Riding the Wave of (And Beyond) a Sacred Season

Sometimes an innocent enquiry can clarify our thinking and prompt a creative outpouring of brilliance.

Somewhere in the early 1940s, a cousin of the Archbishop of Canterbury asked Jerusalem novelist Sh'mu'el Yosef Agnon (innocently, and perhaps a trifle smugly) whether Jewish religious tradition has any counterpart to— and any season as poetic and gloriously uplifting as— the Christian sacred season culminating in Easter. The question prompted Agnon (already a distinguished novelist and subsequently a Nobel Laureate) to begin work on his 1948 non-fiction opus Days of Awe, subtitled A Treasury of Traditions, Legends, and Learned Commentaries Concerning Rosh haShanah, Yom Kippur, and the Days Between.

The Hebrew title rendered Days of Awe is הימים הנוראים haYamim haNora'im, which we today more usually translate as “The High Holy Days. But whether they are in fact “high”er than any other Jewish holidays (or, for that matter, “holy” in the first place) is largely up to us.

That same period between Rosh haShanah and Yom Kippur is summarized in our traditional sources as עשרת ימי תשובה “The Ten Days of Repentance.” But whether repentance is in fact taking place at this time of year is, again, pretty much a personal matter for each of us.

Nor are the parameters of this sacred season defined by these Ten Days alone: while Agnon references “the days in between,” the days before and after also matter. The month of Elul leading up to Rosh haShanah is an introspective Season of Repentance, dedicated to the daily recitation of S'lichot penitential prayers and to personal acts of תיקון tiqqun (self-improvement) and relationship-mending. But whether we make the most of that one-month lead-in as part of a forty-day season of New Year resolutions is, once more, up to us.

As I constantly emphasize, Jewish tradition carries forward the spirit of Fresh Beginnings, beyond those first forty days of the New Year, to encompass five days of sukkah-building; seven days of Sukkot; the jubilant climax of Sh'mini Atzeret; and the joyous denouement of Simchat Torah. All of that, together, sees us riding the wave of consecration and sanctity into the New Year, representing 52 days of focused sacred purpose. That is a full one-seventh of the solar year dedicated to spirituality and uplift and Higher Purpose.

So this month, as Elul turns into Tishrei and the New Year 5787, the innocent enquiry we must pose ourselves is: are we going to be engaging with the richness of the soul-poetry of our prayerbook and the substance of Jewish communal life, to clarify our thinking and make possible a creative and dynamic year enriched by our outpouring of brilliance, or are we just getting a seat in schule for two days, and showing up as passive observers to acquit a minimal Jewish obligation? I don't think that I need to emphasize: that's all up to us.

Rabbi Gross is available to JCMI members, in the course of his weekend visits on-Island, for personal meetings, counseling, or hospital visits – as well as accessible any time by telephone 954-798-6037 or e-mail RabbiMarkGross@gmail.com.

S'lichot on September 05

Join us in a farewell to the Last Shabbat Of The Year, and in a sweet welcome to the coming New Year 5787.

We convene for a sweet dessert program and conversation Saturday night at 8:30 p.m., followed by a meditative service and the changing of the Torah mantles to their holiday white. Come share your High Holy Days memories and hopes, as we hear the shofar for the last—and first—time.

Tashlich, Spiritual Event – Sept. 13

It is customary to go down to the water, on Rosh haShanah, in order to meditate on casting away the last vestiges of transgression to leave ourselves purified, and to leave our pockets empty for the blessings that we hope will be ours in the New Year.

The Cantor and Rabbi will be conducting our annual Tashlich ritual with us on the Second-Day morning of Rosh haShanah, at 11:00 a.m. on Sunday, September 13. Convene at JCMI for a brief walk together under the Autumn sky, as each of us ponders the kind of worthy year we all want for each other.

Annual New Year Cemetery Visit, Sept. 20

It is Jewish tradition to visit the resting place of our loved ones, during the Ten Days of Repentance, both to commune with their spirits at a time when their absence from our midst is particularly keenly felt, and to invoke their intervention on our behalf On High for a good New Year.

