A unique opportunity has presented itself for conservative political groups and organizations in California to come together and unite as never before.

A new coalition has been formed as a non-competing leadership group (Association) in California called: the Republican Conservative Coalition. The goal of this coalition is to help UNITE and EQUIP Conservative groups and organizations who represent Christian/Judeo values. This coalition is made up of leaders and representatives from conservative organizations throughout California. As a recent member I am more than impressed by the professionalism and ability of this coalition. I am proud that Liberty Coalition is associated with the effort to unite California as an effective and cohesive political force.

We are all in the final stages of getting ready for the election facing us in November. If you represent a conservative organization in California I am asking you to attend this summit in San Jose on September 25 and join forces with us to win elections. Let me know if you are interested:
