

CAPABILITIES STATEMENT

Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business (SDVOSB + VOSB) • Non-Patient Medical Courier

COMPANY OVERVIEW

Vet Jet LLC is a Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business providing secure, compliant non-patient medical courier services throughout the Tampa Bay / VISN 8 region.

Founded and owner-operated by a Service-Disabled Veteran and former Naval Aviator. As a Naval Aviator, the principal's experience with military aviation logistics demanded precision, accountability, and mission execution under conditions where error was not an option — the same standards Vet Jet applies to the timely, chain-of-custody transport of lab specimens, pharmaceuticals, medical supplies, medical records, and reusable medical equipment (DME).

Operating from St. Petersburg, Florida, with direct proximity to Bay Pines VA Healthcare System (~11 miles / 26 minutes), Vet Jet delivers precision, reliability, and veteran-honed discipline to healthcare providers and government clients. Active in SAM.gov and Florida's MyFloridaMarketPlace (MFMP), positioned for both federal and state procurement opportunities.

CORE COMPETENCIES

- Temperature-controlled transport of lab specimens, pharmaceuticals, medical supplies, medical records, and reusable DME using dedicated hard-sided coolers with NIST-traceable temperature data loggers
- Validated cold chain performance — passive cooler configurations tested and documented under worst-case Florida ambient conditions, with declared conservative working windows per configuration
- HIPAA-compliant chain-of-custody with app-based tracking and paper backup documentation
- UN3373 / Packing Instruction 650 compliant packaging for Biological Substance, Category B shipments
- Direct service to VA facilities (Bay Pines, James A. Haley Tampa VA), labs, pharmacies, and healthcare providers across Pinellas, Hillsborough, and surrounding counties
- Owner-operated model ensuring personal accountability, rapid response, and strict protocol adherence
- Full compliance with federal, state, VA, and biosafety transportation regulations
- Primary NAICS 492110 — Couriers and Express Delivery Services

DIFFERENTIATORS

- SDVOSB / VOSB certification (SBA approved June 22, 2026) — eligible for VA set-asides and sole-source opportunities up to $5 million
- Local St. Petersburg base (~11 miles / 26 minutes to Bay Pines VA) for fast, reliable response in the VISN 8 market — a genuine local operator, not a remote contractor servicing the region from out of state
- Naval Aviator — Heavy Combat Support Helicopter operations; aviation logistics background delivering superior chain-of-custody discipline, punctuality, and mission-critical reliability
- Extensive operational logistics experience supporting combat and humanitarian missions
- Expert in time-critical, high-reliability transport under demanding conditions
- Proven leadership in aviation logistics, supply chain coordination, and mission-critical delivery
- Total commitment to safety, precision, and chain-of-custody standards
- Fully equipped for compliant operations: hard-sided specimen coolers, dual-range phase-change refrigerant, temperature data loggers, UN3373 labeling, biohazard spill kit, PPE, and pharmacy totes
- Owner-operated Tesla Model Y for efficient, low-emission, high-reliability transport, with a scalable path to dedicated W2 driver support while maintaining full SDVOSB compliance and self-performance requirements
- Focused on VA micro-purchases and prime subcontracting partnerships

PAST PERFORMANCE

As a newly certified SDVOSB launching operations in July 2026, Vet Jet LLC builds on the principal's career as a Naval Aviator and his proven record in military aviation logistics. That experience required exacting standards for precision transport, strict chain-of-custody, regulatory compliance, and mission success under demanding and dynamic conditions — directly transferable to secure, compliant non-patient medical courier operations supporting the VA healthcare system.
