When Winter Isn't, We Still Are

As I write this, midweek in mid-January, the pre-dawn temperature had dropped way down into the low 50s, which found me “layering” like the Clicquot Club eskimo to head out... into a day that ended up being shirt-sleeve weather in the low 70s. It is hard for us, here in our semi-tropical paradise, to relate to the harshness of Winter; after all, the only snow we know around here is the snow-white sand on the beaches by the always-balmy Gulf of Mexico.

Herschel of Ostrepol, the famous Hasidic jester, was notoriously underpaid. When he hinted that he needed a little more money to meet his family's needs in Winter, the rebbe grumbled: “Let me know what you need, in a sufficiently entertaining roundabout way, and maybe I can throw a few more thalers your way.” Frowning thoughtfully, Herschel observed: “You know, rabbi, Jack Frost is a notorious skirt-chaser!” Surprised, the rabbi demanded, “How's that?” “Well, Herschel shrugged, “just this morning he put the moves on my wife, and I couldn't even find a stick of stove wood to drive him off!”

Yet barely a century ago most of our families lived in northern Europe or European Russia, at latitudes so high that snow and ice, and the discomfort and even perils of coping with them, were an everyday reality and a challenge indeed.

A rabbi soliciting alms to help underwrite the needs of the suffering poor challenged to find work during the Winter months, came to the mansion of the wealthiest member of his congregation. Ignoring the invitation to come in, he chatted for a while about local affairs while the householder stood shivering at the open door. When the rabbi finally got around to the business at hand, the host willingly agreed— but, as he handed over the very generous gift of a fifty-ruble note, he asked the rabbi: “Why didn't you come join me inside, and discuss the needs of the poor over a glass of tea by the fire?” To which the rabbi, smiling shyly, answered: “I wanted to make sure that you had an opportunity to feel ‘the needs of the poor’ for yourself.”

So while the traumas of Winter are very much a part of our landscape, we also have rich folkloric traditions preserving the ways that we, as a true community worthy of the name, have always helped and supported each other— whatever the weather or season.

In the Old Country, where “at three I started Hebrew School,” it was the practice for the older children to leave for cheder in the morning earlier than the youngsters. In part that is because the pre- and early-teens counted in the minyan, and were required to attend daily worship— but it was also so that, in the Winter season, the older and bigger boys, going to the academy first, could tramp down the snow and make a path so it would be easier for the little children to follow in turn.

As we continue to confront a Winter of the spirit, compelled by circumstances to interact only from a distance, may the fact that we are still Us— the JCMi Family— offer each of us the reassurance that we are more than virtually walking the same path to make it easier for everyone else to follow along... and meet up back at our Temple home as soon as we properly can.

For counseling, Jewish questions, or guitar lessons, the Rabbi is at your disposal any time by telephone 954-798-6037 or e-mail RabbiMarkGross@gmail.com.

“Federation Shabbat” at JCMI, Feb 12

Our neighbor and friend Jeffrey Feld, President and CEO of Jewish Federation of Greater Naples, will be joining us at our live-stream on-line Shabbat worship on the evening of February 12. The occasion is Shabbat Sh'qalim, “the Sabbath of the Sheqels,” the inauguration of the new month of Adar, which is traditionally a season for pondering the importance of the mitzvah of tz'dakah.

Be on hand to welcome Jeffrey Feld as he brings us greetings from Federation, in a celebration of all that JCMI has the privilege of doing as part of the larger Collier County Jewish Community.

Erotic Love Poetry (and What It's Doing in the Bible)

In follow-up to the previous Valentine's Day weekend, we explore The Song of Songs, and the interesting way this incongruous little book finds its way into the Jewish religious consciousness (and into the prayerbook, too!).

Celebrating Purim Together, Feb 26

Our annual observance of Purim, the riotous Feast of Queen Esther, will be incorporated into our regular Shabbat evening worship at 7:30 on the last Friday evening this month, with the core of our service abbreviated slightly to make room for the holiday observance and reading of the m'gillah.

