From the President's RV Travel Log

Welcome Spring and Upcoming RV Travels

To everyone, no matter what the time is, it's a "Good Morning," especially with Takota watching over my actions.

Cathy and I have been traveling and going to campgrounds doing safe distancing and wearing a mask as required. It is always nice to get out and enjoy a scenery change. It has not slowed us down, as we take enhanced precautions. We are all like family and miss having the opportunity to see you all at a rally for heartwarming conversation, games, or just enjoying the RV resort. Hopefully, on a positive note, we may achieve a March rally in Banning and Newport.

The Executive Board is still keeping in contact and is also looking at being at some rallies.

I want to thank Sheila Donigan, a longtime member of our chapter, for providing a nice collection of CCFMCA historical information about our past events. (Historical View page 17).

We encourage more members to send copies of events and rallies they have attended over the past 56 years. We are going to determine the best format approach to share these treasures with everyone.

As we progress into 2021, my thoughts on plans for this year will require the Board and me to look toward our members for input. These inputs and questions are listed below:

- Question 1: Should we continue with March, April, and May Rallies? Yes or No
- Question 2: Should we cancel all rallies for 2021? Yes or No
- Question 3: If we cancel February, March, and April, that will leave Sept, Oct and November (We will have a regular October rally) Agree or Disagree

We also have elections in October 2021 for the 2022 Board (It takes over during the November rally). All positions will be open at that time.

I encourage the general membership to email the Board with your opinions on how best to proceed. After all, it is your chapter, and we have all given our time to volunteer and make things happen.

Let's positively look at this and share our thoughts. We won't finalize anything without your responses.

Cathy and I wish everyone a stay safe, prosper in the next couple of months, and I hope we can get together very soon. Do not forget to move your clocks Forward.

Welcome back Denise Loxton as Secretary for remainder of 2021.

Carl Gardenias
CCFMCA President

CCFMCA Elections: It is time to consider new California Chapter officers for 2022. As of February 12, 2021, the information listed below has been determined but may change. Remember the positions and those of you who would like to either continue your job or throw your hat into the ring, as it will require 2022 elections to determine the new Officers and Directors. A nomination committee must be formed to ensure that this is in place by the May rally.

We technically should have had elections to replaced two Directors during 2020, but elections were not held. George, however, as one of the Directors, decided to stay on until 2022. So we only need a 2022 Director for two years now and fill the Secretary position until 2022. We also have the Secretary position that needs to be replaced.

President - position for 2022

Vice President - for 2022

Secretary - for 2022

Treasurer - for 2022

Wagon Master - for 2022

Three Directors - for 2022

National Director

Alternate National Director

CCFMCA General Meeting

2021 CCFMCA Summary Minutes of 10 February 2021

This summary of the California Chapter Zoom General Meeting minutes is recorded and presented in 2 – 3 weeks in a digital format, then transcribed later.

Call to Order (6:09 PM): CCFMCA Members roll call was conducted with 27 members attending via Zoom/ phone.

Officers Report:

- Carl Gardenias, President, stated that we need to put together a nomination committee to search for persons interested in leading the California Chapter. He noted that all positions are available, and elections must be conducted during the October rally.

Committee Reports:

- Cass gave the Treasurer Report
- Cathy, Wagon Master, reported March, April, and May rallies will depend on membership input.

Unfinished Business:

- Standing Rules will be sent to the Executive Board and then voted upon by the General Membership.
- March rally at Newport Dunes, the feeling of the membership was to have it. Cathy stated a minimum of 10 coaches is required to get the site prices that we have contracted; everyone would be responsible for their food, practicing safe distancing, and wear masks. As of right now, the Newport Dunes site indicates that everything is closed, except the pool and the little store. Volunteers are still requested, and the waiver form must be signed for each of the rallies (April and May). As we plan for the rallies, we will depend on restrictions that may still be in place, foods, games, etc.

New Business:

- September, October, and November rallies should go ahead as planned.
- The October rally will be a standard rally, with elections to be held for 2022 New Officers; nominations from the floor will also be accepted. The November rally will be the installation of the 2022 Officers.

Questions:

- Questions were brought up about the FMCA Convention rallies, but that will be discussed with the FMCA board and volunteers.

