Chris McLaughlin, FUCC Historian

Chris has been involved with underground utilities since he was in high school and first attended an FUCC meeting in 2002. Chris started directional drilling when he worked for his father Steve McLaughlin, a devoted FUCC member for over 20 years. In college he discovered the University of Florida Geomatics program and set out to become a surveyor, graduating in 2001. Chris surveyed at firms in Jacksonville, Gainesville, Stuart, and West Palm Beach until joining his father at MacDriller, Inc. in Clearwater in 2011. Chris founded a successful surveying business which he ran for 9 years prior to merging his companies in with an established A/E firm in Pinellas County. Chris reacquired MacDriller, Inc. in July 2022 and moved to Lake County to join Clymer Farner Barley Surveying in Wildwood in 2023. He adds his surveying and utilities skills to CFB's team which has been the main design consultant serving The Villages for over 30 years. Chris is a Florida licensed Surveyor and Underground Contractor and is the 2024 Chair of the regulatory Board of Professional Surveyors & Mappers. Chris and his wife Jessica (not Lori! We are in-laws!) were married at the Jupiter Lighthouse in 2011 and have two kids. They have been Gator Boosters since 2013 and they also run a small zoo consisting of two dogs, three cats, three horses, & a pony. If you read between the lines, Chris really moved from Pinellas County because Jessica wanted horses.
