Summary:	Today was an absolutely stellar opening performance! The dancers were on fire and the audience loved every minute, they earned a standing ovation immediately as the lights came up for bows. We had a minor snafu with the projections right at the beginning - the projection for the introductory slide came up as the pre-show speech started (a lingering effect of yesterday's plan) - but it has already been fixed, so it will not happen again tomorrow. It was barely noticable and was addressed on the spot as the run began. We had a practically flawless run outside of that one issue, and a nearly full orchestra to enjoy it! Spectacular work, everyone, you should all be incredibly proud of the work that went into this production, and I feel incredibly privileged that I was afforded the opportunity to be apart of it. I'll see you all tomorrow for our matinee and closing night! Cheers!
