A [Proper] Spiritual Focus

With the spirituality of the New Year season behind us, the arrival of October sees us involved with spirits of a different kind. Hard on the heels of The Ten Days of Repentance, when we sing exalted hymns about the celestial messengers On High, comes All Hallows Eve, with its emphasis on ghosts, goblins, and ghouls.

Now clergy love a good ghost story as much as anyone else. The light reading in our guest room includes an Alfred Hitchcock anthology, Stories That Go Bump In The Night. And, for that matter, we have our own Jewish ghost stories in the Talmud (including a favorite one I shared a couple of years back, on the Shabbat of Hallowe'en weekend, about a man who took to hanging around the graveyard late at night to get hot trading tips about commodities futures).

But the point is that those are our ghost stories. The teachings and anecdotes of the Talmud may reflect the Babylonian host culture's obsession with demons and spirits. However, by the tone and tenor of those teachings our long-ago sages reflected a uniquely Jewish "spin" that removed the threat of these preternatural creatures, by normalizing them as an orderly part of God's Creation... the same as us.

Nomenclature alone is an index of foreignness. Consider that, in the aforementioned unholy trinity of "ghosts, goblins, and ghouls," those terms are, respectively, German, Greek, and Arabic—in other words, not very Jewish. (Add to that list that "witch" and "devil" are also German; "demon" is Greek; and "vampire" is Serbian). Israeli Hebrew does offer a translation for those terms, but in each case it is a modern fabrication; the cultures that spawned these words did not exist in Biblical antiquity.

More significant, the ideas themselves are foreign to the Jewish experience. They presuppose a duality, with forces of evil inimical to and opposed to God. Such a concept is mutually exclusive of the religious thinking of the Jewish people, who recite daily hear, O Israel: The Eternal One, Alone, is God, and who mean every word. Speaking through the prophet Isaiah, God affirms:

שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ יְהוָה אֶחָד

יוֹצֵר אֹר וּבֹרֵא חֹשֶׁךְ עֹשֶׂה שְׁלוֹם וּבֹרֵא רָע אֲנִי יְהוָה עֹשֶׂה כָּל-אֵלֶּה

Forming light and creating darkness, making tranquility and creating disruption—I, The Eternal One, do all these [Isaiah 46:7].

It is the challenge of wrapping our finite thinking about that infinite possibility, that makes the idea of God so very intriguing to us. And so reassuring, as well.

May this season of the year, as darkness gathers earlier and lasts longer, find us confident and unafraid... not to mention, brushing our teeth thoroughly after all that holiday candy.

For counseling, Jewish questions, or guitar lessons, the Rabbi is at your disposal any time by telephone 954-798-6037 or e-mail RabiMarkGross@gmail.com.

JCMi Schedule of Services

October, 2020 – Tishrei/Cheshvan, 5781

Rabbi Gross and Cantorial Soloist Hari Jacobsen lead our Congregation in welcoming Sabbath every Friday night at 7:30. Until such time as it is again safe to hold public gatherings, we will exclusively be live-streaming Friday night worship: on the Zoom platform until October 03, and henceforth with convenient one-click access from our website, www.marcojcmi.com.

Visit our website to download a copy of our Friday night “Readers Digest Siddur for Distance-Davvening”; the current week’s Saturday Torah-study handout; and the special Festival prayerbook for Danny Benarroch’s Bar-Mitzvah celebration on October 03.

קבלת שבת Qabbalat Shabbat Worship - Friday evenings, 7:30 p.m.

Danny Benarroch, Bar-Mitzvah October 3rd

Our own Danny Benarroch, son of Al and Yvette Benarroch, leads worship as he is called to the Torah as a Bar-Mitzvah on Saturday, October 3rd, making our welcome to the jubilant Autumn harvest Feast of Sukkot a particularly special occasion.

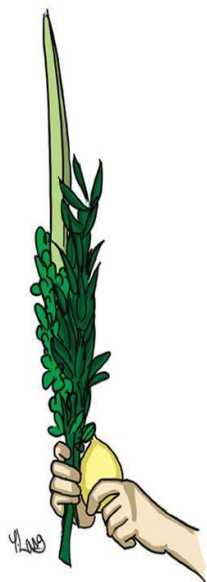

Worship begins at 10:30 a.m., immediately after 9:30 Torah-study at the same address (join us for that, as well!). Log in via Zoom with meeting ID: 944-816-2391 and using password: 777711.

