He was born about 1802 in New Brunswick, Canada. He died on 20 Mar 1881 in Queensbury, York County, New Brunswick, Canada.

Notes for Mary Ann (Stairs) Dunham:

Mary Ann born 1813 was, according to the research of Dr. Scott Dunham, Professor of Philosophy at the University of New Brunswick, adopted by Eleanor who became her step mother.

Mary Ann named her first son James Dunham Ketch. There was a James Dunham who was a witness to the marriage of David Alston Dunham of Queensbury to Grace Vail in 1818. Mary Ann did not name any of her children John or Eleanor.

John Ketch and Mary Ann (Stairs) Dunham had the following children:

- i. JAMES DUNHAM<sup>17</sup> KETCH was born about 1833.

born on 01 Apr 1827 in Weasenham Al Saints, Norfolk, England. He died on 24 Nov 1907 in Ryckman's Corners, Barton Township, Wentworth County, Ontario, Canada.

Notes for Mary Ann DUNHAM:

I have worked, at times obsessively, since 1975 to try and resolve some of the inconsistencies in relation to the Dunham family of New Brunswick. In essence there were two Mary Ann Dunham, one born in 1813 who stayed in New Brunswick, and a second, born in 1815 (my ancestor) who accompanied the entire family of Lewis Dunham (all of his sons and daughters) from New Brunswick to Binbrook Township, Wentworth County, Ontario. There was circumstantial evidence that could lead to a conclusion that Mary Ann born 1815 was the biological daughter of John and Eleanor. Mary Ann named her eldest son by husband George Dawson, John, and her second daughter Eleanor (the three children by her first husband Thomas Hart of New Brunswick were all named after members of his family). Also Mary Ann must have accompanied the other Dunhams to Binbrook Township, and the only candidate for a direct paternal connection was John who died there in 1846.

The apparent parents of two Mary Anns led a very unusual life, punctuated by a separation, the husband John's permanent move to Ontario while his wife Eleanor remained in New Brunswick, and a child born out of wedlock to Eleanor in New Brunswick.

There was a baptismal record in Queensborough N.B. of 1818 for the children of John and Eleanor, which included a Mary Ann born 11 February, but it was impossible to say whether the year of birth was 1813 or 1815.

In 2015 I received a DNA autosomal match to a descendant of the Mary Ann who married John Ketch and remained in N.B. It was hard to know how to interpret this fact - other than the two Mary Anns were likely related in some way.

In 2016 I sent a digital copy of all my Dunham records to Dr. Scott Dunham of the University of New Brunswick. He is also descended from this line, but via an adopted son, Hezekiah, of James Dunham the son of the above John and Eleanor Dunham. He had already discovered court records in relation to an official separation of John and Eleanor, and an out of wedlock child born to the latter while John was in Ontario.

A few months later Scott wrote back and provided information that the Mary Ann who stayed in New Brunswick was a Stairs, a niece of Eleanor and apparently adopted by John and Eleanor. Therefore my Mary Ann Dunham accompanied her biological father John Dunham to Binbrook.

To cap off this saga, 3 days ago I was musing about how wonderful it would be to have a DNA match with a descendant of Jonathan Dunham of Binbrook (the only Dunham male to have descendants - most of whom can be traced to Dunnville). Last night (19 March 2017) by chance I wanted to see if there were any Walrath descendants who were among the new Ancestry.com matches, and went to my "blue dot" newest matches. On the entire page there were only two with trees attached to their account. In checking one I noticed a Dunham surname match. In checking it turns out that this person was a descendant of David Alston Dunham (born 1851 Binbrook) son of Jonathan Dunham. Very odd coincidence - but more evidence of a biological link to the Lewis Dunham lineage - the match being a descendant of Lewis Dunham's youngest son, David Alston Dunham Sr., the father of Jonathan Dunham. Then I decided to look and see if there were any other names, descendants of the Dunhams of Binbrook Township. The obvious name being HURD, since Charles Augustus HURD married Catherine, the daughter of Lewis and Catherine (SLEGHT) DUNHAM. There was indeed a DNA match to a Mary Ann HURD, who was the first cousin to my Mary Ann DUNHAM. Also found matches to descendants of John DUNHAM the brother of Lewis DUNHAM, and Thomas STAIRS the brother of Eleanor (STAIRS) DUNHAM. All were in the 5th to 6th cousin range based on the genealogy as seen in the Ancestry trees.

