

BEYOND —BETRAYAL—

Recovering Trust and Restoring Resilience

A One-Day Workshop with James Furrow, PhD

JOIN US! IN PERSON

JUNE 28, 2025

9:00—4:00

6 CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDITS

HARTER HALL—ROOM 122

IN HELSTROM BUSINESS CENTER

NORTHWEST NAZARENE UNIVERSITY

623 S University Blvd , Nampa, ID

REGISTER NOW

WWW.FAMILIESETCNAMPA.COM

- LICENSED PROFESSIONALS: $150
- STUDENTS: $75

Northwest Nazarene University, and Families ETC as a learning lab of NNU, have been approved by NBCC as an Approved Continuing Education Provider, ACEP No. 4508. Programs that do not qualify for NBCC credit are clearly identified. Northwest Nazarene University, Counselor Education Department is solely responsible for all aspects of the programs.

Families E.T.C.
Education • Training • Counseling

REGISTER NOW

WWW.FAMILIESETCNAMPA.COM

SPONSORED BY:

Focus Areas:

- Explore the process of attachment injury repair through Emotionally Focused Therapy (EFT).
- Practice strategies for managing the dysregulation common in facing broken trust.
- Explore the process of attachment injury resolution through the EFT process of change.
- Identify EFT practices that support partners developing a coherent narrative for a betrayal event and working toward renewed trust.

James L. Furrow, Ph.D.

is an innovative leader in the development and practice of Emotionally Focused Therapy (EFT) with couples and families. His research, writing, and training, guide therapists toward the effective use of emotion to transform relationships and engage resilience for a flourishing life. His work is featured in leading professional journals and core EFT texts including: Emotionally Focused Family Therapy, The EFT Casebook, and Becoming an Emotionally Focused Therapist: The Workbook.

Licensed Marriage and Family
Therapist and Certified EFT
Supervisor and Trainer