Summary:	Tonight was a closing performance to be proud of! A few issues, as there always tend to be in live performance, but the energy was high and it culminated in (what has become) our routine standing ovation! There were a few song and line flubs, but nowhere near as many as there were yesterday. The majority of the problems were technical and had very little to do with the performances of the actors. Happy closing night, everyone! It has been a pleasure to work with you all again. See you next summer!

Performance Notes
General Notes
- Act One Run Time: 1:18:46 - Act Two Run Time: 55:41 - Full show Run Time (with Intermission): 2:29:27

Issues/Repairs
- Sweeney's strop split in half last night, but was repaired for today's performance. - The rolling platform came detached from the main set at some point during the act two Johanna sequence. The crew re-attached it as subtly as they could during By the Sea.

Accidents/Injuries
- S. Esposito injured her neck yesterday during the aslym sequence. She went on stage with KT tape and did a side roll in place of her usual summersault. - E. Nebinger hurt his foot putting down the breaks on the platform for the Pirelli sequence. He got an ice pack and wrapped it around his ankle, and was able to finish the show.

Miscellaneous
- A. Woehle did not grab the squib for his death, and the crew did not get to him in time, so his death was less bloody than usual.

Missed Cues
- LX 358 called late.