General Meeting adjourned

From the CCFMCA National Director

By Sonny Gillespie

Hello to all in CCFMCA during this most difficult pandemic period. During this time I have stayed in touch with the national office and provide the following FMCA news.

FMCA NEWS:

- The FMCA Executive Board has not met in person since the Minot ND rally which is the longest in the history of FMCA.
- FMCA plans to return dues back to $50 so be sure to renew at this $50 rate.

National FMCA Rallies

The FMCA Executive Board voted to continue the 102nd International Convention & RV Expo Perry Convention as there are around 1100 registered.

- The 102nd International Convention & RV Expo will convene March 10 – 13 2021 at the Fairgrounds & Agri-Center in Perry GA. For further information go to: <https://www.fmca.com/fmca-event-registration>.

The FMCA Executive Board voted on the 103rd International Convention & RV Expo Gillet Convention. A number of the board members voted "No" to not have this rally with most coming from the Western Regions. From CCFMCA, I believe this rally should be avoided until sufficient members have received COVID-19 vaccinations.

- The 103rd International Convention & RV Expo will convene July 7 – 10 2021 at the Com-Plex in Gillette WY. For further information go to: <https://www.fmca.com/fmca-event-registration>.

As with most rallies during this current environment, many things may change at a moments notice.

FMCAassist Medical Emergency Program

FMCA has changed our provider for the popular FMCAassist Medical Evacuation and Travel Assistance Program. Travel Assistance Services is provided by Europ Assistance, and coverage is underwritten by Federal Insurance Company, a member insurer of the Chubb Group of companies. FROM THE EDITOR

By John Seguin

Spring's here, so remember to advance your clocks. So as 2021 marches on lets make the CCFMCA Spot-Lite Newsletter great. Therefore, you as members are important to your newsletter by submitting interesting newsworthy items for publication.

So, forward those interest items to the CCFMCA Spot-Lite Editor at aircrewco@cox.net.

Remember we communicate to you by three methods:

1. Timely emails. On occasion, instances will arise when there is a need for communications with membership about updates rather than waiting for the CCFMCA Spot-Lite that is published every two months.
2. CCFMCA Spot-Lite – Our bi-monthly publication highlights one or two previous rallies, includes information from the Board of Directors and other information on future rallies.

Website & Database Coordinator

By Tracy Lenocker

3. The third communication effort is the Chapter's website that contains CCFMCA documents, By-Laws, Standing Rules, membership roster, past Spot-Lite newsletters, membership / renewal applications, photos of past rallies, and previous minutes from the Board of Director and General Membership meetings conducted via Zoom.

The Game Guy

By John Jones

Be assured that whatever and whenever our rallies are there will always be games. Until this pandemic is over, we will put into place necessary precautions to stay safe and you always have the chance to skip the games.

Virtual Happenings In Zoom

Joining A Zoom Meeting

By Tracy Lenocker

Our current restrictions from various agencies seem to be changing all the time and are hard to keep up with. Our CCFMCA President and board members spend time trying to figure out how these affect us if at all.

What we have put in place is a method of communication with all members. These are virtual meetings which might be a General Membership meeting like we had on December 2nd or a Board meeting which is planned for February.

These virtual meetings are being used by hundreds of thousands of clubs, schools, businesses, and other organizations to help each other keep in touch.

CCFMCA is using the most popular of these technologies. The software is called Zoom. It is a free program and has security built-in. You can run it from a website requiring no installation or you can download and install it on one or more of your devices. It runs on laptops, tablets, and smartphones. You can enter the meeting by video and see everyone or by telephone.

The way it works is that a "Host" (normally me) creates a virtual meeting and sends everyone an invitation via email. In that email, there are two options for you to connect. I use the simple method which you have seen in previous email invitations. There is a link that is a long line of normally blue letters and numbers that starts with "HTTPS://". All you have to do is to click on the line and the Zoom program will start. If you have not installed it then it will take a few moments and start the web version for you.

Depending on the Host's settings you can join either via video if your device has a camera or you can call in just like a normal teleconference. The phone number, conference ID, and Password are all in the email I send out. Here is generally what it looks like (do not use this one below as this is an example and the numbers are fake).

Tracy - WM6T is inviting you to a scheduled Zoom meeting.

