

Welcome to Manes and Miracles!

Manes and Miracles is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to improving the lives of those in Arizona's East Valley who have physical, mental, and emotional disabilities by providing a first-rate therapy facility with unique, effective, and highly motivating tools such as equines, ranch animals, and indoor and outdoor play areas. We aim to affordably enhance the lives of those we serve through the connections they share with our specially trained horses, committed therapist partners, and caring volunteers.

We are passionate about creating positive relationships through volunteer opportunities, fundraising events, community outreach, and meaningful collaborations with other physical and mental health service providers. This generous support network makes it possible for Manes and Miracles to provide scholarships, develop additional programs, and continually improve our clients' experiences. We honor the support of our community by using our resources prudently and transparently.

Benefits of Activities and Therapies with Equines

Participating in services with equines offers a myriad of benefits. Physically, the rhythmic movement of horseback riding mimics the human gait, engaging nearly every system of the body, improving balance, coordination, muscle strength, fine and gross motor skills, core engagement, and more. While participating in mounted activity that feels more like play than the effective work taking place, participants report experiencing improved focus, confidence, coping skills, communication, compassion, and trust. The bond formed between the participant and the horse can be a powerful motivator, helping the participant accomplish goals faster, as well as alleviate anxiety, reduce stress, and improve mood. Horses are intuitive creatures, often mirroring the emotions of those around them, which can help individuals become more aware of their feelings and develop better emotional regulation.

We are honored to work with special needs families throughout the East Valley who see the value of horses as a part of the healing journey for their loved ones and are ready to work together to build the success of the Manes and Miracles programs. Together, we'll go far!

Programs Offered

Equine-Assisted Physical Therapy (EAT)

Sometimes called 'hippotherapy', equine-assisted physical therapy at Manes and Miracles is the evidence-based practice of partnering with horses to incorporate the unique movement of equines as a part of a physical therapy program.

Adaptive Riding (AR)

Sometimes referred to as Therapeutic Riding, Adaptive Riding is a recreational horsemanship program with tailored riding exercises and activities aimed at improving riding and ground-based skills in accordance with the abilities of the rider.

Equine-Assisted Activities (EAA)

Equine-assisted activities is a ground-based learning program designed to promote overall well-being and personal growth through unmounted interaction with horses and other animals in a group setting.

Camps

Camps at Manes and Miracles are single or short-term, multi-day programs that utilize the ranch environment and animals to teach various skills to children with all abilities, focusing on accessibility and inclusivity.

Policies and Procedures

Application for Services with Equines at Manes and Miracles

Before being added to any program at Manes and Miracles, the application packet must be completed and submitted for each potential participant. A completed packet must include these Policies and Procedures, completely read through and filled out, the Health Care Provider Statement, and, if applicable, a scholarship application. The application packet must be resubmitted annually. The Health Care Provider Statement must be submitted every other year or after a significant medical event or change (i.e. Surgery, new diagnosis, etc)

A spot is not considered reserved until all the intake paperwork has been completed and submitted.

Equine Use Warnings

The American Hippotherapy Association provides the following warning for participation in equine-related activities:

The primary concern is to provide a safe, productive treatment session for all patients. As with any treatment, there is the need to do no harm. Recognizing that horse-related activities do hold inherent risks, we need to assess patient participation with a risk/benefit analysis. The essential question for all patients is, "Will the benefit of equine movement outweigh the risk?" This question must be answered by consensus with the entire therapy team: patient, parent or guardian, therapist(s), horse expert, and physician. There may be others included, depending on the individual situation. All individuals must be comfortable with the decision to participate by being familiar with all pertinent information and risks.

There are numerous obvious and non-obvious inherent risks present in activity with horses, despite all safety precautions. According to NEISS (National Electronic Injury Surveillance Systems of U.S. Consumer Products), horse activities rank approximately 64th among the activities of people relative to injuries that result in a stay at U.S. hospitals. Related injuries can be severe and may even lead to death. Horses are large prey animals with a strong flight instinct. NO HORSE IS A COMPLETELY SAFE HORSE.

