SCHOOLS OF THE SOLDIER AND COMPANY

FACINGS & FLANKING
DOUBLING AND UNDOUBLING ILLUSTRATED

STEVE GIOVANNINI
25 MAY 2026

Illustration Conventions

- The following illustrations depict the Company marching by itself, therefore:
 - When marching in the direction of the Company Front or Company Rear, the Captain marches two paces in front of the center of the Company.
 - When marching in the direction of the Company Right Flank, the Captain marches beside the Company Right Guide, the 1st SGT.
 - When marching in the direction of the Company Left Flank, the Captain marches beside the Company Left Guide, the 2nd SGT.
 - The 2nd SGT takes his position as the Company Left Guide
- If the Company was to be marching in Line of Battle,
 - the Captain would assume his position in the Battalion Line
 - The 2nd SGT of the leftmost Company marches as a Battalion Left-Guide
 - All other 2nd SGTs march in their position as a Closer

Illustration Conventions

The illustrations in this lesson use different colored icons to visually distinguish between the #1 and #2 soldiers.

Company Anatomy - Important Distinctions

- Positions that are Defined when the Company is Formed
 - Company Right Guide & the Company Right Flank
 - The 1st Sgt & the side of the Company that he lines up on.
 - Company Left Guide & the Company Left Flank
 - The 2nd Sgt & the side of the Company that he lines up on.
 - Company Front Rank – always the “Front Rank”
 - The rank that was in the front when the Company was faced to the Company Front.
 - Company Rear Rank – always the “Rear Rank”
 - The rank that was in the rear when the Company was faced to the Company Front.
- Positions that are Relative to the Direction currently faced
 - “Men in the Front”
 - Refers to the Company Front Rank if the Company is faced to the Company Front
 - Refers to the Company Rear Rank if the Company is faced to the Company Rear
 - “Men in the Rear”
 - Refers to the Company Rear Rank if the Company is faced to the Company Front
 - Refers to the Company Front Rank if the Company is faced to the Company Rear
- Positions that are Relative to the Direction about to be faced
 - “Men in the Rear” of a rank that has doubled
 - This depends on how the Company was faced before marching by the flank; and which flank it was faced to; and whether the change of direction is to the Company Front or to the Company Rear.
 - It could refer to the men that doubled or to the men that did not double.