Be sure to check in at the JCMI website <https://marcojcmi.com> prior to that weekend, to secure the special Shabbat and Festival prayer booklet for the service Danny is leading, as well as the Torah-study packet for 9:30.

Lulav-Waving: A Hands-on New Year Tradition

Although social-distancing precludes our ability to erect and share our beautiful JCMI sukkah this year, you can still fulfill the equally important hands-on mitzvah of waving the lulav and etrog, in fulfillment of the Divine command in the Torah:

וּלְקַחְתֶּם לָכֶם פְּרִי עֵץ הָדָר

“You are to take yourselves the citron fruit,

כַּפֹּת תְּמָרִים וְעֵנָף עֵץ-עָבֹת וְעַרְבֵי-נָחַל

palm fronds, and sprigs of myrtle and willow,

וּשְׂמַחְתֶּם לִפְנֵי יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵיכֶם שִׁבְעַת יָמִים

and you are to rejoice before The Eternal One seven days”

- Leviticus 23:40

We have obtained two sets of Sukkot harvest bouquets from Israel, which as of October 02 will be at your disposal throughout the holiday (including instructions for making the most of the moment!). Call Tina or Marion in the JCMI Office to make arrangements to come by and honor the season.

Hard on the Heels of October...

“Fall Back” at bedtime on Hallowe’en, as Daylight Savings Time comes to an end on the first Sunday in November... which, this year, is November first!

Election Day is Tuesday, November 03. Regardless of which candidate or party you endorse, demonstrate pride in your citizenship by exercising it at the polls.

♪ NOTES FROM OUR CANTORIAL SOLOIST ♪

It is hard to believe we have begun the year 5781 already! But we have. L'Shanah Tovah.

Thanks to the wisdom of the board and the generosity of Bea Margolis (financially) and Mitch Braun (planning and laboring), we were able to usher in the New Year as virtually perfectly as possible. For that we are tremendously fortunate. With further tremendous great fortune, hopefully, we will be able to have the choice of experiencing and participating in our services and studies either virtually or in person. Amen.

During our High Holy Day services we confess – we list – our collective sins. This is a very valuable experience. Now, I suggest, it's time to list our collective good choices. As we recited “Ashamnu” on both Rosh haShanah and Yom Kippur, we took the responsibility for all poor choices made by all people. We acknowledge betrayal, stealing, cruelty, slander, hostility, stubbornness, and going astray – just to name a few. When we look at ourselves, along with all mankind, we clearly beg the need for confession.

Equally importantly, though, we are charged with tikkun olam (repairing the world). That demands our good works. And, I think we have many good work to recognize.

Particularly since we can't be out and about freely these days, it's a perfect opportunity to take stock of all the good choices collectively we all have and we all have made. Whether directly or indirectly each of us benefits from collective good choices – especially if we humbly focus on their impact. How better to continue that impetus? Let me help start the list. We have been supportive of those in need. We have outright given to those in need. We have offered kindness (as the rabbi encouraged on Erev Rosh haShanah). We have stood up for the truth when it was neither easy nor popular. And those are just a start.

May we take the effort to acknowledge our poor choices; may we take the effort to acknowledge our rich choices.

May the year 5781 bring out the best in each of us and for each of us.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

THE 82nd ANNIVERSARY OF KRISTALLNACHT

On November 9th, 2020, we will commemorate the 82nd anniversary of Kristallnacht. This day in history is well known for the massive arrests of Jewish males throughout Germany and the destruction of Jewish owned businesses with an emphasis on the smashing of glass windows.

Some of the males that were jailed, were later released. Many were not so fortunate and were sent to concentration camps. Any insurance monies received for the destruction had to be turned over to the German Government.

I have heard a first-hand account of the happenings. You see, my husband, then only a young boy, and his parents were still in Berlin. Harold was home with his parents when the call came: "Hide! They are coming for the males." Where were they to hide in an apartment with a high German official as the next door neighbor? Harold's mother was a smart woman and came up with a quick idea she hoped would keep them safe. She told Harold to get on his bicycle and spend the day riding around. Then she told his father to get to the subways and ride them all day. Because of her quick thinking, both survived the day.

