

GMUN27 Committee Topics

The Secretary General & Presidents of The General Assembly, GMUN27

Topics for Committees & Notes

Below is the list of official, confirmed topics for GMUN27 plus notes about the intended direction from the Secretary-General and Presidents of the General Assembly. Research reports will be written by committee chairs in the coming weeks and be available on the GMUN website in early November.

Security Council:

- The question of resolving the Pakistan-Afghanistan conflict.
- The question of preventing conflict in the Arctic.
 - Looking particularly at Russia-Canada-EU-USA but all countries in the Security Council have an opinion on/interest in this topic for various reasons.

SOCHUM:

- The question of safeguarding human rights in conflict zones.
- The question of mitigating mass data collection & surveillance in the age of AI.
 - Looking along the lines of individual privacy, stalking and AI being used as a surveillance tool by governments (AI can easily get things wrong) and individuals.
- The question of protecting cultural practices and developing nations in the age of globalisation.
 - Protecting host countries from the negative impacts of TNCs/globalisation, preventing a 'monoculture.'

SPECPOL (ESC):

- The question of the international approach to extraterrestrial life.
- The question of privatising the space sector.
- The question of the decommissioning ISS and its replacement.

ECOFIN:

- The question of aid to Nepal.
- The question of international initiatives to eradicate poverty.
- The question of the legality and impacts of trade wars.
 - Idea is to explore how they affect targeted countries & world at large.

Environmental:

- The question of finding a solution to climate change.
 - Idea behind this one is to get delegates to break it down, finding a solution to climate change involves mitigating the effects and then removing the causes.
- The question of private company's right to own land.
 - Looking particularly at land that should be under conservation. E.G: in the UK how public authorities rarely own 'national parks' - Nature fight 'needs more national park

land held in public hands' - BBC News or the private ownership of Site of Special Scientific Interest in England for example.

- Could extend to looking at the idea of agricultural land, should private companies be able to fully own, control or exploit this type of land or should it be more in the public domain/transparent? Looking at the idea of monopolies over private land such as in the Niger delta how Shell practically owned & controlled all of that which could have led to events such as the Bodo oil spills. What are the positives & negatives of this?
- The question of protecting endangered species.

DISEC:

- The question of grey warfare and a nation's right to defend themselves.
 - Looking especially at offensive cyber warfare & Russian drone attacks.
- The question of sponsoring paramilitary groups and operations
- The question of a new nuclear disarmament treaty
 - Looking especially at how the New START treaty the last remaining nuclear arms control treaty between the US and Russia – expired on 5th February 2026.
 - More Information: The end of the New START Treaty - UNA-UK
 - Could as part of this look into preventing the proliferation of nuclear weapons globally.
