Personally, I was not a fan of the fact that our homework was to essentially read the entire textbook. I feel that if we are going to be required to read the textbook then what is the point of coming to the lecture. I understand that the textbook can be a very good fallback if you do not understand something from the lecture but then I feel that it should not be required. It also often felt like the classes dragged on and time would be spent emphasizing the wrong areas of a lesson.
I actually think that this class was very helpful and therefore have no changes.
Please remove the use of packback from these courses. Argumentation and presentation can be an opportunity for real discussion, which could easily be had within the hours of this course. By relegating discussion to a platform where the merit is grade by AI is frankly an insulting waste of time.
No recommendations for changes
No changes at all, She was a great teacher and would be happy to be in one of her classes again.
Up to date Gradebook that shows the true grade.
I am not sure it seemed pretty helpful
None
I recommend posted assignments/Packbacks further ahead of the due date so students do not sometimes have only a few days to both write a question and respond to others.
None
None really.

What helped you learn in this course? Principles of Microeconomics

Comments
The tophat modules were very good at reinforcing my understanding of the course material. The lectures were thorough and did a good job of introducing concepts.
I enjoyed this class. The In Class Assignments were very helpful.
The tophats and the lectures did well to help me learn.
Our professor is particularly upbeat and cheerful. She seems filled with enthusiasm, and that makes a world of difference in the uptake of students. By simply maintaining a bright and cheery demeanor, it makes participation in the class much more enjoyable, and in my experience, promotes the uptake of information.
The lectures were very helpful in clearing up questions from tophat modules.
Her personality really helped learn in this course and the fact she helped me whenever I had difficulty in the course.
Quiz and assignment review.
The inclass assignments
Tophat Modules
The in–class lectures, and specifically the practice problems that were done on the blackboard, helped me learn the most in the course. The TopHats also helped me initially learn the information quite well, as I would do them ahead of class discussion on the topics.
The in–class assignments were a big help in understanding the course content.
Her feedback and extra help outside class time was very helpful in my understanding of the content a lot better.