Come meet Cantor Jacobsen and Rabbi Gross at the Jewish section of the Marco Island Cemetery on Sunday, September 20, at 11:30 a.m., for personal meditations and shared worship as we fondly remember our departed neighbors resting there.

Three Yom Kippur Reminders

Don't be late on Sunday,
November 20!

The poignant Kol Nidrei prayer, highlight of that evening's service, is pretty much the first thing to happen.

We do not convene a separate afternoon
Memorial Service.

Following traditional practice, the “Yizkor” memorial prayer is recited on Yom Kippur morning as part of our Torah service.

Hold on to your copy of our “Book of Remembrance.”

They will be used throughout the worship year, through to next Spring, and can be used at home for lighting yahrtzeit candles.

Sukkah Decorating

The JCMI sukkah will be set up hard on the heels of Yom Kippur, ready to be decorated by our members as we prepare together to welcome the jubilant harvest feast of Booths.

Come join us on September 23 or 24th, 2026, as together we “deck with boughs” to rejoice in The Next Step of welcoming our newly arrived New Year.

Simchat Torah and So Much More, on October 02

October begins with a many-splendored occasion:

- ✧ Our First-Friday-of-the-month “Celebration Shabbat,” recognizing friends with birthdays and anniversaries;
- ✧ a full Festival worship service, marking the conclusion of Sukkot;
- ✧ a solemn recitation of the “Yizkor” memorial prayer, to mark the latter occasion;
- ✧ and a joyous observance of Simchat Torah, to kick off a new Torah-reading year.

Be on hand October 02, to be part of it all!

"Distance-Davvening for 5787"

The Jewish New Year is coming up early in September, this year. It's time to renew your JCMI membership, and to submit names for the Yom Kippur Book of Memory.

Note that, as always, we will be live-streaming Rosh haShanah and Yom Kippur worship with Rabbi Gross and Cantor Jacobsen, as a courtesy to those unable to join us in person. To help you participate in services from home, JCMI members have the privilege of borrowing copies of our High Holy Days prayerbook Mishkan haNefesh (the gold book for Rosh haShanah, and the big silver one for Yom Kippur). Be sure to make those arrangements with the Temple Office well in advance of the holiday.

L'Shanah Tovah!

If you'll forgive me (How could you not at this time of year?), I'm prefacing my point with a bit of calendar orientation between our Jewish and Gregorian calendars. As you probably know, the Jewish New Year that we are about to celebrate begins with the month of Tishrei, and Tishrei largely corresponds to our Gregorian month of September. And the month preceding Tishrei is Elul, which is the month showing up on our Jewish calendar right now.

With all that Tishrei extends to us, we often miss the extraordinary tradition that Elul holds for us. So, here's your loving reminder:

Almost. I should first mention that this Elul tradition could be practiced absolutely any time of year, it's generally associated mostly with Elul.

Have you ever offended anyone? Have you ever offended anyone and didn't even know you had? Join the club. Have you ever "missed the moment" to say, "I'm sorry"? No problem. Our sages saw to it that we are most generously covered. The custom? During the month of Elul, we are to sincerely approach (physically or remotely) each person with whom we have had contact (recently, many moons ago, or any time in between) and apologize for anything that we have done that was received in a hurtful manner. Obviously, if the situation appropriately calls for more than words, then we need to follow through correspondingly, as well.

Hopefully, that is rewarding for our recipient. However, unsurprisingly, it is monumentally rewarding for each of us, as well, who delivers the message(s). It even affords us with a far more unburdened New Year. As I already mentioned, it is an extraordinary tradition.

So, please let me take this opportunity to apologize to you for any offense I committed against you. I am very sorry.

And I hope that you are inscribed in the Book of Life for a good and sweet New Year.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The High Holidays mean something different to each of us. For some, they were the only days we attended services growing up. For others, they were a chance to gather with friends outside the Synagogue until we were called in. Today, they have become a time of reflection, atonement, cleansing, spiritual enrichment, and setting intentions for the year ahead. Having a higher power in our lives can guide us not only during these holidays, but throughout the entire year.

