

Sophomores To Give Play Two Nights

The sophomore class at Hunterdon Central High School will stage the play "Everybody Loves Opal" tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

The comedy is based on the Broadway play by John Patrick which starred Academy Award winner Eileen Heckhart, Brenda Vaccaro and James Coco.

The Hunterdon Central cast consists of Opal, played by Nancy Gehrs; three criminals, Phylis Renda, John Skolitis, and Peter Hooper; policeman, Mitch Klopper; and a doctor, Beth Woodward.

Frank Decavalcante is the faculty director. The student director is Terri Moore. Make-up director is Dori Goedeke and props director, Steve Johnson.

Tickets sell for $1 to students and $1.50 to others.