IDEAS

ALASKA BASE CAMP PACKAGES

MINIMIZING TRANSFERS • MAXIMIZING EXPERIENCES

When minimizing transfers is your goal, planning your Alaska vacation around a base camp is the answer. The idea is simple. Instead of planning overnights at several different destinations, pick just one as home base. Take day trips from there and return to the same lodging each evening. If you have the time, connect two or more base camps for a longer stay in Alaska. Here are a few ideas to get you started.

BASE CAMP: SEWARD

Tidewater glaciers and marine wildlife star in Seward. Kenai Fjords National Park is your playground, accessible by day cruise, kayaking, and even guided hikes. Seward is also relatively easy to get around without a car, so if you’d prefer to travel by the Alaska Railroad or Park Connection Motorcoach, Seward works perfectly.

BASE CAMP: ANCHORAGE

With real wilds just beyond its doorstep, Anchorage is both a traveler’s hub and a gateway to all that Alaska has to offer. Within little more than an hour’s reach are glaciers, fjords, mountain ranges, sweeping river valleys, and the complete range of Alaskan wildlife.

BASE CAMP: PALMER & MAT-SU

You don’t have to go far to go remote in Alaska. This makes a Palmer and Matanuska Valley trip ideal for travelers who want a backcountry experience on a shorter itinerary. You’ll stay at the beautiful Alaska Glacier Lodge, a road-accessible wilderness retreat with private cabins.

ALASKA CRUISES

INSIDE PASSAGE • GLACIER ROUTE

There's a reason why cruises have become one of the most popular ways to visit Alaska. The splendor of Alaska's fjords, coastal mountains, and tidewater glaciers is best admired from aboard a boat. Combine access to this raw natural beauty with great food, entertainment, eclectic ports of call, and fascinating shore excursions and you've got one remarkable Alaska experience.

GLACIER ROUTE CRUISES

Seven-day Glacier Route Cruises that travel between Vancouver and either Seward or Whittier are highly recommended. Because they travel one way, you can easily add an accompanying land package to visit popular places like Denali National Park and Fairbanks. Cruise highlights include Glacier Bay National Park, Hubbard Glacier or College Fjord in Prince William Sound, and colorful port towns like Skagway, Juneau, and Ketchikan.

INSIDE PASSAGE CRUISES

Inside Passage Cruises typically sail on seven-day itineraries roundtrip from Seattle or Vancouver. These sailings travel mostly through the Inside Passage in Southeast Alaska. They're a nice introduction to Alaska cruising. However, we usually recommend Glacier Route Cruises, not only to see more of Alaska's dramatic fjords and glaciers, but for the chance to explore by land before or after your cruise.

ALASKA BY RAIL

ALASKA RAIL SERVICES

Alaska Tour & Travel offers a complete choice of rail destinations and classes of service.

Alaska Railroad Adventure Class

Adventure Class is the Alaska Railroad's standard service. Travel in a single level car with high ceilings and picture windows. Tour highlights provided by Alaska Railroad guides. Dining and bar service are available on the Denali Star and Coastal Classic rail routes. More limited "grab and go" dining options are available on the Glacier Discovery rail route.

Alaska Railroad Goldstar Dome

Goldstar is the Alaska Railroad's premium, two-level dome service. Upper dome seating features full length curved windows and bar service along with an outdoor platform. The lower level features a full-service dining room. Meals and beverages are included.

The Wilderness Express

The Wilderness Express is the newest private dome rail service in Alaska. Luxurious cars feature an upper level glass dome and reclining leather seats. The lower level has an outdoor vestibule and a dining room serving gourmet Alaskan specialties. The Wilderness Express travels on the Denali Star schedule between Anchorage and Fairbanks.

The McKinley Explorer

The McKinley Explorer is a premium dome service operated by Holland America-Princess. It features upper level dome seating, a lower level restaurant, and outdoor vestibule. It operates a unique schedule between Anchorage, Talkeetna, and Denali.

ALASKA RAIL ROUTES & SCHEDULES

The Alaska Railroad offers three routes spanning over 470 miles with daily scheduled service from mid-May to mid-September to eight different Alaskan communities.

Denali Star Anchorage - Talkeetna - Denali Park - Fairbanks

The Denali Star travels 350 miles on a daily service between Anchorage and Fairbanks with stops in Talkeetna and Denali. Much of the route parallels the border of Denali National Park and the Alaska Range. Service choices of Adventure Class, Goldstar, or Wilderness Express.

