence

4.19 All staff should be aware of the indicators, which may signal children are at risk from, or are involved with serious violent crime. These may include increased absence from school, a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups, a significant decline in performance, signs of self-harm or a significant change in wellbeing, or signs of assault or unexplained injuries. Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs and may be at risk of criminal exploitation. All staff should be aware of the range of risk factors which increase the likelihood of involvement in serious violence, such as being male, having been frequently absent or permanently excluded from school, having experienced child maltreatment and having been involved in offending, such as theft or robbery. Advice for schools and colleges is provided in the Home Office's Preventing youth violence and gang involvement: Practical advice for schools and colleges and Criminal Exploitation of children and vulnerable adults: County Lines guidance.

Mental Health

- 4.20 All staff at the School are made aware through training and guidance that mental health problems can, in some cases, be an indicator that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation.
- 4.21 Only appropriately trained professionals should attempt to make a diagnosis of a mental health problem. Staff, however, are well placed to observe children day-to-day and identify those whose behaviour suggests that they may be experiencing a mental health problem or be at risk of developing one.
- 4.22 Where children have suffered abuse and neglect, or other potentially traumatic adverse childhood experiences, this can have a lasting impact throughout childhood, adolescence and into adulthood.
- 4.23 Through the FTIS Model , our approach and trauma informed training strategies staff are aware of how children's experiences can impact on their mental health, behaviour and education.
- 4.24 If staff have a mental health concern about a child that is also a safeguarding concern, immediate action should be taken, following the child protection policy and speaking to the Designated Safeguarding Lead or a Deputy Safeguarding Officer.
- 4.25 The Department for Education has published advice and guidance on Preventing and Tackling Bullying, and Mental Health and Behaviour in Schools (which may also be useful for colleges). In addition, Public Health England has produced a range of resources to support secondary school teachers to promote positive health, wellbeing and resilience among young people including its guidance Promoting children and young people's emotional health and wellbeing. Its resources include social media, forming positive relationships, smoking and alcohol. See Rise Above for links to all materials and lesson plans. The School has implemented the Gloucestershire Healthy Living and Learning Pink PSHE curriculum which includes age linked resources for topics such as emotional health and wellbeing, safeguarding and spiritual, moral and cultural development.

Children Missing Education Procedures

- 4.26 All staff are informed of the separate procedure to be used for searching for, and if necessary, reporting, any child missing from school (see the Missing Child Policy). The procedure includes the requirement to record any incident, the action taken and the reasons given by the child for being missing.
- 4.27 Any instances of children failing to attend school without prior authorisation will be dealt with in accordance with the procedure set out in the School's Attendance Policy.
- 4.28 All staff should be aware that children being absent from school, particularly repeatedly and/or for prolonged periods, and children missing education can act as a vital warning sign of a range of safeguarding possibilities. This may include abuse and neglect such as sexual abuse or exploitation and can also be a sign of child criminal exploitation including involvement in county lines. It may indicate mental health problems, risk of substance abuse, risk of travelling to conflict zones, risk of female genital mutilation, so called 'honour'-based abuse or risk of forced marriage. Early intervention is essential to identify the existence of any underlying safeguarding risk and to help prevent the risks of a child going missing in future.

Online Safety

- 4.29 Online safety and protecting pupils from potentially harmful and inappropriate online material forms part of the whole school approach to safeguarding, including policies, curriculum, staff training, roles and responsibilities of the designated safeguarding lead and parental engagement.
- 4.30 The Designated Safeguarding Lead takes lead responsibility for the filtering and monitoring systems and processes that the School has in place. The IT department supports in maintaining and providing filtering, providing reports and alerts, and completing any actions at the request of the DSL.
- 4.31 The filtering system blocks harmful and inappropriate content without unreasonably impacting teaching and learning. The monitoring system includes a combination of daily reports and instant notifications to ensure the safety of the children.
- 4.32 The prior agreement of the child's parent(s) and/or carers and/or social worker will be obtained if a child is to have access to their own mobile phone or other internet-enabled device. Children are required to be able to demonstrate a level of understanding of online safety, including the importance of maintaining a safe level of privacy and the need to only access age-appropriate social media, internet pages and apps.
- 4.33 All children who are authorised to use internet enabled devices are required to enter into a contractual agreement between themselves and the School. This agreement forms part of their individual risk assessment. Children are expected to use the schools Wi-Fi network which is protected using the Smoothwall firewall. When children use the school's network to access the internet, they are protected from inappropriate content by our filtering and monitoring systems which are regularly reviewed for their effectiveness. The School aims to meet the filtering and monitoring standards published by the Department for Education. We will use the DfE's 'plan technology for your school service' to self-assess against the filtering and monitoring standards and receive personalised recommendations on how to meet them. Should the School begin to use generative AI we will follow the DfE guidance on the use of generative AI in education \(2025\) to ensure that pupils use it safely.
- 4.34 Where children have access to 3G, 4G and/or 5G facilities on their phones, they are expected to use this within the framework of the law and to ensure that their behaviours and actions do not place themselves or other peers at risk of harm. Any breaches of these safety arrangements will be dealt with proportionately and will involve their wider professional and family networks. This may involve the child not having use of their phone or other device temporarily until matters are investigated further and safe future use can be guaranteed. All children know that if a concern around safeguarding or child protection occurs in relation to their use of technology, the matter may result in the police or an internal professional taking the phone or device into their possession for a period of time. All staff will receive appropriate online safety training at induction. The training will, amongst other things, include an understanding of the expectations, applicable roles and responsibilities in relation to filtering and monitoring. The training will be regularly updated. In addition, all staff will receive online safety updates (for example, via email, e-bulletins, and staff meetings), as required, and at least annually, to ensure that they have relevant skills and knowledge to safeguard children effectively. The proprietor, nominated governor, DSL and SLT responsible for filtering and monitoring will receive training which explores what those responsible for safeguarding need to consider regarding filtering and monitoring systems, as part of a school or college's overarching safeguarding approach.

- 4.35 All staff who support children directly in school are expected to talk with children about online safety informally, as well as formally through teacher directed PSHE personal safety education and awareness sessions. Each child has an individual risk assessment regarding what they can access through the filtering system based which is based on their chronological age, but which also takes into account their individual development stage and any additional needs.
- 4.36 The school online safety policy outlines how the four areas of risk, content, contact, conduct and commerce, will be addressed to protect and educate pupils and staff.
- 4.37 Any staff member who is concerned about a child's use of the internet or technology should report the matter to the Designated Safeguarding Lead.