Horseback riding is the only sport where one much smaller, weaker predator animal - the human - tries to control and become one unit of movement with another much larger, stronger prey animal - the horse - with each having a limited understanding of the other. Horses in an EAT program are surrounded by up to four predators (the participant, therapists, side walker, and lead walker) and asked to remain calm during activity that is unique to EAT such as constant movement and weight shifting from 'wiggly' or unbalanced riders, toys and equipment, frequent stopping and standing, etc. Horses are selected for the Manes and Miracles programs with a high priority on calm temperaments and the ability to be desensitized. They participate in a rigorous onboarding, desensitizing, and integration plan, with continued schooling, all of which contribute to a lower likelihood of a negative reaction.

Despite all efforts, if a horse is frightened or provoked, it may divert from its training and act according to its natural survival instincts which may include but are not limited to stopping short, changing directions or speed at will, shifting, bucking, rearing, biting, kicking, or running from perceived danger.

If a rider falls from a horse to the ground it will generally be at a distance of from 3 1/2 to 5 1/2 feet and the impact may result in injury or death to the rider. Such a fall may cause greater impairment than originally experienced by the participant. This possibility should be given careful consideration before making the informed decision that participation in equine activity is or is not appropriate for the potential participant.

Mounted activities are not appropriate for everyone.

Precautions & Contraindications

Participants with a history of intentional violence to animals, of intentionally starting fires, or other chronic behavior that is deemed dangerous or harmful to the animals, guests, volunteers, staff, partners, facility, or equipment at the Ranch are not permitted to participate in an activity at the Ranch. Per AHA Statement of Best Practices the following are also ABSOLUTE Contraindications for Equine Movement:

- Active, unsafe mental health disorders
- Acute herniated disc with or without nerve root compression
- Chiari II malformation with neurologic symptoms
- Atlantoaxial instability (AAI) – a displacement of the C1 vertebra in relation to the C2 vertebra as seen on an x-ray or computed tomography of a significant amount (generally agreed to be greater than 4 mm for a child) with or without neurologic signs as assessed by a qualified physician; this condition is seen with diagnoses which have ligamentous laxity such as Down syndrome or juvenile rheumatoid arthritis
- Unstable spine or joints including unstable internal hardware, severe osteoporosis, or spinal deformities.
- Grand mal seizures, uncontrolled by medications
- Coxa arthrosis – degeneration of the hip joint; the femoral head is flattened and functions like a hinge joint versus a ball and socket joint.
- Hemophilia with a recent history of bleeding episodes
- Indwelling urethral catheters
- Medical conditions during acute exacerbations (rheumatoid arthritis, herniated nucleus pulposus, multiple sclerosis, diabetes, etc.)
- Open wounds over a weight-bearing surface
- Pathologic fractures without successful treatment of the underlying pathology (e.g. severe osteoporosis, osteogenesis imperfecta, bone tumor, etc.)
- Tethered cord with symptoms

Additional ineligibility terms:

1. Participant does NOT WANT to participate in equine-related activities or has phobias to animals.
2. The movement of the horse will cause a decrease in the participant's function, an increase in pain, or generally aggravate the medical condition of the participant.
3. Severe allergies to horses, hay, or other elements likely to be encountered in a barn environment.
4. Recent surgeries or open wounds.
5. Certain cardiac conditions.

Weight limits:

- Balanced participants in EAT must weigh less than their therapist's maximum weight limit or 100 lbs, whichever is the least.
- Balanced participants in unassisted, mounted programs must weigh 150 lbs or less.
- Unbalanced participants in a program using a bareback pad must be 50 lbs or less to minimize discomfort to the horse. Unbalanced riders using a hard saddle must be 60 lbs or less. This includes riders who are unable to support themselves unassisted in a properly seated position for a minimum of 30 minutes.
- EVERY mounted participant will perform an on-site weigh-in administered by a staff member at the beginning of each season. Participants within 10 lbs of the weight limit will weigh in at the beginning of each term to determine ongoing eligibility.
- There is no weight limit for ground-based program participants.

