

SUPPORTING EDUCATION THROUGH ART

Here's a painting that won't be going to the gallery, but it will definitely find a new home this month.

This painting, entitled "Ocean Playground" (30" x 48"), is being donated to the Sacred Heart School of Halifax to be auctioned off in their bursary fundraising event on April 26th. I'm delighted to support worthy causes like this one that provides funds for students to attend this exceptional school.

Each year the school chooses a theme celebrating a specific country or world culture and this year they have fittingly chosen our Nova Scotia home as their theme for this year's dinner.

When I think of Nova Scotia I immediately think of the ocean and when I think of the ocean I always think of dogs playing in the surf.
