

Rebuilding After the Fire

The recent Beachie Creek and Lionshead forest fires had a devastating impact on communities in the Santiam Canyon. As you look to rebuild, the Home Builders Association of Marion & Polk Counties (HBA) urges you to choose your contractor carefully.

Scam artists often try to take advantage of homeowners during the rebuilding phase following a disaster. Protect yourself by knowing the warning signs of a scam and hire a reputable builder who can provide referrals.

- Only use a builder licensed with the Oregon Construction Contractors Board (CCB). Make sure to check their license number with the CCB at to verify they have a license and to check if they have any complaints.
- Get more than one bid in writing that includes the scope of work to be done, a rough timeline, materials to be used, costs and a payment schedule.
- Don't automatically accept the lowest bid, especially if it's significantly lower than other bids you've received.
- Be wary of a builder who requires payment in full before work can begin. Reputable builders may require a deposit up front but will bill for progress during construction.
- Most importantly, ask for references. A reputable builder will have local references of past customers they've built for. Call these references to make sure these past customers had a good experience with the builder and that they'd use the builder again.
- Reference the attached list of HBA member licensed builders accepting fire rebuild jobs in the Santiam Canyon. All builders on this list have indicated a willingness to work on fire rebuilds in the canyon.