As I've grown older, faith has taken on deeper meaning. Looking back on the past year—our accomplishments and our shortcomings—can be daunting. Yet when we acknowledge our mistakes, atone for them, and commit to doing better, we learn and grow. I was once told that meditation is listening to God, while prayer is speaking to Him. The more I do both, the more peace I find.

Fasting becomes both a physical and spiritual cleansing. Atonement is admitting where we've gone wrong and vowing to change. Spiritual enrichment is listening to God daily, inside and outside the Synagogue. Resolutions are easy to make but difficult to keep; however, when we keep them, they can transform our lives.

So how do we continue being better people—and better Jews—after Yom Kippur? For me, it means staying connected to God, family, friends, and our community. Without these, we stand alone, and growth becomes harder. This is what I strive for in the coming year.

However you celebrate the High Holidays, try something new or deepen your practice. Reflection is powerful, but resolutions can create lasting change.

Join Us

Celebrate Rosh haShanah with us—service times are available on our website. We are a warm, welcoming congregation, and we would love to worship with you.

Join us on September 20th at La Tavola on Marco Island for a Pre-Kol Nidre Dinner filled with laughter and wonderful food.

On September 21st, after services conclude, stay for a light meal. Our Bubbies will bring homemade Lokshen (noodle) Kugel, and we'll serve Lox and Bagels, salads, and sweets. We would love to have you join our family.

Happy Rosh haShanah and Yom Kippur — and have an easy fast.

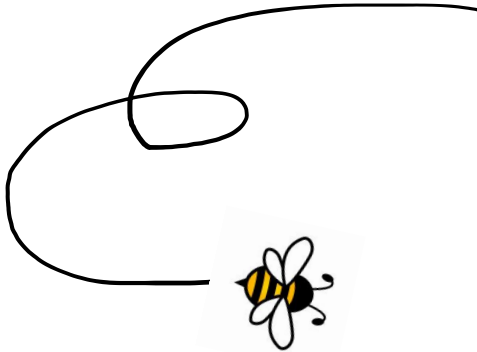

Keith D. Alter, President

To our JCMF Family,

Thank you for all the beautiful wishes for my Birthday!

Your Friend,
Sandra Hechler

To my dear JCMF Family and Friends,

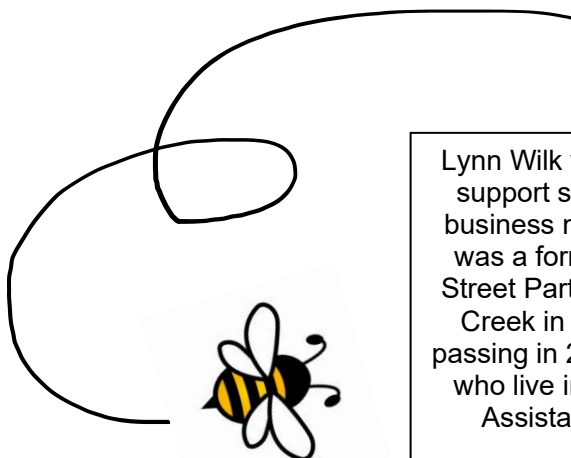

Thank you for all those who have made donations in Joan's memory and all the support you continue to give me. A special Thank You to all the volunteers who made sure both the Sanctuary and Raskin Hall were ready for her Funeral.

Lynn Wilk and her food committee volunteers did a fantastic job with the Shiva Luncheon.

I am truly blessed to have my JCMF Family and Friends.

Love, Bert

Meet your Board Member

Lynn Wilk was installed as a new board member in March and appreciates the support she has received to be given this honor. Lynn retired in April as the business manager of Goldberg and Goldberg, a trial law firm in Chicago. She was a former member of the Chicago Stock Exchange and associate of Carl Street Partners, a private equity firm also in Chicago. Lynn moved to Fiddler's Creek in March of 2025. Lynn was married to Michael for 45 years until his passing in 2020. Lynn has one adult son, Josh and his wife of two years Goldie who live in Wilmette, IL, where Lynn lived previously. In addition to being the Assistant treasurer, Lynn participates in the Friday morning Oneg group volunteers at Monday night Bingo.