We hope you can join us at the next CCFMCA Zoom session. By the way, I am willing to help any of you who would like some help in getting Zoom set up. Besides using it for our CCFMCA meetings, families are using it to visit with friends and family across the state, US, and around the world – all free.

Wagon Master - Rallies and Events

By Cathy Gardenias, Wagon Master
ccfmca.1@gmail.com

Dear Members,

I wish that we could have met in February, but alas, we needed to keep our members' safety in check. The chapter president is sending a message asking for your inputs on proceeding with the rest of the year.

I am planning on the March, April, and May rallies, but of course, this depends on your opinions.

February 10, 2021 – We had our Zoom General Meeting with 27 check-ins and discussed how we should proceed for the rest of 2021.

The good news is that many of the members want to see the March, April, and May rallies go forward by a show of hands.

As I stated in the meeting, for right now, Newport Dunes is accepting our contract as long as we have a minimum of 10 coaches coming in. As I explained, right now and probably for March, Newport Dunes will not have any of the clubhouses, exercise room, restaurant open. The only open areas are the pool (must reserve and can use for 2 hours) and the little store—safe distancing and masks where appropriate. We also must sign our waivers from the FMCA. NO, food will be provided, bring your food. We need a change, let us have some fun! Also mentioned that we still need trail bosses/assistant trail bosses to check-in members that arrive. Please sign up!

Happy Trails, and I hope to see you soon.
 CCFMCA 2020 Wagon Master
 Cathy Gardenias

Trial Boss / Assistant Trial Boss Note!

For RV road herding, remember your free chuck wagon vittles and RV site is free. Also, the trail herding documents are on the CCFMCA website under a Trail Boss Documents header tab. But for any trial boss information contact your Wagon Master - Cathy Gardenias at ccfm-ca.1@gmail.com or phone 951-809-8720.

Hospitality and Membership

By Carol Jones

I have not had any reports of chapter members being under the weather. I hope that means everyone is staying healthy and safe.

I am anticipating that the vaccines against COVID-19 will soon be available to all of us, which will allow us to get back to our somewhat normal lives.

In the meantime, stay safe and please keep me informed of any of our members that need get well wishes or cheering!

Don't forget to pay your FMCA dues, remember to remain a member of CCFMCA you must be a member of FMCA.

New Members: We have no new members since our last newsletter.

Cannot wait to get back out in the rig and visit all of you at the next rally.

Warmest of Wishes to all the Members of our CCFMCA Family!

From the Sheriff

Howdy Folks - I am on the lookout for "BADGES". Since the state has re-opened based upon color tier levels again, I feel it is important to say that we need to stay safe and continue mask use and wash hands as we get together.

With that being said and we possibly get to go back to our rallies, we need to remember that we must wear our badges in order to recall who everyone is and avoid a monetary fine. So smile and say "Howdy" when meeting everyone one again.

GUIDE TO DEWINTERIZING YOUR RV

Steps to dewinterize your RV
RV spring cleaning tips
Start planning your next trip

The weather is getting warmer, the days are getting longer and the excitement of hitting the road in your RV is setting in again. Unless you are a full-time RV-er, this means bringing your rig out of storage and performing RV spring maintenance to get your camper ready for the season. Before you head out on your first camping trip of spring, use this RV dewinterizing guide to get your RV clean and ready for travel again.

Before you head out on your first camping trip of spring, use this RV DEWINTERIZING GUIDE to get your RV clean and ready for travel again.

HOW TO DEWINTERIZE YOUR RV

When it's finally time to bring your RV out of storage, you will need to take several steps to reverse the RV winterizing process that you performed in the fall. Follow these steps for RV dewinterizing to get your RV in peak condition for the season:

1. CHECK YOUR TIRES

During the months in storage, your RV tires will lose about two to three psi of air pressure each month. If your RV is stored outside or somewhere cold, your tires may be even more deflated when you uncover your camper in the spring. Driving your RV with underinflated tires can cause poor handling, uneven wear, a blowout and may even lead to an accident. Ac-

ording to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, tire condition was a contributing factor in 655 vehicle crashes in 2017, and tire-related crashes led to 738 motor vehicle fatalities.

CHECK YOUR TIRES

During the months in storage, your RV tires will lose about two to three psi of air pressure each month.