I has taken 4 years to solve this mystery, and finally I can visit the grave of Mary Ann (Dunham) Dawson at Barton Stone Church Cemetery in Hamilton, Ontario and not ask the same question over and over - "who were your mother and father?" A combination of the records and the DNA findings appear to have sealed the matter.

fauxdk The Anglican Registers of St. Georges, Hannon in Barton Township (immediately north of Binbrook Township along Rymal Road) show what Jonathan Dunham age 56 was buried in the church yard of Woodburn 17 February 1883 - "Killed by the railway". No death certificate for Jonathan has been found in the Ontario Vital Records. It is unknown why the tombstone for him should be found in the Dunnville Riverside Cemetery, although Caroline did die in Dunnville under the name of St. John (the surname of her second husband). The blue paint over the inscription has the year of Jonathan's death incorrect. I was in 1883 not 1873 (or 1878) - Jonathan was alive in the 1881 census.

Notes for Frances DAWSON:

John Young registered his child with Frances Dawson, but there is no evidence that the couple ever married. Frances is the sister of John Dawson who married Hannah Adelia Young, the niece of John Young. Frances married her second cousin William Edgar Dawson about 1871 and moved to Batavia New York in 1873. The first son noted in the census of 1880 and 1890 was George Dawson born 1870 and almost certainly the biological son of John Young. In the 1900 Census of Batavia he is listed as George J. Dawson and born Jan 1870 - precisely the name and birthday of George Joseph Young.

Mrs. Frances Dawson, wife of William E. Dawson of No. 5 Dawson's Place died of heart trouble about 7:30 o'clock this morning. Her husband arose early and went into the kitchen to prepare breakfast and afterwards took breakfast in to his wife, but when he spoke to her he received no answer. He went to the home of a neighbor for assistance and they found her dead. She suffered a stroke of paralysis on May 19, 1916, from which she never fully recovered.

Mrs. Dawson was born in Hamilton, Ont., in 1847, but had been a resident of this city for 46 years. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, William C. Dawson of Batavia and George J. Dawson of Buffalo; two daughters, Mrs. Mary A. Clase and Mrs. Ida M. Clase of Batavia; a sister, Mrs. Lanson Smith, of Hamilton, Ont.; three half-brothers, Jarvis Hart of Hamilton, Ont., George Hart of Caledonia, Ont., and Thomas Hart of Painesville, Ont.; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from Mrs. Dawson's late home at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon and the interment will be in, the Elmwood Cemetery.

Notes for John YOUNG:

John and his nephew, James William Young, were involved in "One of the foulest murders that ever disgraced the annals of Canada". The article in the Hamilton Evening Times goes on to say that, the pair, "according to the police of Hamilton are worthless vagabonds, and have no visible means of support". Elsewhere, "These Youngs bear a bad name, and have been for some time looked upon as very suspicious characters". Apparently it is not the first time the two were under suspicion of committing acts of robbery with violence. Thanks to his involvement in the Able murder, descriptions and pictures of him remain. For example, he was described as standing "5 feet 11 inches high, is 27 years old, light complexion, with a reddish moustache, and chin whiskers". John appears to have had a long time lifestyle involving criminal activity. Today he would probably be diagnosed with an Anti-Social Personality Disorder (formerly known as sociopath or psychopath). His anti-social ways caught up with him in 1876 when he, in the company of his nephew James William Young, callously planned and carried out a robbery and murder of one Abel McDonald just south of Caledonia. The subsequent events turned into a media circus. After his capture and imprisonment in the Cayuga Jail, he and his nephew successfully negotiated a daring escape (involving the vicious assault on the jailer by James William), and were on the lam for a number of months while an extensive manhunt failed to turn up any evidence of the pair. The authorities realized that it might be difficult to capture the pair, even if they were still in the vicinity since "they have a great many relations and friends who would naturally harbour them". Apparently their being on the loose terrified many local people, and even "The poor Indians are beginning to dread the highway after night". It was only after the alleged girlfriends of the pair, the Barber sisters, were followed to Binkley's Barn near the Ancaster Townline that they were detected. A "wild west style" shootout ensued, with the Youngs being re-captured. While his nephew had his death sentence commuted to life in prison, John was compelled to pay the ultimate price. All throughout this ordeal, he was the picture of serenity. To the last minute he was planning an exit (stealing the metal off a minister's Bible to use as a key), but was brought to the gallows. The event did not go "smoothly" due to mechanical faults, but ultimately John was executed by hanging. His family was refused the request to have his body returned to them, and so he was buried in the yard at the Cayuga Jail (MAM). In the various records relating to the murder John notes having a child, but not taking any active part in parenting the child.