Initial: _____

These lists are intended to be a guide and are not exhaustive of every circumstance that may warrant limiting participation in equine activity. You must consult with the participant's primary or specialty healthcare provider to determine if participating in equine activity is safe and appropriate for their circumstances and complete the Health Care Provider Statement indicating the participant is deemed able to undertake all reasonable participant activities. A change in the physical or medical status of the participant may make activity with horses at Manes and Miracles unsuitable for their safety.

Safety Rules

Attire

All mounted activity participants MUST wear an ASTM-SEI approved, equestrian-rated safety helmet. Helmets are provided by Manes and Miracles, however, participants are encouraged to provide their own equine-rated helmets to ensure proper fit and personal comfort. Personal helmets are generally an ESA-approved expense!*

- Close-toed shoes are mandatory. Hard-soled boots or shoes with a heel are recommended but athletic shoes are permitted. Crocs and other sling-back shoes are not permitted.

Please dress in comfortable clothing appropriate for the weather and for active movement. Long pants are preferred to prevent chafing and create a barrier between the child and volunteer/therapist contact points. Pants of 'slippery' material such as nylon and polyester, should be avoided. Mid-thigh shorts are acceptable and must be worn under skirts. Loose-fitting clothing can get caught or tangled and so should be avoided. No dangling jewelry. Long hair should be pulled back and away from the face. Spaghetti strap, cropped, or low cut shirts and shirts or pants with excessive rips or holes are not permitted. Participants who are not properly attired may not participate and may be subject to 'no-show' terms.

Initial: _____

Additional Safety Rules

- CHILDREN MUST BE WITH A SUPERVISING ADULT AT ALL TIMES.
- Participants who are minors are required to have a parent or caregiver with transportation to remain onsite during a lesson/session.
- Guests and spectators must remain in the designated viewing areas. The barn and other posted 'off-limit' areas are not open to parents, caregivers, or visitors without staff permission.
- Participants assume responsibility for their guests. Guests must adhere to all policies.
- NO running, pushing, yelling, or climbing on rails, fences, or gates. No loud music.
- The indoor therapy gym is for clients ONLY. Visiting guests are not permitted on the equipment.
- Pictures must not be taken of other participants. Some participants may not have photo releases.
- No pets are allowed on the premises. Only individually trained or in-training service dogs and miniature horses qualify as service animals. Service animals must always be leashed, controlled by, and accompanied by their owner. See A.R.S 11-1024 for additional information.
- No weapons are allowed at the Ranch.
- NO SMOKING. The Ranch is a no-drug, no alcohol, no tobacco facility. This includes vaping, e-cigarettes, chewing, and other tobacco delivery methods.
- No mistreatment, abuse, harassment, bullying, or other behavior that creates an uncomfortable situation for our guests or animals will be tolerated.
- The Ranch speed limit is 5 MPH. Please only park in designated parking areas.
- Participants MUST notify Manes and Miracles of significant medical events or changes such as significant injury, concussion, surgery, broken bone, or change in diagnosis.

Participants or parents/guardians who demonstrate behavior that violates policy or is deemed disrespectful, hostile, disruptive, or unsafe, may be immediately dismissed from the program without reimbursement or option for returning.

Scheduling and Attendance

Manes and Miracles operates on five 'terms'. EAT, EAA, and AR are offered during the Fall Term (Mid-October- December), Winter Term (January to mid-March), and Spring Term (mid-March to mid-May). Summer camps occur during the Summer Term(June 1- late July). Limited EAL and AR classes are held during the Late Summer Term (late July- end of September).

Scheduling is on a first-come, first-served basis, though we do not guarantee that participants will have the exact day and time as they had in the past. Scheduling will be discussed with the instructor/therapist during the new participant's intake assessment and again after an extended break (1 month or more). Participants will typically keep the same schedule through multiple terms. The following policies are designed to maximize the benefits of partnering with horses through consistency and reliability and to respect the immense amount of time and resources committed by the staff, therapists, volunteers, and horses behind the scenes to provide these services:

Cancellations: We understand that illness and emergencies occur, however, participants should do all they can to avoid cancellations within their control. Should cancellations be necessary, participants should notify their instructor/therapist with as much warning as possible.