Using a tire pressure gauge, check the air pressure in all of your RV tires — including the spare. Reinflate the tires to match the manufacturer's recommendation based on the load. If you are unsure of the correct tire pressure for your RV, check your owner's manual.

When inspecting your RV tires, check for signs of wear, such as cracks in the sidewalls and worn down treads. The start of the season is a great time to purchase new RV tires - especially if you already have some long-distance adventures planned.

2. INSPECT THE EXTERIOR

Before diving into more intensive RV spring maintenance, visually inspect the outside of your RV for any damages, leaks or cracks. Inspect the weatherstripping around windows and doors and replace any sealant that is cracked or peeling. Check all body, roof and slide-out seams and apply new seals as necessary.

INSPECT THE EXTERIOR

If you stored your RV outdoors for the winter, check for any water damage and pay particular attention to the roof.

If you stored your RV outdoors for the winter, check for any water damage and pay particular attention to the roof - heavy snow accumulation can lead to structural damage or cause seams to crack. When working on the roof of your RV, use extra caution to prevent a fall.

If you have a towable camper, inspect the hitch components for rust and damage. Replace any damaged parts now to avoid an accident or getting stuck out on the road with a broken hitch.

3. CHARGE AND REINSTALL YOUR BATTERIES

Just as your RV tires will lose pressure during storage, your RV batteries will also lose a percentage of their charge due to internal leakage. If they are not periodically checked and recharged during the off-season, your RV batteries lose a small percent of their charge each month that they are in storage. By keeping your batteries charged during storage, you can extend the lifespan of your RV batteries and will be ready to go when the season starts!

Before your first RV trip of the spring, check the charge on your batteries using a voltmeter. Make sure your RV is not connected to electricity, or you will get a false reading. A fully charged 12-volt RV battery will actually read about 12.7 volts. If your battery reads just 12 volts or below, it should be charged before you take your RV on the road.

To charge your RV batteries, attach the battery charger to the RV charger while the battery charger is turned off. Turn the battery charger on and allow the battery to charge completely. Depending on the battery size, your RV batteries may need to charge for a few hours or a few days.

After the battery is charged, check the water level in the battery and add distilled water to reach the correct level. If the water level is below the plates, water should be added before charging the battery, as the plates should always remain covered.

When reinstalling your RV battery, check that it is connected securely. If you are not confident in checking and installing your battery on your own, contact an RV maintenance service to perform this RV spring maintenance task for you.

4. FLUSH YOUR WATER SYSTEM

Dewinterizing your water system is one of the most crucial steps of RV spring preparation. When you are on the road, you rely on a clean source of water for cooking, drinking, washing dishes and showering. However, when you winterized your RV water system in the fall, you most likely added non-toxic RV antifreeze to the water system to prevent the pipes from freezing. This antifreeze must now be flushed out of the plumbing system so the water is clean and safe to drink.

If you added anti-freeze directly to the fresh water holding tank, the first step is to drain the tank entirely. Add potable water back into the fresh water holding tank and then follow these steps for how to flush antifreeze from your camper water system:

- a. Turn the water pump on.
- b. Open all water faucets, including sinks and indoor and outdoor showers.
- c. Allow water to run through the system for several minutes.
- d. While the pump is running, flush the toilet a few times.
- e. When the water comes out clear, close the faucets and turn off the pump.
- f. Take the water heater out of bypass mode.
- g. Replace all water filter cartridges that you removed for storage.
- h. Dump your gray and black water holding tanks at an official dump site.

If your water heater was not put into bypass mode for winter storage, you will also need to drain the RV antifreeze from the water heater tank and collect it for disposal. Do this before replacing the water filters.

After flushing your water system for several minutes, your water should taste clean and fresh, but if it still has a residual anti-freeze taste, you can add baking soda to help remove this unpleasant flavor. Simply sprinkle baking soda directly into each drain or dissolve it in water and pour it down the drains. Flush the system again until the water tastes clean.

Instead of using your RV water pump to flush antifreeze from your camper's water system, you can also use a garden hose or city water supply. Begin by attaching the hose to your water hookup instead of turning on the RV water pump, and then follow the same steps described above.

5. SANITIZE YOUR WATER SYSTEM

The second essential step for dewinterizing your RV water system is to sanitize it. Even if you did not use non-toxic anti-freeze to winterize your plumbing system, sanitizing your water system is still important for removing any bacteria or mold that could have grown during the months in storage.