The story of Purim is set across a vast stage—the entire Persian Empire, extending “from Ethiopia to India.” We're nowhere near that far apart from each other, so we can easily share our joy in the occasion even while sheltering-in-place due to pandemic.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

FEBRUARY 20TH BRINGS AN INTERESTING SPEAKER TO OUR CULTURAL SERIES

After 14 years of bringing the Naples Philharmonic Brass Quintet to Marco, we must report that they will not be appearing on February 6th. The board has decided that it is not safe to bring the quintet here to perform for live streaming. We are looking into other options with the Phil and are hopeful that we can obtain permission for a performance in the near future.

We are, however, very excited to announce that on February 20th, Dr. David Langer, chairman of the Department of Neurosurgery at Lenox Hill Hospital, NYC, will present to us via Zoom. When elective surgery was not allowed in NYC, Dr. Langer became a leader in caring for COVID-19 patients. The New York Times named ten leading doctors in the crisis; he was named number one.

We are so lucky to have this international speaker join us for our Cultural Series. The title of the program is "Covid-19 - My Experience as an MD in NYC." There will be a Q/A period following the presentation. The office will make available the Zoom ID and Password COMPLIMENTARY to all. Mark your calendars for this outstanding evening.

"B.Y.O.C. Oneg Shabbat"

Starting February 5th, jump on Zoom five minutes after Friday night services to interact with your friends and neighbors. Just because we are for the moment compelled by circumstances to "distance-davven" by live-streaming, there's no reason JCMi members can't hang out and chat after Shabbat worship, as we always do in normal times!

Zoom log-in protocol is the same we use for Saturday morning Torah-study and worship-- find the tune-in details and passcode on the "Schedule of Services" page of this edition of The Messenger. There's nothing "virtual" about our fellowship (although this mode of 'Oneg will be strictly "Bring Your Own Cookies"!).

Friday evening services are now held using the Live Stream link found on our JCMI website – instructions are available upon request but are also found in the Wednesday email. Torah study and Saturday services will continue via Zoom – instructions are available upon request but also found in the Wednesday email.

Denotes a Yahrtseit Plaque. Yahrtseits will be recited during the Shabbat Services in the week that they occur.

Yahrtseit Notices

Our policy at JCMI is to offer members the choice of recording Yahrtseit dates in accordance with the English or Hebrew calendars.

If members choose to remember loved ones on their Yahrtseit using the English date of death, the Yahrtseit will be observed each year on the Friday Evening of the week in which that English date occurs.

If the Hebrew date is chosen, the Hebrew date falls on a different English date each year. The Yahrtseit will be observed each year on the Friday evening of the week when that Hebrew date occurs.

Please inform the office as to which date you observe the Yahrtseit of your loved one so that it can be properly recorded in our records. I hope this clarified and eliminates confusion about our policy.

Flowers on the Bimah

Now that we are live streaming, we have a lovely view of the Bimah. We can, once again, take sponsors for flowers on the Bimah. So, nice to get back to some measure of normality. Third-Sunday
 Life-Long Learning Series
 for 5781 (2020-21)

Sunday, January 17 - Leprecohens, and Other Interesting Jews.

An introduction to unique Jewish communities around the world (with recipes!).

Sunday, February 21 - Erotic Love Poetry (and What It's Doing In the Bible).

On the Sunday after Valentines Day, an exploration of the Song of Songs, exploring how this incongruous little book finds its way into the Jewish religious consciousness (and into the prayerbook, too).

Sunday, March 21 - "...But Was Caesar Good for the Jews?"

There was an era when "...but is it good for the Jews?" was the sum evaluation of all things in current events. On the Sunday after the proverbial "ides of March," we will do a little survey of non-current events, evaluating some of the rulers of ancient Rome to discover what their dominion meant to our long-ago people...both in and out of Israel.

If pandemic has subsided by then - All sessions convene in the Meer Room at the Synagogue, starting at 10:00 a.m., with coffee social beforehand at 9:30.

If it is not yet safe to be together - All sessions will convene on-line by Zoom at 10:00, with hand-outs available at the JCMI website the previous week.