While riding around the city that day, Harold cycled towards a fire in the distance. He arrived at his Synagogue, where he had been bar-mitzvah, in time to watch the burning of the prayer books. A scene he never forgot.

How important it is that we never forget this event from our history. It is our history from which we learn how to move forward to the future.

“Getting to Know You” In New Ways

Just now, when we are unable to be together in our synagogue, might be the perfect time to connect with each other in new ways. We invite the wide array of interesting people, among the members of our JCMI family, to let us get to know you better by learning from your unique area of expertise; hearing the amazing stories you have to tell; and being dazzled by some of your interesting life experiences.

We offer, to start things off, a fascinating video interview and biography about our member Richard Plager. Certainly Richard and Grace are familiar to our JCMI family, by virtue of being regular participants in Friday night worship, usually with their son Eric (and sometimes with their other son, Michael, when he is able to visit from Tallahassee). But few of our members know the story about Richard’s professional career and diverse experiences in law enforcement, in both Florida and Israel. He was kind enough to share with us— and to invite you to view— this documentary produced by The Jewish Historical Society of Southwest Florida.

We invite Temple members to share with the Temple Office similar personal media you would like to share, including brief articles and anecdotes (up to 200 words), for possible inclusion in what we hope will be a regular Newsletter feature. Submit your content— with a note of your name and contact information and a one-line bio— to office@marcojcmi.com. If your particular offering happens to be time-intensive (say, tax advice for the April edition of our Newsletter, or a Jewish New Year memory for September), remember to send your submission before the 20th day of the previous month.

You can find Richard’s interview at www.youtube.com, type “Chief Plager” in the search box at the top.

Beginning October 9th, Friday evening services will be held using the Live Stream link found on our JCMI website – instructions are available upon request but are also found in the Wednesday email. Torah study will continue via Zoom – instructions are available upon request but also found in the Wednesday email.

Toniann and Keith Alter permanently moved to Marco Island this past June. Keith is the son of our member Aren Alter and has been visiting for over 20 years, Toniann, over ten.

Toniann is a teacher at the Palmetto Elementary School in Naples and Keith runs a National Healthcare Staffing agency. They have eight children between them and four grandchildren. They met and dated in High School and reunited, after thirty years, ten years ago, and married six years ago.

You may already recognize Keith; he was kind enough to help us deliver High Holy Day prayer books to some of our local members.

A very big welcome to the JCMI family, Toniann and Keith!

Yahrtseit Notices

Our policy at JCMI is to offer members the choice of recording Yahrtseit dates in accordance with the English or Hebrew calendars.

If members choose to remember loved ones on their Yahrtseit using the English date of death, the Yahrtseit will be observed each year on the Friday Evening of the week in which that English date occurs.

If the Hebrew date is chosen, the Hebrew date falls on a different English date each year. The Yahrtseit will be observed each year on the Friday evening of the week when that Hebrew date occurs.

Please inform the office as to which date you observe the Yahrtseit of your loved one so that it can be properly recorded in our records. I hope this clarified and eliminates confusion about our policy.

Flowers on the Bimah

Now that we are live streaming, we have a lovely view of the Bimah. With Friday worship services being live streamed beginning October 9th, we can once again take sponsors for flowers on the Bimah. So, nice to get back to some measure of normality. If you would like to sponsor an arrangement, they are still only $50 per arrangement. Call the office and let us know when and for what occasion – we look forward to making our Bimah beautiful again!

The Office is open Mon. through Fri. - 9 am to 1 pm

Event Information can be found in the monthly Messenger, the weekly Monday Email and online at the JCMI website: www.marcojcmi.com

Honor your loved ones with a Yahrtseit Plaque - $250 - Call the Office

Mark a special occasion with a Chai Leaf for the Tree of Life - $200, or a Walk of Honor Paver - $100 - Call the Office

Health & Caring - Notify the Office if you have information concerning our members. Hospital visits by the Rabbi and the Cantor can be arranged by calling the Office ~ Have a rose in a bud vase sent with your well wishes - $17.50.

Mitzvah Cards are available at the minimum cost of $5.00 each, though a larger donation is always appreciated - Call the Office

Bequest Form requires only the signature of a legal witness to be valid - forms available at the Office.