Video calling with children and professionals

- 4.38 The School recognises that maintaining connections with external professionals crucially important for their welfare and sometimes it is more expedient to connect via video calls. As a result, the School has implemented measures to enable meetings to take place via video calls.
- 4.39 Any video calling arrangements are made through a monitored calendar and using laptops and devices checked and owned by the School. Only staff authorised to do so will facilitate video calls and must adhere to the rules and expectations set out in the Staff Handbook. Staff must not make video calls to children from their own homes or via any personal devices.
- 4.40 There are currently no remote learning systems in place. Educational materials have been sent out where relevant in hard copied packs.

Education and awareness for children

- 4.41 Children at the school have opportunities to learn about how they can keep themselves and others safe, including online safety. This is achieved during the school day through the Relationships and Sex Education and the PSHE curriculums. This includes learning about health and wellbeing, healthy relationships, risky relationships and living in the wider world.
- 4.42 Pupils are supported on an individual basis through key-working and through naturally occurring opportunities in the same way that parents and carers would in a home setting. This information is presented in an age-appropriate way. We are sensitive to the specific needs and vulnerabilities of individual children, including children who are victims of abuse, and children with special educational needs or disabilities.

5. Responsibilities for Safeguarding

The Designated Safeguarding Lead

- 5.1 The Designated Safeguarding Lead has lead responsibility for safeguarding and child protection (including online safety and understanding the filtering and monitoring systems and processes in place) in the School. The Deputy Safeguarding Officers are trained to the same standard as the Designated Safeguarding Lead and their role is explicit in their job descriptions. Whilst the activities of the Designated Safeguarding Lead are on occasion delegated to appropriately trained deputies, the ultimate lead responsibility for child protection remains with the Designated Safeguarding Lead.
- 5.2 The Designated Safeguarding Lead will:
- refer cases of suspected abuse to the local authority children's social care as required.
 - support staff who make referrals to local authority children's social care.
 - refer cases to the Channel programme where there is a concern about radicalization as required.
 - support staff who make referrals to the Channel programme.
 - refer cases where a person is dismissed or left due to risk/harm to a child to the Disclosure and Barring Service as required; and
 - refer cases where a crime may have been committed to the Police as required.
- 5.3 The Designated Safeguarding Lead is also responsible for:
- acting as a point of contact with the three safeguarding partners.
 - liaising with the Principal to inform them of any issues, especially ongoing enquiries under section 47 of the Children Act 1989 and police investigations.
 - as required, liaising with the "case manager" and the designated officer(s) at the local authority for child protection concerns in cases which concern a staff member.
 - liaising with staff (especially pastoral support staff, IT Technicians, and SENCOs or the named person with oversight for SEN) on matters of safety and safeguarding (including online and digital safety) and when deciding whether to make a referral by liaising with relevant agencies.

- acting as a source of support, advice and expertise for all staff; and
- taking the lead responsibility for understanding the filtering and monitoring systems and processes in place.

5.4 The Designated Safeguarding Lead and the Deputy Safeguarding Officers will undergo training to provide them with the knowledge and skills required to carry out their roles. The Designated Safeguarding Lead will also ensure that other staff members receive regular training and updates to ensure that they are kept up to date with local and national safeguarding concerns and learning from incidents that have taken place in the School or home.

5.5 The Chief Executive will monitor that the Designated Safeguarding Lead is fulfilling his responsibilities and that the policies, procedures and training in the School are effective and comply with the law at all times. The Chief Executive will be responsible for keeping the board of Advisors updated on all relevant matters.

Duties of Employees, Advisors and Volunteers

5.6 Every employee and Advisor of the School as well as every volunteer who assists the School is under a general legal duty to:

- protect children from harm.
- read, understand and follow at all times: (a) Part 1, Part 5 and Annex B of Keeping Children Safe in Education 2025; (b) the General Staff Rules and Conduct set out in the Staff Handbook; and (c) the provisions of this policy and procedure.
- know how to access and implement the procedures, independently if necessary.
- keep a sufficient record of any significant complaint, conversation or event.
- report any matters of concern to the Designated Safeguarding Lead.

5.7 All staff are required to report to the Designated Safeguarding Lead or the Deputy Safeguarding Officer (or if the concern or allegation involves the Designated Safeguarding Lead to the Chief Executive), any concern, disclosure or allegations about school practices or the behaviour of colleagues which are likely to put children at risk of abuse or other serious harm.

5.8 Any staff member who has reason to believe or is concerned that this policy has not been properly followed should raise the matter in accordance with the Whistleblowing Policy & Procedure set out in the Staff Handbook.

5.9 All staff members and members of the board of advisors also receive appropriate child protection training which is regularly updated at least annually.

5.10 The Designated Safeguarding Lead is responsible for coordinating the response to lower-level concerns around staff conduct or behaviour. Decisions about follow up actions to address low level concerns will be discussed at senior manager level and with support from HR if deemed necessary. The School aims to maintain a culture where all concerns about employees (including allegations that do not meet the threshold for LADO referral are shared responsibly, with the right person, recorded and dealt with properly. Possible actions following this would be recorded in staff supervision and may also require additional supervision and support regarding individual learning and practice development.

6. Confidentiality and Information Sharing

- 6.1 The child may ask the School not to tell anyone that they have experienced abuse including sexual violence or sexual harassment. There are no easy or definitive answers when a victim makes this request. If the victim does not give consent to share information, staff may still lawfully share it.
- 6.2 Staff taking a report should never promise confidentiality as it is very likely that it will be in the best interests of the child who has been harmed to seek advice and guidance from others in order to provide support and engage appropriate agencies. Advice should be sought from the Designated Safeguarding Lead (or Deputy), who will consider the following:
 - parents or carers should normally be informed (unless this would put the child at greater risk).
 - the basic safeguarding principle is: if a child is at risk of harm, is in immediate danger, or has been harmed, a referral should be made to local authority children's social care, and
 - rape, assault by penetration and sexual assaults are crimes. Where a report of rape, assault by penetration or sexual assault is made, this should be referred to the police. Whilst the age of criminal responsibility is 10, if the alleged perpetrator is under 10, the principle of referring to the police remains. The police will take a welfare, rather than a criminal justice approach, in these cases.
- 6.3 Ultimately, the Designated Safeguarding Lead (or a deputy) will have to balance the child's wishes against their duty to protect the victim and other children.
- 6.4 Where an allegation of sexual violence or sexual harassment is progressing through the criminal justice system, the School will be mindful of the importance of anonymity, witness support, and the criminal process in general so they can offer support and act appropriately.
- 6.5 As a matter of effective safeguarding practice, the School will take all reasonable steps to protect the anonymity of any children involved in any report of sexual violence or sexual harassment. Amongst other things, this will mean carefully considering, based on the nature of the report, which staff should know about the report and any support that will be put in place for the children involved.
- 6.6 The School will also consider the potential impact of social media in facilitating the spreading of rumours and exposing victims' identities.