CCFMCA RV Maintenance Thoughts

Follow these steps to sanitize your RV water system:

1. Close all drains and install drain plugs.
2. Measure one-quarter cup of household bleach for every 15 gallons your fresh water tank holds.
3. Pour the bleach into a one-gallon container and fill it up with water.
4. Add the bleach and water mixture into the fresh water tank fill.
5. Fill the fresh water tank entirely with potable water.
6. Turn on the water pump and open all faucets.
7. Run the water until you can smell the bleach and then close the faucets.
8. Let the solution sit for up to twelve hours in the water tank and water lines.
9. Drain all of the water from the system.
10. Refill the fresh water tank with potable water.
11. Flush the system by turning on the water pump and opening all faucets.

Allow the water to run until it no longer smells like bleach.

When sanitizing your RV water system, it is important to allow the bleach to sit for long enough to effectively eliminate harmful bacteria. However, leaving bleach in your water lines for too long can cause synthetic seals to deteriorate more quickly. To effectively sanitize your water system without damaging plumbing components, let the bleach solution sit for at least a few hours but no longer than 12 hours.

6. CHECK FOR LEAKY PIPES

While you are preparing your RV water system for the start of the season, check your plumbing system for any leaks. With water in the fresh water tank, turn on the electric pump and allow it to pressurize the water system. When the system reaches full pressure, the pump will shut off. Listen for several minutes to hear if the pump turns back on. If the pump cycles back on again or does not shut off at all, there is a leak somewhere in your plumbing system.

Locate the leak by checking the pipe system and looking for leaks under sinks. Check the toilet for leakage around the edge. Leaks inside your RV may also cause water damage if not addressed quickly. Repair any leaks you identify or take your camper to an RV repair service if you are not comfortable fixing the leak on your own.

7. REPLACE PROPANE TANKS

If your RV uses propane, reinstall your propane tanks on their mounts and connect the hose. Make sure the hose is fitted tightly by turning on the propane valve a little bit to open the gas line. Apply soapy water to each of the hose connectors using a sponge or small spray bottle. Watch to see if any bubbles form, indicating that there may be a propane leak. Tighten the fitting and repeat the process to make sure it is tightly connected.

If your RV has refillable propane tanks, take them to a propane station to be filled. Some states require propane tanks to be recertified periodically. If your state requires propane tank recertification, make sure your tanks have not expired and ask when your tanks will need to be recertified.

8. CHECK PROPANE APPLIANCES

After your propane tanks are reinstalled, check that all of your LP gas-fired appliances are working properly by opening the gas line and testing each appliance. When testing the hot water heater, make sure it is full of water first.

If any of your gas-fired appliances are not working, schedule an inspection with a certified RV maintenance service. Propane leaks or ignition issues can be dangerous and are best handled by professionals.

9. TEST 120-VOLT APPLIANCES

If all of your propane appliances are operating properly, plug in your unit and test the 120-volt appliances. Make sure you are using a sufficient electricity source of 30 or 50 amps, or appliances like air conditioners and microwaves may not run properly.

To test your refrigerator in electric mode, first, turn it off and then open the doors to allow it to return to room temperature. Plug it back in once your RV is connected to an electrical hookup.

10. CHECK THE ENGINE

Inspect the RV engine by checking all engine fluid levels and making sure all lights and controls are operational.

CCFMCA RV Maintenance Thoughts

Check the fluid levels of the power steering, transmission, engine oil, brake fluid, engine coolant and windshield washer fluid. If any levels are low, top them off before your first camping adventure or have your RV serviced. If you are concerned that there is a leak in any part of the engine, take your RV to a mechanic.

Check the fluid levels of the power steering, transmission, engine oil, brake fluid, engine coolant and windshield washer fluid. If any levels are low, top them off before your first camping adventure or have your RV serviced. If you are concerned that there is a leak in any part of the engine, take your RV to a mechanic.

After checking the engine fluid levels, hop in the driver's seat and start the engine. Check the readings on all gauges and verify that all dash lights, headlights, taillights and windshield wipers are working. If any service lights come on, have your RV inspected by a certified mechanic.

11. TEST YOUR RV GENERATOR

If your RV has an onboard generator, check the oil level. If oil levels are low, have your generator serviced by a professional.

