

Although Her House Was Halfway
Around The Globe, One Little Girl Found
A Home For The Holidays.

When Onyi Kenine was an infant, she became ill during a vacation to the United States. Diagnosed with biliary atresia, she couldn't travel back to her home in Nigeria to get a needed liver transplant. So while her father returned home, her mother Edith and Onyi stayed at the Ronald McDonald House® in Wilmington, Delaware. During the holidays, they found the comfort and hope that helped them get through a difficult time. This holiday season, Ronald McDonald House Charities® has made it easy to help children like Onyi. Just give a donation in the canister at participating McDonald's® restaurants or go on-line at www.rmhc.org. You can make it a happy holiday for children all around the world.