- 6.7 The School will keep all child protection records confidential, allowing disclosure only to those who need the information in order to safeguard and promote the welfare of children. The School will co-operate with police and Social Services to ensure that all relevant information is shared for the purposes of child protection investigations under section 47 of the Children Act 1989 in accordance with the requirements of Working Together to Safeguard Children \(December 2023\).
- 6.8 Staff should not assume a colleague, or another professional will take action and share information that might be critical in keeping children safe. They should be mindful that early information sharing is vital for the effective identification, assessment, and allocation of appropriate service provision, whether this is when problems first emerge, or where a child is already known to local authority children's social care (such as a child in need or a child with a protection plan). The guidance in Information sharing advice for safeguarding practitioners \(2024\) supports staff who have to make decisions about sharing information. This advice includes the seven golden rules for sharing information and considerations with regard to the Data Protection Act 2018 \(DPA\) and UK General Data Protection Regulation \(UK GDPR\).
- 6.9 The DPA and UK GDPR do not prevent the sharing of information for the purposes of keeping children safe and promoting their welfare. If in any doubt about sharing information, staff should speak to the Designated Safeguarding Lead (or one of the Deputy Safeguarding Officers). Fears about sharing information must not be allowed to stand in the way of the need to safeguard and promote the welfare of children.

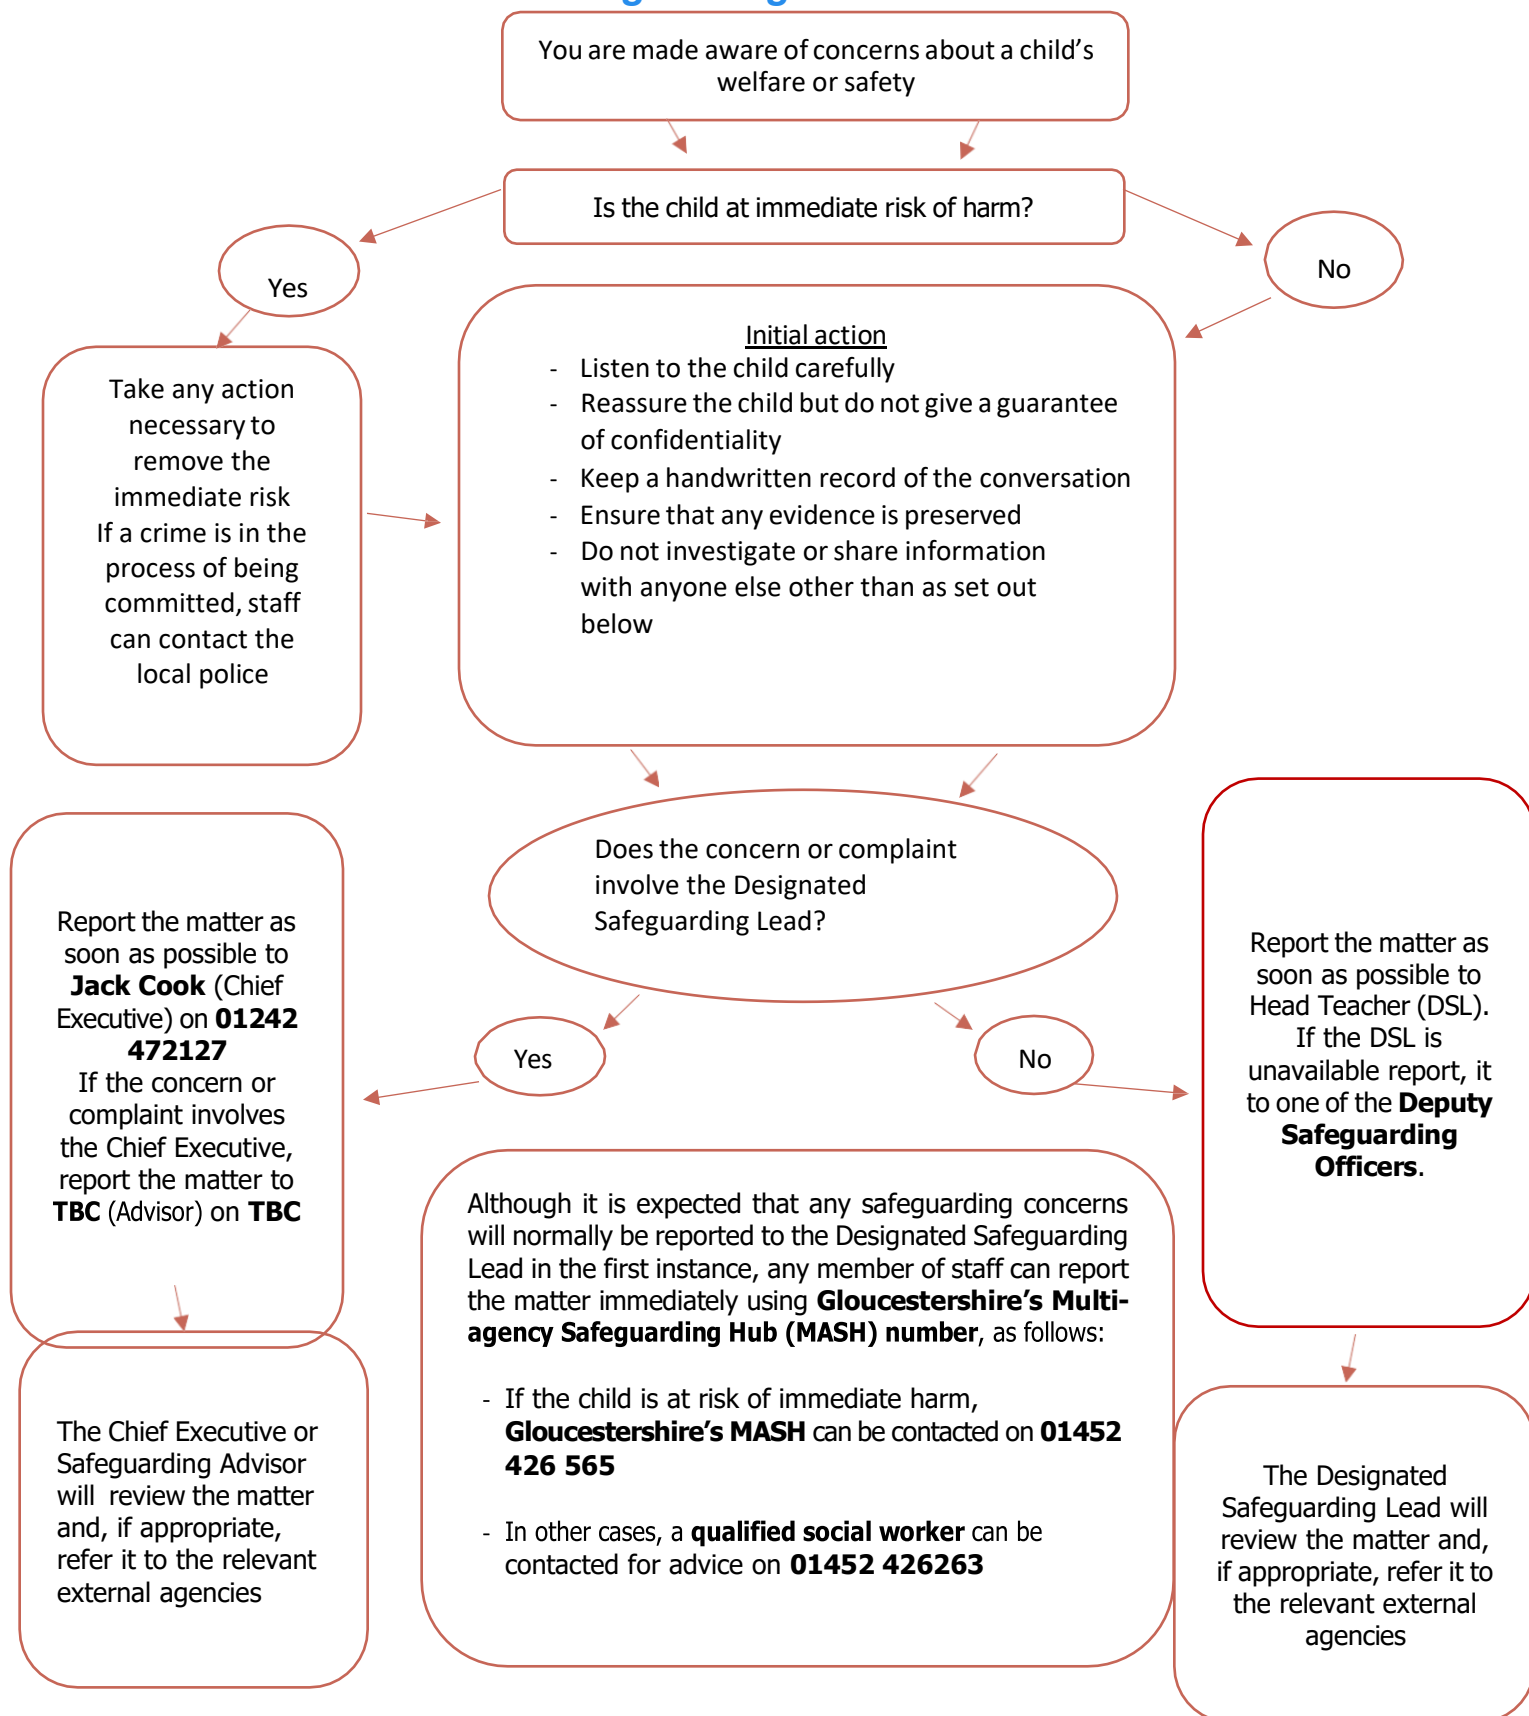

7. Monitoring & review

- 7.1 The Designated Safeguarding Lead will monitor the day-to-day operation of this policy.
- 7.2 The Chief Executive will regularly review that the action taken by the Designated Safeguarding Lead has been in accordance with the requirements of this policy.
- 7.3 The Independent Visitor appointed by the school will also review and report on a bi-monthly basis on whether the action taken by the Designated Safeguarding Lead in relation to any safeguarding concerns arising within the care environment has been in accordance with the requirements of this policy.