Punctuality: Participants are encouraged to arrive 10 minutes before their assigned session/lesson to be settled in, hydrated, use the restroom, prepared with a helmet on, and ready to begin their activity. If clients are 15 minutes late or later, they will be considered a 'no-show' and the horses will be put away and the volunteers redirected.

No Show's: Participants who cancel within 1 hour of their session will be considered a "no-show" and will be subject to a $15 fee. Clients with 2 no-shows in a term, or 3 no-shows in two terms may be dismissed from participation in services. Many potential participants are waiting for the opportunity to participate in services at Manes and Miracles. This behavior, and any other that shows a disregard for the time, effort, and commitment required to accommodate each session, may be cause for dismissal.

Excessive Cancellation Policy: Clients may be dismissed from services with Manes and Miracles if they have more than 3 cancellations a term or 5 cancellations over two consecutive terms. Due to our low tuition fees, high program activity, extensive waitlist, and the need to efficiently manage our volunteer and staff time, we do not offer refunds, make-ups, or carry balances as a result of client cancellations.

Weather Cancellations: As an outdoor facility with no control over the elements, cancellations due to weather or the effects thereof will occur from time to time. Weather cancellations will be based on the AHA Statements of Best Practice comfort index policy and the forecast on the WeatherBug App. Cancellation decisions do not come lightly and are not subject to negotiation once they have been issued. To maintain affordability and sustainability, Manes and Miracles may cancel up to two classes/ sessions per client per semester longer than six weeks due to uncontrollable circumstances such as weather, staff illness, or horse unavailability, without providing make-up sessions. Should cancellations in one term exceed this, clients may be offered a make-up session or a credit for future terms. This policy helps manage costs and prevents overextending our limited resources, ensuring we can keep our tuition rates low. Use of the indoor gym is available and encouraged when weather cancellations occur.

Initial: _____

Tuition and Fees

As a nonprofit organization, our dedicated Board of Directors, staff, and volunteers strive to keep program expenses as low as possible, which in turn keeps fees affordable to all. Even so, the actual cost to Manes and Miracles per client is over $1,750 per term! Thanks to the Scholarship Fund, funded by generous donors, successful fundraising efforts, and community grants, our fees for services are a mere fraction of the actual cost as follows:

$225 per term ($25/session) for EAT | $405 per term ($45/session) for AR | $315 per term ($35 /session) for EAA

Manes and Miracles is an ESA-approved vendor, however, we do not accept any insurance plans.

Equine-Assisted Therapies: Therapists are contracted with outside agencies, as such, the fees for their professional services are processed through their agencies and are typically covered by insurance. Insurance views the use of horses similar to the use of a treadmill, an optional piece of equipment, not a stand-alone therapy, and so does not generally cover the additional cost of partnering with horses. The Facility Use Fee secures the participant's spot at the Ranch for the term giving them access to the optional, but highly beneficial use of the horses, equipment, facility, volunteers, and other resources provided by Manes and Miracles.

Rates and Payment Options

There are no 'per lesson' rates, fees are charged at a flat tuition rate for each term. Rates will be prorated for clients starting after the first of the term. Please check one of the following options:

- ☐ Full payment, due before the first week of the semester (required by ESA participants)
- ☐ 3 monthly payments, due one week before the first session of each month

(Optional) I would like to have my credit card automatically charged at the terms requested above.

Address: ☐ Same as participant or Street: _____ City: _____ Zip Code: _____

Card Number: _____ Expiration Date: ____/____ CVC: _____

Name on Card: _____ Signature: _____

Overdue Invoices

Payment is due BEFORE services are provided. Nonpayment of fees will result in suspension from the program until payments are up to date. Sessions that are canceled due to non-payment will be considered a 'no-show'. ESA-funded clients may submit proof of submission and the subsequent status of submitted invoices prior to the start of each session for invoices not yet received. Failure to provide evidence that invoices are actively submitted may result in suspension from the program until received.

Initial: _____

Additional scholarships are available on a limited basis for those who qualify and must be requested annually through submission of the Scholarship Application and supplementary documentation.

ESA clients are not eligible for additional scholarships.