Friday evening services can still be accessed using the Live Stream link found on our JCMI website – instructions are available upon request but are also found in the Wednesday email.

JEWISH CONGREGATION OF MARCO ISLAND

991 Winterberry Drive, Marco Island, FL 34145 ~ 239.642.0800

Rabbi Mark Gross ~ Cantorial Soloist Hari Jacobsen ~ President Keith D. Alter

May 4, 2026

Dear Fellow Congregants,

I wanted to reach out on behalf of JCMI's Board and all its members. Our dues structure, including the Above and Beyond Campaign, make up a very small portion of the annual operating costs of JCMI. This past season, we have successfully established and renewed events and fundraisers that are necessary to support and maintain JCMI's remaining annual cash flow and reduce the need to draw from our savings.

The Above and Beyond Campaign for this season was only average. We need to be able to add to our savings in addition to just covering annual operating costs. Your Board is anticipating and planning for several major expenses in the coming years, among which include new roof and HVAC systems. These two items alone could very well deplete our current savings. Due to our aging building these expenditures will increase as other items needing attention will continue to arise.

These large requirements need more avenues for support. Legacy gifting is a great way to support your Synagogue.

Whether you are an active volunteer at the synagogue or a continued benefactor, WE NEED YOUR HELP! What better way to secure your legacy and memory of our beloved Jewish community and home? Our home is not just a place for religious worship but a gathering place for all of us.

As we begin our 44th year as an organized house of Jewish worship, I ask that you consider a Legacy Giving plan to JCMI to ensure JCMI continues to be the center of Jewish life and worship on Marco Island for our current and future families to enjoy. Naming JCMI as a beneficiary in your will, trust, or annuity, as well as many other mechanisms can secure your legacy in support of JCMI. Having this conversation with your financial adviser would be the best way to implement your desires to fund JCMI. Legacy Giving is a great way to support your Synagogue; what great way to secure your legacy and memory for our beloved Jewish community and home!

Please reach out to me at kdalter13@gmail.com or 617.293.6515, should you have any questions or are interested in establishing a Legacy Giving donation.

Thank you for considering giving this gift.

Sincerely,

Keith D. Alter, President, JCMI

Dear Members and Friends of JCMi:

We are grateful for the response to our Above and Beyond Appeal so far. However, we are only halfway to our goal and seek your help

Response To-date

Goal

The $35,000 goal is to cover the cost of repairs of the aging building. Our Synagogue is precious. Please help us meet our needs.

We look forward to your support.

With gratitude.

Rabbi Gross's
Fourth-Sunday
Life-Long Learning Series for 5787 (2026-27)

Sunday, January 24 - New Blossoms on the Tree of Life:
An Introduction to the Responsa

We received the Torah 3500 years ago, and have been living by it ever since.

Come sample the Responsa literature— literally “Questions-and-Answers”— as a fabulous dialogue across the ages between each new generation of Jews, formulating authentically Jewish answers to timely circumstances and unprecedented situations

Sunday, February 28 - “And a Time to Laugh”:
The Deep Roots of Jewish Humor

Jewish Tradition is sacred, dedicated to the survival of our people in order to serve God— but laughter is a powerful tool in our survival kit.

Come experience the deeply rooted humor in our traditional texts, showing that the many Jewish funny men and women of our own time have built their acts on a solid foundation.

Sunday, March 28 - Hiding in Plain Sight:
Jewish Patriots in the Gospels

The narratives in the synoptic Gospels of the New Testament are an important record of the social and political realities that impacted our long-ago forebears living in our ancestral homeland under Roman occupation... and of the earnest (but rash) resolve of many Judeans to do something about it. A special program for this Easter Sunday.

All sessions convene in the Synagogue (991 Winterberry Drive), beginning with a coffee social at 9:30 and presentation at 10:00

There is no fee to attend our Life-Long Learning programs. Unaffiliated guests are always welcome to join us for these sessions, and are asked to make a $5 contribution to underwrite printing costs.