- 7.4 A report will be made on any safeguarding matters and the operation of this policy to the members of the Board of Advisors in advance of its quarterly Board meetings so that they are able to monitor the operation of this policy and procedure.
- 7.5 Any deficiencies or weaknesses in regard to safeguarding arrangements that are identified through the above monitoring arrangements will be remedied without delay.
- 7.6 This policy will be reviewed by the Designated Safeguarding Lead on at least an annual basis and updated as appropriate. The next review will be carried out on or before the date indicated at the beginning of this policy.

Annex 1 Safeguarding Procedure Flowchart

Annex 2

Types and Signs of Maltreatment

1. Maltreatment can take many different forms including physical abuse, emotional abuse, sexual abuse, neglect, child sexual exploitation, female genital mutilation, trafficking, sexting, gender-based violence and faith abuse. Behaviours linked to issues such as drug taking and alcohol misuse, deliberately missing education and consensual and non-consensual sharing or nude or semi-nude images and/or videos can be signs that children are at risk. Further information on the various types of maltreatment can be found in Working together to safeguard children 2023. The following includes a summary of the types and signs of some of the most common types of maltreatment.

Abuse

2. Abuse is a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse including if they see, hear or experience the effects of abuse. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children.

Physical abuse

What does it involve?	Possible indicators of abuse
A form of abuse which may involve the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- hitting- shaking- throwing- poisoning- burning- scalding- drowning- suffocating- otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- unexplained injuries or burns- refusal to discuss injuries- improbable and inconsistent explanations of injuries- untreated injuries or lingering illness- admission of punishment which appears excessive- withdrawal from physical contact- fear of returning home or parents being contacted- fear of undressing- fear of medical help- aggression / bullying- over compliant behaviour- running away- significant changes in behaviour- deterioration in work- an unexplained pattern of absences.

