CHANGING OF THE GUARD

This will be the last newsletter written by me. Barbara R. Pietrzak has consented to become our new club editor. Barbara once held a similar post as editor for the Central Florida Coin Club of Orlando about 10 years ago. I'll continue to add articles to the newsletter in the event that Barbara needs them for a filler. Everyone else is encouraged to contribute any news-worthy information that an editor can use. Congratulations, Barbara.

TID-BIT

Sometime back, I came across an article for those who are interested in shipwrecks. "An Examination of the Legal Issues Concerning Historic Shipwrecks" is an analysis report that is available by writing to your congressman.

SENATE BILLS

The Archaeological Resources Protection Act (S.1578) and the Abandoned Shipwreck Act (S.1579) are currently being opposed by the FMDAC. To obtain copies of these proposed bill, write to: Senate Document Room, B-04, Hart Senate Office Building, Washington, DC 20510.

TH'ers: BEWARE

It has been brought to our attention that the city of Sanford parks and the Orange county park called Rock Springs/Kelley Park has outlawed metal detectors within the grounds. This tells us that some coin shooters not taught in coin removal probably left holes thus ending TH'ing in these parks. The FMDAC will be contacted to determine if these decisions can be reversed. As a club member, it is our duty to tell sloppy hunters to clean up their act as we make contact with them or our hobby will be doomed.

RAFFLE - RAFFLE

Our club is holding a raffle to help build our treasury and to help fund the National Hunt that is planned for November 10th. First prize: $10 gold coin; 2nd: $5.00 gold coin; 3rd: 10 oz silver bar; 4th: $50. saving bond; 5th: Dinner for 2, $25. value. We have a 1000 tickets to sell and we hope all members will help sell them. See Ray or Lonna Leist for tickets.

BIG BUCKS FOR SITES

Ray Leist made contact with two campgrounds and the rental for both sites ranged from $1800 to $2000 for a weekend. If at least, eighty members signed up for just such a hunt then the cost would be $25.00 per member. The suggestion was put in that outside clubs be admitted but that met with disapproval from some members. Twenty-five dollars seems alot but remember that includes at least five meals and a room for overnight use. That's a pretty fair deal and a chance to recover some of the cost by hunting the grounds.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Our guest speakers: Harry Rainey who spoke about dredging and the hookah diving rig; George Livingston spoke about competition hunting and the best methods to use.

FALL HUNT SITE

Last week, I drove out to the site and found the field deserted and well plowed. The trespassing signs are gone and it looks real promising. But as it was near dark, I found the 'skitters, big and hungry so I retired to my truck. More details will be provided as the big day draws near.