Northbound Arrival / Departure Times		Southbound Arrival / Departure Times
Anchorage	8:20 AM	Fairbanks	8:20 AM
Talkeetna	11:05 / 11:20 AM	Denali Park	12:10 / 12:30 PM
Denali Park	3:40 / 4:00 PM	Talkeetna	5:05 / 5:20 PM
Fairbanks	8:00 PM	Anchorage	8:00 PM

Coastal Classic

Anchorage - Seward on the Alaska Railroad

The Coastal Classic travels 114 miles between Anchorage and Seward. Some say it is the most scenic rail trip in Alaska, with coastal vistas, glacial views, and mountain passes. It is a very popular cruise transfer to Seward. Service choices include Adventure Class or Goldstar.

Southbound Departure / Arrival Times		Northbound Departure / Arrival Times
Anchorage	6:45 AM	Seward	6:00 PM
Seward	11:20 AM	Anchorage	10:15 PM

McKinley Explorer

Anchorage - Talkeetna - Denali Park

The McKinley Explorer travels on a unique schedule with a later north bound departure from Anchorage, and an earlier southbound departure from Denali, resulting in an earlier arrival into Anchorage.

Northbound Arrival / Departure Times		Southbound Arrival / Departure Times
Anchorage	9:15 AM	Denali Park	9:15 AM
Talkeetna	12:15 / 12:35 PM	Talkeetna	1:40 / 1:55 PM
Denali Park	4:40 PM	Anchorage	5:00 PM

Glacier Discovery

Anchorage - Whittier - Spencer - Grandview

The Glacier Discovery provides daily service from Anchorage to Whittier, Spencer Glacier, and Grandview Pass before returning along the reverse route. It's a popular cruise transfer to Whittier, but schedule-wise does not work as a cruise transfer from Whittier. The Glacier Discovery only offers Adventure Class.

Departure Time		Arrival Time
Anchorage	9:45 AM	Whittier	12:05 PM
Whittier	6:45 PM	Anchorage	9:00 PM

ALASKA TRAVEL

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is the best time to visit Alaska?

We love Alaska's summers. Because of the long days, many activities, and abundant wildlife, we recommend traveling mid-May to mid-September.

Do I need my passport to travel to Alaska?

Alaska is a U.S. state, so if you are a U.S. citizen you do not need a passport. If you are coming from outside the U.S. or traveling through Canada by cruise you will need a passport.

Can I travel to Alaska on a budget?

Absolutely, especially if you travel during the May and September shoulder season. Many hotels and transportation like Alaska trains offer discounts then. But even during peak season, we can help find you savings.

What are the best places to visit in Alaska?

Some of the best places to visit are Denali National Park, Seward and Kenai Fjords, Talkeetna, Fairbanks, and Wrangell-St. Elias National Park.

How will I get around in Alaska?

The three primary ways to get around are train, motorcoach, or rental car.

What is a self-guided vacation?

On a self-guided vacation, we provide a custom itinerary to follow but you will not be traveling with the same group or guide through the entire trip. You get to decide when you want to start your trip, where to go, and how long to stay.

Can I take an Alaska cruise and an Alaska land tour?

Yes, you can! We can recommend and book an Alaska cruise and create a custom land tour that flows seamlessly before or after.

Where do I start my vacation in Alaska?

Most travelers fly into Anchorage or Fairbanks. If you are sailing north on a cruise ship and want to explore Alaska by land afterwards, we can create an itinerary that starts in Seward or Whittier, the two most popular cruise ports on the northern end of Alaska cruise routes.

HOW TO PLAN YOUR ALASKA VACATION

How to Plan an Alaska Vacation

We're here to help! Below we've listed a few questions that our team of Alaska Travel Experts ask all our guests during the trip planning process. These are also a helpful guide for exploring the many travel planning tools at AlaskaTravel.com.

What's on Your Alaska Bucket List?

Do you dream of traveling into Denali National Park? Always wanted to touch a glacier? Observe bears in their natural habitat? You can use our online Alaska Activity Finder to explore more possibilities, and then we can help you turn your bucket list into a custom vacation.

How Many Days Do You Want to Travel?

The length of your trip will help determine what destinations you travel to. Travel distances in Alaska can be far and connecting some of the most popular destinations takes time. We've created popular five, seven, and ten-day (and more) vacation packages to make it convenient for you to get started. Be sure to check out our online Alaska Trip Finder to search our most popular packages based on length of visit.

How Do You Want to Travel?

Our most popular trips include travel by Alaska trains and the Park Connection Motorcoach. If you seek flexibility and the freedom of open roads, a rental car vacation is a great option as well. Check out our online Transportation Finder for more ideas.

What If You Need to Cancel After Booking?

Our cancellation waiver program allows you to change or cancel your reservation for any reason without a fee or penalty up until 31 days prior to travel. You may also receive a refund for your trip in the event that you must cancel within 30 days due to a medical emergency or death within your traveling party, or a death within your immediate family. The cancellation waiver costs just 3% of covered services and is non-refundable, although guests confirming their trip at least 60 days prior to travel will have 14 days to add or remove the waiver. More details are available at AlaskaTravel.com/cw.