John YOUNG and Frances DAWSON had the following child:

74. i. GEORGE JOSEPH YOUNG<sup>18</sup> (DAWSON) was born on 20 Jan 1870 in Barton Township, Wentworth County, Ontario. He died on 27 Dec 1942 in Buffalo, New York. He met (2) ELIZABETH.

Notes for William Edgar DAWSON:

Edgar Wm. Dawson (a Labourer) was enumerated in Caledonia, Haldimand County, Ontario - residing with the family of John Alexander. William E. Dawson (a Carpenter and Cooper), wife Frances, and their three eldest (surviving) children, George A., Mary A., and Ida M. were residing in Batavia, New York at the time of the 1880 census of the USA. The 1900 census records William (a Lime Maker) residing with his wife Frances and youngest child William in Batavia Village, New York. His immigration date was given as 1873. The record also indicated that by that date Frances had given birth to 6 children, of whom 4 were still alive. In 1910, the census of Batavia shows William and Frances residing together on Robertson Street, however the record shows (obviously incorrectly) that Frances had given birth to only two children, both of whom were alive. His immigration date is given as 1871, and by trade in that year he was a merchant. William, a widower, was still residing (alone) in Batavia at the time of the 1920 census. His immigration date (to the USA) was also given as 1871 in this record.

He was born on 18 Oct 1875 in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.

Notes for Ida May DAWSON:

Two days before the marriage of Ida, the front page of the 4 February 1901 edition of the Hamilton Spectator had an announcement that on Saturday night (the 2nd), there had been a lively dance for 25 couples at the home of J.W. Dawson. TN, in finding this item, commented in a letter to the author that the party was likely held to celebrate the marriage of Joseph William Dawson's sister. At the time of the 1901 census, Ida was residing with her husband John and her mother Hannah Dawson at 25 Little Peel Street in Hamilton. It is not known whether they had any children during their marriage. Ida was still "Mrs. John Harris" at the time of her father John Dawson's death in 1909. According to Ida's sister Ada (Dawson) Crowe during an interview with the author (her great great grand nephew) in 1976, Ida was a widow for a very long time then married one Tony Bennett and at some point moved to Buffalo New York. There the couple owned a hotel, but Tony became very sick and was bedridden for a long time. Then, one morning, Tony got up, left the house but left the key in the door so that Ida could get out, walked down to the Niagara River across the tracks at the bottom of Genesee Street, and slipped into the water and drowned. Apparently Ida was amazed that he could walk that far, and maintained that "somebody did away with him". Noted among the survivors of Clarissa Dawson Stowe in her obituary of 11 Jan. 1949 (HS) was "Mrs. Ida Bennett of Buffalo" indicating that Ida was still alive at this time. It appears that "Tony" Bennett was also known as "Harry", or that Aunt Ada had his first name wrong. There is no Ida Harris or Ida Bennett in the 1920 census of Upstate New York. In the 1930 census of Buffalo (District 349, p. 19, A.C) the last people enumerated in Block 2901 were Harry (a Marine Fireman) and Ida Bennett, residing alone at 266 West Genesee Street. Her age was given as 47 and his as 43, that Harry was 31 at the time of his marriage and Ida was 39 (meaning that they were married about 1920). Harry's date of immigration to the USA was recorded as 1907, and 1908 for Ida (both being Naturalized citizens). Harry was a veteran of WW1. There is no indication that Ida had children from either of her marriages.

Since I do not research collateral relatives, this is one I will leave for researchers who will