Before testing your generator, check the exhaust system for any damage. Operating a generator with a damaged exhaust system can harm the generator and lead to serious consequences. After inspecting the exhaust, turn the generator on to test it. If you exercised your RV generator during storage, it should start up easily. If the generator was not operated at all during storage, run it for a few hours with a half-rated load. Refer to the owner's manual for load ratings. If your generator surges or will not start, have it inspected and repaired.

12. CHANGE FILTERS

During RV spring maintenance, change out all of your air and water filters. Air filters can collect a lot of dust and debris during a busy camping season, so start the season fresh with clean filters. Changing filters in your air conditioner and water systems can also improve the efficiency of your systems and save energy. When changing air and water filters, make sure to purchase the correct size for your air conditioner and water system. Ensure the filters fit snugly to effectively filter out dirt and bacteria.

13. CHECK WINDOWS AND AIR VENTS

As part of your RV spring maintenance, open all of your windows and air vents to make sure they are in working order. Air vents ensure proper air flow through your camper to prevent excess humidity and keep you cool all summer long. Properly functioning air vents become even more essential when you turn your RV heat back on in the fall, as they protect against toxic gas build-up inside your RV. Opening all of your windows will also refresh your RV with clean spring air after you take it out of storage.

14. CHECK SAFETY DEVICES

Before heading out on the road, make sure all of the safety devices in your RV are operating properly. This includes your smoke alarm, fire extinguisher, carbon monoxide detector and LP detector. Install new batteries in all battery-powered safety devices. Test your carbon monoxide detector and smoke alarm. Make sure you know the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning and how to prevent a carbon monoxide leak in your RV.

Look at the expiration date on your fire extinguisher and purchase a new one if yours is outdated. If your RV has a dry powder fire extinguisher, release any powder that may have settled during storage by shaking it and tapping it on the bottom. Make sure you know how to properly operate your fire extinguisher and know what each safety alarm in your RV sounds like. Planning for safety in advance can help ensure a smooth and carefree RV camping season.

15. RESTOCK FIRST AID AND EMERGENCY SUPPLIES

Another crucial step for RV safety this camping season is to restock your RV first aid and emergency supplies as part of your RV spring preparation. Check the expiration dates on any medicines and restock any first aid supplies that are low. Get rid of any dry food that has expired and make sure your RV has plenty of bottled water in case of an emergency. Your RV emergency kit should also include tools and other supplies for emergency RV repairs, such as pliers, a hammer, screwdrivers, extra oil and coolant, hoses, batteries and leveling blocks.

16. UPDATE YOUR REGISTRATION AND INSURANCE

After dewatering your RV battery, water system, propane and engine, the final step for getting your RV ready for travel is making sure your papers are in order.

CCFMCA RV Maintenance Thoughts

Check that your RV registration is up-to-date, as well as your RV insurance and emissions sticker. If you have a towable RV, you may not be required to keep it insured, but having insurance can be a smart investment to protect your camper in case of an accident.

Store your RV documentation in an accessible place in your RV. Should you ever be pulled over or have an accident, you will be happy to have all of the necessary paperwork on hand.

6 RV SPRING CLEANING TIPS

In addition to your essential RV dewatering tasks, the start of the camping season is the perfect time for some RV spring cleaning. Here are a few RV cleaning tips to get your camper clean and sparkling before you head out for your first adventure of the season:

- Wash the exterior: Hose down and wash the exterior of your RV to make it shine for the start of the season. When washing your RV, always start at the top and work your way down using a cleaner that will not harm your RV paneling.
- Check for critters: Check your RV for any bugs, spiders or mice that may have found their way into your camper during the winter. Look in all the nooks and crannies, including your water heater, refrigerator drawers and cabinets
- Clean fans and air conditioners: To keep fresh air flowing all summer long, clean your fan blades and screens with warm soapy water. For a thorough clean, take the fan apart to wash each component separately and clean the fan housing using an all-purpose cleaning spray and cloth.
- Wash windows and screens: Remove your RV's window screens and clean them gently using soapy water. Allow the screens to air dry or wipe them with a clean towel. Polish the windows with glass cleaner and then replace the screens
- Change linens and towels: Replace any linens that you removed for storage and change all bedding, pillows, blankets, towels and washcloths.
- Vacuum: Vacuum your RV floors and inside the cabinets to remove any dust that settled during the winter.

