

Letters to the Editor

War, law and a hazy future

THE television coverage of the war in the Gulf included film footage of a pilot who compared his bombing mission to an American football game. Television news editors should not allow such comparisons to be broadcast since it conveys the destruction of Iraq and Kuwait as sporting entertainment.

Innocent victims of the bombing do not deserve this kind of imagery. They should be treated with more respect for their courage and suffering.

Paresh Motla.

Oxford.