Emotional abuse

What does it involve?	Possible indicators of abuse
The persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve, include or feature: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. - not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. - age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. - seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. - serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, though it may occur alone.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - continual self-deprecation - fear of new situations - inappropriate emotional responses to painful situations - self-harm or mutilation - compulsive stealing / scrounging. - drug / solvent abuse - 'neurotic' behaviour (obsessive rocking, thumb sucking) - 'air of detachment, don't care attitude' - social isolation - attention-seeking behaviour - eating problems. - depression or withdrawal.

Sexual abuse

What does it involve?	Possible indicators of abuse
Forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve or include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) - non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. - non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - bruises, scratches, burns or bite marks - scratches, abrasions or persistent infection in the anal or genital regions - pregnancy - sexually transmitted diseases - dislike of physical contact - lack of personal boundaries - inappropriate flirtatious talk to others - sexual awareness inappropriate to the child's age - frequent public masturbation - attempts to teach other children about sexual activity - refusing to stay with certain people or go to certain places - aggressiveness, anger, anxiety, tearfulness - withdrawal from friends.

Neglect

3. Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: (a) provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); (b) protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; (c) ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate caregivers); (d) ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment; or (e) provide suitable education. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.
4. Signs of neglect: Possible signs of neglect include (but are not limited to):
 - the child says s/he has been neglected or says something which gives rise to that inference.
 - the child's development is delayed.

- the child loses or gains weight, constant hunger.
- the child appears neglected, e.g. dirty, hungry, inadequately clothed.
- the child is reluctant to go home or has been openly rejected by his/her parents or carers.
- the child regularly goes missing from school, home or care.
- the child suffers from poor mental health or engages in or talks about self-harming.
- there is no reasonable or consistent explanation for a child's injury; the injury is unusual in kind or location; there have been a number of injuries; there is a pattern to the injuries.
- the child's behaviour stands out from the group as either being extreme model behaviour or extremely challenging behaviour; or there is a sudden change in the child's behaviour.

Child Criminal Exploitation (CCE)

5. Different forms of harm often overlap, and that perpetrators may subject children and young people to multiple forms of abuse, such as criminal exploitation (including county lines) and sexual exploitation. CCE is where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, control, manipulate or deceive a child into any criminal activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial or other advantage of the perpetrator or facilitator and/or (c) through violence or the threat of violence. The victim may have been criminally exploited even if the activity appears consensual. CCE does not always involve physical contact; it can also occur through the use of technology. CCE can include children being forced to work in cannabis factories, being coerced into moving drugs or money across the country (county lines) or forced to shoplift or pickpocket. They can also be forced or manipulated into committing vehicle crime or threatening/committing serious violence to others. Children can be exploited by adult males or females, as individuals or in groups. They may also be exploited by other children, who themselves may be experiencing exploitation – where this is the case, it is important that the child perpetrator is also recognised as a victim. Further information on County Lines can be found in the Home Office publication 'Criminal exploitation of children, young people, and vulnerable adults' \(2023\).
6. Some of the following can be indicators of CCE:
 - children who appear with unexplained gifts or new possessions.
 - children who associate with other young people involved in exploitation.
 - children who suffer from changes in emotional well-being.
 - children who misuse drugs and alcohol.
 - children who go missing for periods of time or regularly come home late; and
 - children who regularly miss school or education or do not take part in education.
7. It is important to note that the experience of girls who are criminally exploited can be very different to that of boys. The indicators may not be the same, however staff should be aware that girls are at risk of CSE too. It is also important to note that both boys and girls being criminally exploited may be at higher risk of CSE.

Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE)

8. CSE is a form of child sexual abuse. It occurs where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child into sexual activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator. The victim may have been sexually exploited even if the sexual activity appears consensual. CSE does not always involve physical contact; it can also occur through the use of technology. CSE can affect any child or young person (male or female) under the age of 18 years, including 16- and 17-year-olds who can legally consent to have sex. It can include both contact (penetrative and non-penetrative acts) and non-contact sexual activity and may occur without the child or young person's immediate knowledge (e.g. through others copying videos or images they have created and posted on social media). CSE can be a one-off occurrence or a series of incidents over time and range from opportunistic to complex organised abuse. It can involve force and/or enticement-based methods of compliance and may, or may not, be accompanied by violence or threats of violence.
9. The above CCE indicators can also be indicators of CSE, as can:
 - children who have older boyfriends or girlfriends; and
 - children who suffer from sexually transmitted infections or become pregnant.
10. Further guidance has been published by the Department for Education: Child sexual exploitation: definition and guide for practitioners.
11. The School will use, when necessary the resources about preventing child sexual exploitation which can be found on the Children's Society Website.

Female Genital Mutilation (FGM)

12. FGM includes procedures that intentionally alter or injure the female genital organs for non-medical reasons. FGM is sometimes known as 'female genital cutting' or female circumcision. Communities tend to use local names for this practice, including 'Sunna'.
13. Religion is sometimes given as a justification for FGM. For example, some people from Muslim communities argue that the Sunna (traditions or practices undertaken or approved by the prophet Mohammed) recommends that women undergo FGM. However, senior Muslim clerics have pronounced that FGM is not Islamic, and the London Central Mosque has spoken out against FGM on the grounds that it constitutes doing harm to oneself or to others, which is forbidden by Islam.
14. UK communities that are most at risk of FGM include Kenyan, Somali, Sudanese, Sierra Leonei, Egyptian, Nigerian and Eritrean, as well as non-African communities including Yemeni, Afghani, Kurdish, Indonesian and Pakistani. This is obviously not to say that all families from these communities practise FGM, and many parents will refuse to have their daughters subjected to this procedure. However, in some communities a great deal of pressure can be put on parents to follow what is seen as a cultural or religious practice.