By following these RV spring cleaning tips, your RV will be ready for travel in no time!

PLAN YOUR NEXT RV ADVENTURE AT A CAMPGROUND

Now that your RV is clean and ready for the season, its time to hit the road again! Whether you are heading back to a favorite destination or want to venture somewhere new for your first RV trip of the season, you can find a campground convenient to your destination. With more than locations across the U.S. and Canada, you can make a campground near your home for an extended stay or simply stop by on your way to the next adventure.

KOA RV Sites offer comfortable amenities including full 30- or 50-amp hookups, laundry facilities and full sewer hookups. When you stay at a KOA Campground, you can choose a Back-In or Pull-Thru RV Site and many campgrounds also offer RV Sites with a KOA Patio™. KOA has something for everyone, no matter your preferred camping style.

As RVers across the country are getting their camper ready for the first trip of the season, make your reservation early so you can score your perfect RV site at your favorite KOA Campground before it fills up. CHUCK WAGON AND FOOD TRUCK HISTORY

By Cookie

The invention of the American chuckwagon is credited to cattleman Charles Goodnight. In 1866, Charles required a way to keep his drovers fed as they trailed cattle from Texas to the North. A true product of "necessity breeds creativity", Goodnight bolted a wooden box to the back of an Army Studebaker wagon and added compartments to store utensils, bedding, food, and more. The rest, they say, is history.

The term "chuck" is a term from 17th Century England used by meat merchants who referred to their lower priced goods. By the 18th Century, "chuck" was colloquial for good, heart-warming food. So it is no surprise that Charles Goodnight's invention became known as a "Chuck Wagon". His simple creativity revolutionized the cattle industry and is now celebrated as the official vehicle of Texas.

This brings us to today's food trucks which are scaled from the 1866 mother of invention of feeding people. They are a direct lineage traced to the Texas chuck wagon, born in the post-Civil War cattle boom. "To move a herd of cattle overland meant crews of cowhands had to live in the open for months at a time," writes the American Chuck Wagon Association. "The need to feed and care for these mostly young men resulted in the development of the chuck wagon." Cattle herder Chuck Goodnight is often credited with being the first to outfit an old U.S. Army truck with kitchen supplies and easy-to-store food like coffee, cornmeal, bacon, and salted beef. Soon they were a ubiquitous image over the Texas landscape.

Chuck Wagon 30 Minute Goulash

Ingredients

- 3 Tbsp oil and/or butter
- 2 cloves garlic (or 1/2 teaspoon powdered garlic)
- 1 large onion
- 1 pound(s) ground beef
- 1 - 26 ounce can of whole tomatoes
- 1/2 tsp dill seed
- 1 tsp parsley
- salt and pepper to taste

Preparation

- In the 3 tbsp of oil or butter, sauté 2 cloves of fresh garlic, peeled and chopped (or later, when browning the meat, add 1/2 to 1 tsp of powdered garlic, depending on your taste).
- While the garlic is simmering, peel and slice (about 1/4" thick slices) 1 large onion (of any kind). Do not chop. Add in as whole rings, and turn up the heat all the way.
- When the onions are soft and beginning to brown, add in 1 lb of ground beef, not too lean as fat adds flavor. Mix with the onion and garlic and cook until brown (at this point, if you are really concerned with fat and cholesterol, drain excess fat).
- Add salt and pepper to taste.
- While the meat is browning, open a 26 oz can of whole tomatoes. When the meat is brown, add the juice from the can and the tomatoes, tearing them into small pieces with your fingers. This creates a juice, rather than a gravy. If the tomatoes come in a thick sauce, add water until it becomes juice like. This is important, since it will be served over rice.
- Add 1/2 tsp of dill seed and 1 tsp of dried (or fresh, chopped) parsley. Cover and simmer.
- Cook 1 cup or your favorite rice. When the rice is done, so is the goulash. Place 1/2 cup of rice on each plate and cover with goulash, making sure to serve with plenty of juice.

A salad and brown-and-serve dinner rolls go well with this, too.

Old Chuck Wagon Jargon

Arbuckle's axle grease: - Arbuckle brand of coffee was the one most used on the range. Axle grease referred to the strength of the coffee.
