

Florida Utilities Coordinating Committee Nomination for the John J. Farkas Award

The John J. Farkas award is presented annually at the Summer Awards Banquet. This award recognizes an individual's commitment to coordination and to the FUCC. Nominees do not need to be utility coordinators but demonstrate a commitment to the organization and coordination. Think of this award as "Coordinator of the Year".

John J. Farkas Award History & Criteria

John Farkas was an Electrical Engineer with Bell South. As a Support Manager with Bell South, he promoted liaison between utilities and governmental agencies. He was seen as a "Bridge Builder" among utilities. He was a bilingual employee who understood all aspects of communication and was a firm believer in the four Cs of the FUCC: Coordination, Communication, Cooperation and Commitment.

The by-laws of the Florida Utilities Coordinating Committee authorize this award and states the award is presented to a member who demonstrates commitment to the betterment of utility coordination through actions and leadership, and is subject to the following:

1. The recipient of this award must receive approval by a majority vote of the Awards/Nominations Subcommittee.
2. The recipient must also receive the approval of the Chairperson.