15. The age at which girls undergo FGM varies enormously according to the community. The procedure may be carried out when the girl is newborn, during childhood or adolescence, at marriage or during the first pregnancy. However, the majority of cases of FGM are thought to take place between the ages of 5 and 8 and therefore girls within that age bracket are at a higher risk. It is believed that FGM happens to British girls in the UK as well as overseas (often in the family's country of origin). Girls of school age who are subjected to FGM overseas are thought to be taken abroad at the start of the school holidays, particularly in the summer holidays, in order for there to be sufficient time for her to recover before returning to her studies.
16. FGM is often carried out without any form of sedation and without sterile conditions. The girl or young woman is held down while the procedure of cutting takes place and survivors describe extreme pain, fear and feelings of abandonment. FGM is extremely harmful and is often described as brutal because of the way it is carried out, and its short- and long-term effects on physical and psychological health.

Risk factors of FGM

17. There are a number of factors in addition to a girl's community or country of origin that could increase the risk that she will be subjected to FGM:
 - the position of the family and the level of integration within UK society – it is believed that communities less integrated into British society are more likely to carry out FGM.
 - any girl born to a woman who has been subjected to FGM must be considered to be at risk of FGM, as must other female children in the extended family.
 - any girl who has a sister who has already undergone FGM must be considered to be at risk of FGM, as must other female children in the extended family.
 - any girl withdrawn from Personal, Social and Health Education may be at risk as a result of her parents wishing to keep her uninformed about her body and rights.
 - There can also be clearer signs when FGM is imminent:
 - it may be possible that families will practice FGM in the UK when a female family elder is around, particularly when she is visiting from a country of origin.
 - a professional may hear reference to FGM in conversation, for example a girl may tell other children about it.
 - a girl may confide that she is to have a 'special procedure' or to attend a special occasion to 'become a woman'.
 - a girl may request help from a teacher or another adult if she is aware or suspects that she is at immediate risk.
 - parents state that they or a relative will take the child out of the country for a prolonged period.
 - a girl may talk about a long holiday to her country of origin or another country where the practice is prevalent.
 - parents seeking to withdraw their children from learning about FGM.

Signs of FGM

18. There are a number of indications that a girl has already been subjected to FGM:
 - she may have difficulty walking, sitting or standing.
 - she may spend longer than normal in the bathroom or toilet due to difficulties urinating.
 - she may spend long periods of time away from a classroom during the day with bladder or menstrual problems.
 - she may have frequent urinary or menstrual problems.
 - there may be prolonged or repeated absences from school.
 - a prolonged absence from school with noticeable behaviour change (e.g. withdrawal or depression) on the girl's return could be an indication that she has recently undergone FGM.
 - she may be particularly reluctant to undergo normal medical examinations.
 - she may confide in a professional; and/or
 - she may ask for help but may not be explicit about the problem due to embarrassment or fear.
19. Members of teaching staff are under a legal duty personally to report to the police cases where they are informed by a girl under 18 that an act of FGM has been carried out on her or they observe physical signs which appear to show that an act of FGM has been carried out. It is recommended that the police report is made to the 101 number. Where there is a risk to life or a likelihood of serious immediate harm, professionals should report the case immediately to the police, using 999 if appropriate. Unless the teacher has a good reason not to, they should also report the matter to the Designated Safeguarding Lead for Education who will involve children's social care as appropriate. This duty does not apply in relation to 'at risk' or 'suspected' cases (i.e. where the teacher does not discover that an act of FGM appears to have been carried out, either through disclosure by the victim or visual evidence) or in cases where the woman is 18 or over. However, in these cases, teachers should still report the matter to the Designated Safeguarding Lead for Education in accordance with the procedures set out in this policy.
20. Further information about FGM can be found in the Multi-Agency Statutory Guidance on female genital mutilation

Bullying

21. Bullying can be defined as using deliberately hurtful behaviour, usually over a period of time, where it is difficult for those bullied to defend themselves. The three main types of bullying are: physical bullying; verbal bullying (including cyber bullying); and emotional bullying.
22. All incidents of bullying should be dealt with by the class teacher or carer in the first instance, followed by the procedures in the Anti-Bullying Policy. All members of staff should be fully aware of and observe the provisions of the Anti-Bullying Policy.

Racist, Disability and Homophobic, Biphobic or Transphobic Abuse

23. The School challenges all incidents of racist, disability and homophobic, biphobic or transphobic abuse. The School recognises that hate crime is any criminal offence committed against a person or property that is motivated by hostility towards someone based on their: race, colour, ethnic origin, nationality or national origins; religion; gender or gender identity; sexual orientation; or disability.

24. All incidents of racist, disability and homophobic, biphobic or transphobic abuse should be dealt with by the class teacher or carer in the first instance and the procedures in the Anti-Discrimination Procedures should be followed. All members of staff should be fully aware of and observe the provisions of the School's Anti-Discriminatory Practice Policy.

Radicalisation and Extremism

25. The Prevent Strategy and associated Prevent Duty requires schools and care homes to train staff to recognise all forms of radicalisation in their respective communities. Radicalisation is a process by which an individual or group comes to adopt increasingly extreme political, social, or religious ideals and aspirations that are fundamentally opposed to British values, namely democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs; and/or calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas.
26. Extremism is the promotion or advancement of an ideology based on violence, hatred, or intolerance that aims to: negate or destroy the fundamental right and freedoms of other or undermine, overturn or replace the UK's system of liberal parliamentary democracy and democratic rights; or intentionally create a permissive environment for other to achieve the results above. There is no place for extremist views of any kind at the School, whether from internal sources (i.e. children, staff or advisors) or external sources (e.g. the school community, external agencies or other individuals). Children should see the School as a safe place where they can explore controversial issues safely and where the teachers encourage and facilitate this – we have a duty to ensure this happens.
27. As a School we recognise that extremism and exposure to extremist materials and influences can lead to poor outcomes for children and so should be addressed as a safeguarding concern in accordance with this policy. We also recognise that if we fail to challenge extremist views, we are failing to protect our children.
28. The School recognises that radicalisation takes a wide range of forms and is not limited to the ISIL movement. It can include extremist views and action on animal rights, Neo-Nazism and Satanism to name but a few.
29. Extremists of all persuasions aim to develop destructive relationships between different communities by promoting division, fear and mistrust of others based on ignorance or prejudice and thereby limiting the life chances of children. Education is a powerful tool against this; equipping children with the knowledge, skills and critical thinking, to challenge and debate in an informed way. We therefore will provide a broad and balanced curriculum, delivered by skilled professionals, so that our children are enriched, understand and become tolerant of difference and diversity and also to ensure that they thrive, feel valued and not marginalised

30. We are also aware that children may be susceptible to extremist ideology and radicalisation and may be exposed to extremist influences or prejudiced views from an early age which emanate from a variety of sources and media, including via the internet, and at times children may themselves reflect or display views that may be discriminatory, prejudiced or extremist, including using derogatory language. Any prejudice, discrimination or extremist views, including derogatory language, displayed by children will always be challenged and where appropriate dealt with in line with our Behavioural Support Policy. The expression of any such views or language by staff is contrary to the Staff Rules and Conduct contained in the Staff Handbook and will accordingly be dealt with under the organisations disciplinary procedure.
31. As part of our wider safeguarding responsibilities staff should be alert to:
- disclosures by children of their exposure to the extremist actions, views or materials of others outside of school, such as in their homes or community groups, especially where children have not actively sought these out.
 - graffiti symbols, writing or artwork promoting extremist messages or images.
 - children accessing extremist material online, including through social networking sites.
 - parental reports of changes in behaviour, friendship or actions and requests for assistance.
 - partner schools, local authority services, and police reports of issues affecting children in other schools or settings.
 - children voicing opinions drawn from extremist ideologies and narratives.
 - use of extremist or 'hate' terms to exclude others or incite violence.
 - intolerance of difference, whether secular or religious, or views based on characteristics such as gender, disability, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity or culture which are not in line with the School's equalities policy.
 - attempts to impose extremist views or practices on others.
 - anti-Western or anti-British views.
32. The School will closely follow the locally agreed procedure as set out by the Local Authority Safeguarding Children Partnership's agreed processes and criteria for safeguarding individuals vulnerable to extremism and radicalisation. In the event of concerns about a person becoming radicalised consideration will be given to using the Prevent Team based in Gloucestershire Constabulary. The Channel Panel is a bespoke panel which meets to address issues of individuals who have been identified as being at risk of radicalisation but have not committed any terrorism offence. The Panel meets when a referral has been made and referrals can be made by anyone. Further information can be found in Prevent duty guidance: England and Wales \(2023\), Making a referral to Prevent and The Prevent duty: an introduction for those with safeguarding responsibilities.

Gender-Based Violence / Domestic Abuse

33. Gender-based or domestic abuse is a range of abusive behaviours which can happen in an intimate relationship such as marriage, dating, family, or living together. The person on the receiving end of gender-based violence or domestic abuse can be male or female but, where there is an adult intimate relationship, many more women than men are the victims. It can also happen in gay or lesbian relationships. Violence against women has profound implications for health but is often ignored. The World Health Organisation's World Report on Violence and Health notes that "one of the most common forms of violence against women is that performed by a husband or male partner." This type of violence is frequently invisible since it happens behind closed doors and legal systems and cultural norms may not treat it as a crime, but rather as a "private" family matter, or a normal part of life.
34. The School recognises that witnessing domestic abuse and/or gender-based violence is in itself a form of psychological and/or emotional abuse and must be reported through the School's safeguarding procedures.

Sending nude / semi-nude images and inappropriate use of new technologies

35. The School is committed to supporting children with the use of new technologies in a safe way, providing education around the risks.
36. The organisation has appointed a Child Exploitation Online Protection (CEOP) Ambassador and provides resources and materials to support teaching and care staff in their understanding of the risks surrounding new technologies including emerging 'apps' and the use of social networks. This also includes raising awareness of AI generated child sexual abuse images and videos.
37. Children complete an internet safety course before being given a web enabled device. Children are taught the dangers of sharing information online and how activities such as 'sexting' have serious implications and consequences. This is achieved through the school curriculum, one-to-one learning opportunities and group discussions.
38. Internet access is limited to a recognised safe list of websites through a robust firewall.
39. There is a monitoring system in place to check e-mails and interactions for inappropriate language or images that may be cause for concern.

Gangs and Youth Violence

40. Following the London riots in August 2011, the Government outlined a commitment to end Gang and Youth Violence through a joined up multi-agency approach.
41. Children in our care are particularly vulnerable to being easily led and it is important to educate our children in formal education of the safety risks attached to being in gangs. Though the School is in a fairly remote rural area and benefits from there being little or no gang activity at any time, we must recognise and respond to all forms of gang activity that children may disclose when they arrive back from a weekend at home, for example.
42. The School can make use of the Avenger Task Force as a new initiative led by police, set to revolutionise the approach to gangs in Gloucester. The multi-agency project, involving representatives from Gloucestershire Constabulary, Gloucestershire City Council and Gloucestershire County Council's Youth Support Team, aims to reduce the number of youngsters involved in gangs by offering support to those who are or may be vulnerable.

Teenage Relationship Abuse

43. Research has shown that some teenagers have worryingly high levels of acceptance of abuse within relationships and often justify the abuse with the actions of the victim, e.g. because they were unfaithful. Most commonly reported forms of emotional abuse, irrespective of gender, were 'being made fun of' and 'constantly being checked up on by partner'. Girls were more likely than boys to say that the abuse was repeated and that it either remained at the same level of severity, or worsened, especially after the end of the relationship. Younger participants (aged 13 to 15 years old) were as likely as older adolescents (aged 16 and over) to experience some forms of relationship abuse.
44. The School has embraced and implemented the PinK (People in the Know) Curriculum developed in Gloucestershire to educate children on appropriate relationships through a structured daily PSHE curriculum.

Children who are lesbian, gay, bi, or trans (LGBTQ+)

45. The School recognises that children who are LGBTQ+ can be targeted by other children. In some cases, a child who is perceived by other children to be LGBTQ+ (whether they are or not) can be just as vulnerable as children who identify as LGBTQ+. Risks can be compounded where children who are LGBTQ+ lack a trusted adult with whom they can be open. When supporting a gender questioning child, the school takes a cautious approach and considers the individual needs of the child. At the School the staff endeavour to reduce the additional barriers faced and provide a safe space and create a culture where they can speak out or share their concerns with members of staff. The School's Relationships Education, Relationship and Sex Education and Health Education curriculum uses focussed sessions and resources to counter homophobic, biphobic and transphobic bullying and abuse.

Sexual violence

46. Children can, and sometimes do, abuse their peers through sexual violence. For the purpose of the School's policy, sexual violence means sexual offences under the Sexual Offences Act 2003, as follows:
- Rape - a person (A) commits an offence of rape if: (a) he intentionally penetrates the vagina, anus or mouth of another person (B) with his penis; (b) B does not consent to the penetration; and (c) A does not reasonably believe that B consents.
 - Assault by Penetration - a person (A) commits an offence if: (a) he or she intentionally penetrates the vagina or anus of another person (B) with a part of her or his body or anything else; (b) the penetration is sexual; (c) B does not consent to the penetration; and (d) A does not reasonably believe that B consents
 - Sexual Assault - a person (A) commits an offence of sexual assault if: (a) he or she intentionally touches another person (B); (b) the touching is sexual; (c) B does not consent to the touching; and (d) A does not reasonably believe that B consents.
47. What is consent? Consent is about having the freedom and capacity to choose. Consent to sexual activity may be given to one sort of sexual activity but not another (e.g. to vaginal but not anal sex or penetration with conditions, such as wearing a condom). Consent can be withdrawn at any time during sexual activity and each time activity occurs. Someone consents to vaginal, anal or oral penetration only if he or she agrees by choice to that penetration and has the freedom and capacity to make that choice. For these purposes:
- a child under the age of 13 can never consent to any sexual activity.
 - the age of consent is 16.
 - sexual intercourse without consent is rape.

Sexual harassment

48. Sexual harassment refers to 'unwanted conduct of a sexual nature' and can occur online and offline. Sexual harassment is likely to violate a child's dignity, and/or make them feel intimidated, degraded or humiliated and/or create a hostile, offensive or sexualised environment.
49. Sexual harassment can include (but is not necessarily limited to):
- sexual comments, such as telling sexual stories, making lewd comments, making sexual remarks about clothes and appearance and calling someone sexualised names.
 - sexual "jokes" or taunting.
 - physical behaviour such as deliberately brushing against someone, interfering with someone's clothes (depending on the experience of the victim this could also constitute sexual violence) and displaying pictures, photos or drawings of a sexual nature.
 - online sexual harassment (see below).
 - Upskirting - The Voyeurism (Offences) Act, which is commonly known as the Upskirting Act, came into force on 12 April 2019. 'Upskirting' is where someone takes a picture under a person's clothing (not necessarily a skirt) without their permission and or knowledge, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks (with or without underwear) to obtain sexual gratification, or to cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm. It is a criminal offence. Anyone of any gender, can be a victim.

50. Online sexual harassment may be standalone, or part of a wider pattern of sexual harassment and/or sexual violence. It may include:
- non-consensual sharing of sexual images and videos.
 - sexualised online bullying.
 - unwanted sexual comments and messages, including, on social media; and
 - sexual exploitation and/or coercion and threats.
51. Sexual harassment creates an atmosphere that, if not challenged, can normalise inappropriate behaviours and provide an environment that may lead to sexual violence.

Harmful sexual behaviour

52. Children's sexual behaviour exists on a wide continuum, from normal and developmentally expected to inappropriate, problematic, abusive and violent. Problematic, abusive and violent sexual behaviour is developmentally inappropriate and may cause developmental damage. A useful umbrella term which has been widely adopted in child protection is "harmful sexual behaviour". Harmful sexual behaviour can occur online and/or offline and can also occur simultaneously between the two.
53. When considering harmful sexual behaviour, ages and the stages of development of the children are critical factors to consider. Sexual behaviour between children can be considered harmful if one of the children is much older, particularly if there is more than two years' difference or if one of the children is pre-pubescent and the other is not. However, a younger child can abuse an older child, particularly if they have power over them, for example, if the older child is disabled or smaller in stature. See NSPCC: Harmful Sexual Behaviour for more information on what is harmful sexual behaviour.
54. Harmful sexual behaviour can, in some cases, progress on a continuum. Addressing inappropriate behaviour can be an important intervention that helps prevent problematic, abusive and/or violent behaviour in the future. Children displaying harmful sexual behaviour have often experienced their own abuse and trauma. It is important that they are offered appropriate support.

Forced Marriage, Honour Based Violence and Faith Abuse

55. There is a need to identify and challenge certain kinds of child abuse linked to faith or belief. This can include belief in witchcraft, spirit possession, demons or the devil, the evil eye or djinns, dakini, kin Doki, ritual or multi murders and use of fear of the supernatural to make children comply with being trafficked for domestic slavery or sexual exploitation. The beliefs which are the focus of this abuse are not confined to one faith, nationality or ethnic community.
56. Abuse can take place within cultures or faith contexts in general, for example female genital mutilation or forced marriage. Child abuse is now recognised to have been prevalent in faith settings, for example, sexual abuse by paedophiles in a religious community.
57. Forced marriage is one entered into without full and free consent of one or both parties and where violence, threats or any other form of coercion is used to cause a person to enter into a marriage. Threats can be physical or emotional and psychological. A lack of full and free consent can be where a person does not consent or where they cannot consent (if they have learning disabilities, for example). It is also a crime to carry out any conduct whose purpose is to cause a child to marry before their eighteenth birthday even if violence, threats or another form of coercion are not used.
58. The terms “honour crime” or “honour-based abuse” or “izzat” embrace a variety of crimes of violence (mainly but not exclusively against women) including assault, imprisonment and murder where the person is being punished by their family or their community. The victim is often punished for actually, or allegedly, undermining what the family or community believes to be the correct code of behaviour. In transgressing this correct code of behaviour, the person shows that they have not been properly controlled to conform by their family and this is to the “shame” or “dishonour” of the family. It can be distinguished from other forms of abuse, as it is often committed with some degree of approval and/or collusion from family and/ community members. Victims may have multiple perpetrators not only in the UK. Honour based abuse can be a precursor to a forced marriage.

Private Fostering

59. A private fostering arrangement is essentially one that is made privately (that is to say without the involvement of a local authority) for the care of a child under the age of 16 (or under 18 if the child is disabled) by someone other than a parent or close relative with the intention that it should last for 28 days or more (continuity is not broken by the occasional short break). A private fostering arrangement is only legitimate if the parent has given informed consent and Social Services know about, and agree with, the arrangement.
60. Private fostering is among the least controlled and most open to abuse of all the environments in which children live away from home and staff at the School need to recognise and respond should there be suspicions that this is the case. Any member of staff who suspects that a child may be subject to a private fostering arrangement should notify the Designated Safeguarding Lead who will liaise with the relevant local authority.
